meeting of the Board of Governors of the Maritime Home for Girls, was held at the Home last evening. The Rev. G. R.
Thompson, President, was in the make it possible.

More than 900 girls have passed through the Maritime Home for Girls, where in the kindly Christian atmosphere of the Home their lives have been straightened out and they have come to appreciate the refinement of life's better side.

constituency served by the Home.

At a recent meeting of the library committee of the Crapaud branch of the P.E.I. Island Libraries, ways and means to raising funds were discussed. The library has been open and serving the people of Crapaud and the adjacent communities for two years now, but it has not been completed.

Although the Government of P.E.I. gave a generous grant, the money raised by the district has not been sufficient to pay off the indebtedness, and to finish the building. Mrs. Frank MacDonald reported to the committee that a number of surrounding communities had promised to participate in a joint concert such as held three years ago.

Hampden Women's Institute agreed to provide some musical numbers. Tryon promised a short one-act play, and a male chorus, and North Tryon had promised a "band".

The president of Crapaud Women's Institute reported that Crapaud itself would undertake to present a "Pageant Of The Months".

The following persons will be responsible for carrying out the project: Mrs. John Nicholson, Mrs.
Leroy Howatt, Mrs. Frank Harvey, Mrs. Arthur Simmons, Mrs. William Waddell, Mrs. Joseph Trow-dale, Mrs. Ralph Myers, Mrs.
Frank Myers, Mrs. Frank Mac-Donald, Mrs. John Simmons, Mrs.
Brenton C. Wood, Miss Lolita MacVitte, Mrs. George Nicholson, Miss Margaret Howatt, all of Crapaud and Mrs. Keith Boswell, Victoria, and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Tryon. Rev. S. J. Armstrong, of Crapaud, would give his aid to the entertainment.

There arose some discussion as to the most advantageous date for such a concert as to now, or later in the spring; but it was decided to hold it sometime near the end of February. The date will be decided in conjunction with the other communities involved. Mrs. William Waddell was asked to take charge of the matter.

The library committee is as follows: Dr. N. R. Boyer, Mrs.
Tom Best, Mrs. Frank MacDonald, Mrs. Arthur Simmons, Mr. Wm.
Waddell, Mr. Austin Smith and Mr. Brenton C. Wood. — S

Schurmans Given Contract At S'side R.C.A.F. Station

M. F. Schurman Co. Ltd. have received a contract for repainting the sub-structures of nine buildings at R. C. A. F. Station, Summerside.
The amount of the contract has not been learned.

This work will involve the replacing of beams, joists and flooring where necessary. When these buildings were built in 1940 and later they were considered to be only temporary structures and with the passing of time most of them have deteriorated considerably. During the last two years Schurmans have had contracts of this nature for some of the other buildings and this could be considered as a continuation of this work.

Work is to be commenced in the immediate future and will involve the giving of considerable employment to carpenters and labourers. — S

Aircraft Due From Special Flight Today

Two aircraft are due back at R. C. A. F. Station, Summerside, at nine o'clock this evening after spending three weeks visiting various air and naval stations in the United States. This is the annual American trip of the specialist navigation course and this operation is under command of Wing Commander D. A. Willis, D.F.C., officer commanding the Air Navigation School.

During the trip the course will have visited American bases along the east coast and down as far as Florida. The main purpose of the trip is to keep up to date on the latest developments in the field of air navigation.

The flight to Summerside today will be made direct from Wright-Patterson Air Force base at Dayton, Ohio. Next month the course will hop off on a flight to the United Kingdom where air navigation establishments will be visited. — S

C.N.R. Head Warns Against Danger Of Runaway Prices

MONTREAL, Feb. 7 — Donald Gordon, C.M.G., chairman and president, Canadian National Railways, last night emphasized the dangers associated with runaway prices and cautioned that any form of controls must be appropriate to the economic conditions of today and the foreseeable future and can only supplement and not supplant the process of holding civilian demand within the range of available civilian supply.

In an address to the Canadian Retail Federation, Mr. Gordon said he was speaking as a private individual. "Any similarity between the view I express and those voiced by others, official or unofficial, is purely coincidental."

Mr. Gordon declared that it is not enough for Canadians to be passive in their attitude toward the very powerful inflationary forces at work in the country.
"The most reliable weapon available for combating inflation is to increase productivity and total output," he said.

"If prices jump upwards no one will cheer more lustily in private, or scream more noisily in public, than our Communist fifth column, and you can be sure they will work diligently to speed up the whirling spiral of wages and prices if it gets started." Mr. Gordon warned. "If our unit of survey steadily loses its purchasing power, the burden will fall on the weaker and unorganized elements in our society, and on those who have been prudent and thrifty."

Restraint Imperative
"The existing supply of goods made it imperative that there be a deliberate restraint on the part of consumers, wage earners and businessmen. The housewives engaged in bargain-hunting render a service to themselves and to the community by showing sensitivity to prices, for nothing feeds inflation better than a general disposition to buy at any price. It would be equally calamitous if either businessmen or labour leaders set out to exploit to the full the particular advantages which accrue to them during the current crisis of international affairs."

"The success of the widespread controls over prices, wages and physical production and distribution during the last war should be taken as proof that the same results could be achieved in the quiet different environment of today. When one weighs the question of controls of the character which went into force in 1941, it is quite unrealistic to pick and choose or to endorse one phase of the over-all control system and reject another."

Major Baseball Leagues Called To Pick Commissioner

By Claude Wolff
CINCINNATI, Feb. 7 — (AP)— Major League club owners were called today to meet in Miami Beach, Fla., on March 12 to select a commissioner of baseball.

A. B. Chandler, the present commissioner whose contract was not renewed last Dec. 12, issued the call at the request of Will Harridge and Ford Frick, presidents of the American and National Leagues, respectively.

Chandler's seven-year term, for which he is being paid $85,000 annually, does not expire until April 30, 1952.

He still plans to be a candidate to succeed himself, despite the setback last December.

He has campaigned steadily for the 12 votes needed for retention, and claims to have 11 lined up.

His opponents, among them Fred Saigh of St. Louis Cards, and Del Web of New York Yankees, have vigorously fought his every move.

Should the club owners decide at the March meeting to name another man to the job it was considered there would be two courses open. Either Chandler could resign voluntarily or the club owners could buy up his contract for the remainder of his term.

Whether Chandler would agree to the latter course without a fight was not known.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, has been mentioned as among the men most likely to succeed Chandler.

Frick also has been named, too, but he said he did not want the job.

Walter Mulhry, secretary of baseball, announced the call for Chandler.
