MR. AND MRS. LABEEB DAVID A. RASHED

Colorful Ceremony Joins Ch'town Couple In Wedlock

In a colorful Byzantine ceremony seldom witnessed here the marriage of Jean Edith Zaken and Labeeb David A. Rashed, both of Charlottetown, took place Monday, March 25, at St. Dunstan's Basilica when Rev. George Coriaty B.S., of Montreal, performed the ceremony in the Eastern Catholic Rite.

The lovely young bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Zaken, wore a full length white tulle wedding gown with rounded neckline and long sleeves. The fitted bodice featured appliques of pearls and sequins while the skirt had a bow at back and slight train.

Her headpiece, of pearlized edilly of the valley, held a shoulder length veil of tulle illusion and carried a cascade of pearls and white roses entwined with lily of the valley and ivy. Her only piece of jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She was given in marriage by her father.

The matron of honor was her sister Yvonne, Mrs. James Haddad, Montreal, who wore a street length romance blue dress of crepe de chine over tulle featuring a fitted bodice and full skirt. The two bridesmaids, Mrs. Joseph Zaken and Mrs. Frank Zaken, both of Charlottetown, wore matching dresses in tulle blue identical to that worn by the matron of honor. Flower girl for her aunt was Miss Nancy Jean Haddad, Montreal. The bridesmaids wore matching pill-box hats with short veiling and both carried crescent bouquets of blue-shaded carnations.

Joseph Jabour, Charlottetown, supported the groom. The ushers were Sald Haddad, Abraham Zaken, George Rashad, Souhal Rashad and George Dow, all of this city.

For the reception held at the Charlottetown the bride and groom received the guests wearing a navy blue sheath of crepe de chine, a white hat, navy trimmings, and white and navy accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

The bride, for a honeymoon in Europe and the Middle East, chose a gold, away sheath dress of blue blue with matching three-quarter length coat trimmed with black fur. Her corsage was of white roses shaded blue.

Soloist during the ceremony was Frank MacIntyre who sang Ave Maria, Wedding Feast of Cana, Panis Angelicus and Oh Lord, I Am Not Worthy. The accompanist on the organ was Mrs. Joseph Dougan. Louise Rashad and Najeh Haddad responded to the priest during the ceremony with solemn chants.

Large candles on either side of the altar with yellow and white snapdragons on the altar. The pews were decorated with daisies and white statice.

While the honeymoon trip of the young couple will take them across Europe and include a visit to Rome for Holy Week, their ultimate destination will be the birthplace of the groom. There they will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Rashed, of Elkriver, Lebanon.

On their return to Charlottetown the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haddad, Donna Haddad, Joseph Zaken, Georgina and Lillian Zaken and Mrs. Albert Haddad, all of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Victor Kays and Josephine Kays, of Stephenville, Nfld.; Mr. Salam Zaken, Hauterive, Quebec; William Frank, Wolfville, N.S.; Fayz and Hazel Mansour, Pictou, N.S.; and Mary and Helen Abraham, Collingwood, N.S.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Happy Bon Voyage Given Geese Winging High Over

And now the wild geese came, winging high over the white cup of valley. We stopped in the yard to greet and offer them a happy "Bon voyage" as they passed. Was there ever a spring-time bird-voice brighter, or brighter than those which, drifting down from a moving dark rump of them, bears to Island folk a promise that Spring's verdure and blossoms will be long before ours? High above the fields, and on into the blue horizon these few

James set down the pall of feed he was carrying to an outpost of sty to which this flight. He smiled.

"I reckon that's it, Ellen," he said. "Now we can say the spring is here."

"Did you see them - the wild geese?" Mack called from the barnyard. "The first flock of the year!"

"They'll bring the fandelions," we chuckled.

"Yes, but his taxes sobered 'em, the end of the hockey and rink." And the blue of the morning-sky, closed over us, still like we see the distance, beyond the hilltop of road, away low visiting cars of the day or night, we have enjoyed.

Presently, the thought came to mind, as we came indoors and to the care of our housewife, we brave new days would be ours. Gone would be the seasons of colds, and those who had brought parties and deaths, that had taken sad tolls, and left heartaches and loneliness in many an Island home, and we should find the balm and the healing of the sunnier days.

"Munday the washday!" our fire's crackle indicated.

"Come and see if these are your stailings!" Alex allied at the door. Perched on the chimney was a plump, the pair wings on which the original piggery of this place, and having presided and there was an attendance of 18 members and roll call was answered with a donation of jams and pickles for the hospital annex.

The project for footstools had been completed with the purchase of six during the past month. A discussion based on a report brought in by the president, Mrs. Aid and the treasurer, Mrs. Ian Durrah, was held on other articles required by the hospital, which included new blankets, plastic mattress covers, and furniture for the lobby. The Kensington group accepted the project of supplying furniture for the lobby and opened the WI groups of the area will take on the blanket project.

The treasurer reported that she had purchased four copies of "The Word and the Way." These books deal with the Bible story for this year.

A letter was read from Mrs. Margaret Jones requesting that the group send two pairs of pillow cases to Quebec. A letter from Mrs. Jack Macleod in reference to the allocation was read.
