GEO. W. GARDINER,

Charlottetown, March 28, 1885—2wcod wly2i

Adam said she'd left no direction where she'd be at Leeds.

"Why, she'd be wi' that woman as was a friend to her aunt Mary," said Mrs. Poyser, comforted a little by this suggestion of her husband's. "I've often heard Dinah talk of her, but I can't remember what name she called her by. But there's Seth Bede; he's like enough to know, for she's a preaching woman as the Methodist's think a deal on."

"I'll send to Seth," said Mr. Poyser. "I'll send Alick to tell him to come, or else to send us word o' the woman's name, an' the can't write a letter ready to send off to Tredde'on as soon as we can make out a direction."

"It's a poor work writing letters when you want folks to come to you i' trouble," said Mrs. Poyser. "Happen it'll be ever so long on the road, an' never reach her at last."

Fenian Riots.

PRINCE OF WALES ATTACKED BY A MOB—LED BY AN IRISH M. P.—MALLOW AND CORK TERRORIZED BY FANELITES—BRAVERY OF THE POLICE.

A scene of great excitement attended the departure of the Prince and Princess of Wales from Dublin on the 13th inst. for the south of Ireland. On the route to Kings Bridge Railway Station their Royal Highness passed Dublin City Hall, where an immense crowd had assembled about the building to witness the departure of the royal visitors. Lord Mayor John O'Connor happened to drive past the City Hall a few minutes before the Royal carriage appeared.
The crowd recognized him and hissed him savagely. O'Connor at this flew into a violent passion, but his display of ire only made his enemies more demonstrative in their derisive greeting. The Lord Mayor, unable to withstand the storm any longer, stepped his carriage and mounting the City Hall steps called for cheers for Parnell. The response was not great, and did not indicate that O'Connor had any great number of sympathizers in the assembly. He then addressed the gathering and told them they would be sorry for having hissed him. He said he could telegraph Mr. Parnell, to Cork and to Mallow, an account of what had occurred in Dublin and they would see what the result would be. Soon after this, the Prince and Princess of Wales were driven past the City Hall on their way to the railway station, and they were greeted with tumultuous and prolonged cheers.

ALBERT EDWARD LIKES THE COUNTRY.

The Prince of Wales, it is stated, has made up his mind to hereafter visit Ireland once every year.

At a meeting of the Dublin Municipal Council, Lord Mayor O'Connor, explaining his refusal to attend the reception to the Prince and Princess of Wales at the Industrial School, admitted he had not been invited. The statement aroused much indignation among the Nationalists in the Council, of which they are a majority.
Notice was at once given by one of the Nationalist Councilmen of a motion to withhold the municipal grant to the school because of this gratuitous insult to the Lord Mayor and President of the Dublin Municipal Council. Notice was also given that a motion will be made to purchase two green flags to replace the civic flag stolen from the Mansion House.

A TERRIBLE RIOT AT MALLOW.

There was a terrible row at Mallow Junction, County Cork, on the afternoon of the 13th inst., on the arrival of the Prince and Princess of Wales from Dublin on their way to visit the Earl of Histowel, at Connamore. A large crowd broke through the police lines and were driven back at the point of the bayonet. Messrs.
O'Brien, Redmond and Harrington, Irish members of Parliament, were in the crowd and were badly mauled. Ever since the riot the Government has monopolized the wires and no further details are obtainable.
The news of the disturbance has caused intense excitement.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK IN CORK.

John O'Connor, M. P. for Tipperary, made an inflammatory speech on the night of the 13th, at a meeting of the Irish National League of Cork. He urged the men of Cork to rebel against the English Government. The result of this oration was a repetition at Cork of the riot at Mallow. Windows and doors of houses which had been decorated in honor of the Prince of Wales, were smashed and crowds of Irishmen roamed through the streets all night cheering O'Connor, O'Brien and Parnell, and singing "God save Ireland."

A RUSH AT THE PRINCE.

Prior to the arrival of the Prince of Wales at Mallow, a crowd kicked and punched a lot of cuckade hats which they raised to symbolize royalty. When the rush was made towards the Prince, it was led by Wm. O'Brien, member of Parliament for Mallow. Some of the rabble were severely injured by the police while repelling this rush. Wm. Redmond, M.
P., for Wexford, was not present as at first reported. The only members of Parliament present were O'Brien, O'Connor and Timothy Harrington.
