Micmac Display

Elitekey: I Fashion Things, a new large exhibition of Micmac Indian crafts from before the first contact with white men until the present, is now on view at Confederation Centre Art Gallery and Museum in Charlottetown.

The exhibit includes a wide range of materials, tools, and techniques used by the Micmacs in the creation, over the centuries, of their distinctive material culture.

Also on display are shell beads made from the shell-fish found along the coasts of the Maritimes, birch-bark utensils, and some excellent moosehair embroidery on birchbark.

Elitekey will remain on view at Confederation Centre Art Gallery and Museum until Sunday, October 25.

Medical Note

Those students who may have a prescription claim from our new Blue Cross Medical plan should save their receipt for payment until their Blue Cross card is available and then take both to the Blue Cross office downtown or to the Student Union office in the Barn where payment will be arranged. Remember all claims prior to September 1 go to the University Health and Accident, those on or after September 1 1981 go to Blue Cross.

Those students who have other coverage in a private plan and who wish a rebate should go to the Student Union office in the Barn... but do so before September 30 as that is the last date on which a rebate can be made.

Meet Rev. Doug

If you can play, sing, or hum in the background and would like to organize and/or participate in coffee shops, chapel services, or other events...

NOW is your chance! Contact our new Prot. Chaplain, Rev. Doug Gass, at the Chaplency Center. He would love to meet you and would welcome your interest.
