Returning to the shore later, Dishington learned the Leczek boy had suffered neck, foot and hand injuries when he was apparently hit by the boat as it pulled away earlier.

Annual Easter Monday Play Was Huge Success Last Night

For the fifth consecutive year an unqualified success was scored on behalf of the St. Charles Auxiliary of the Charlottetown Hospital by director Frank MacIntyre and his splendid cast of players on stage at the Community Centre last night in the rollicking three act comedy "Abigail Goes Haywire".

Presented under distinguished patronage, the performance was attended by His Honour Lieut. Governor F. Walter Hyndman and Mrs. Hyndman, accompanied by Military A.D.C. Major R.D. Mac Gillivray, C. D., and Mrs. Mac Gillivray.

The title role "Abigail" as played by Jean Zakem demonstrated her right to the high place this clever young girl holds in the hearts of Charlottetown audiences. Vivacious and bright support was given throughout by two other top ranking performers, Olga Dowling as Leslie Jordan and Louise McCarron as Hannah Matthews.

Wilmer Blanchard, whose past performances have made him a general favorite of local audiences, marked up another success as he played the role of Don St. John while Foster Burke left nothing to be desired in his interpretation of Reuben Steuben.

The play centres around three career girls who pool their resources but get into a jam when the mortgagee people made a squeeze play. A mistaken identity situation added to the comedy but the confusion was eventually cleared up and amicably concluded with a happy marriage.

Outstanding specialties which consistently add to the enjoyment of the annual Easter Monday entertainment were very much in evidence. Eileen Grant sang the ever popular "Easter Parade" and as an encore favoured with "The Lass with the Delicate Air," both in a most pleasing manner. Lorraine and Marlene Weatherbie added Rita Callaghan to their clever tap dance act to make it a trio. Rita is a daughter of J. Pius Callaghan, C.D.A., which speaks well for her future success before the footlights.

Heather and Tommy Burke did an amusing and entertaining duet dance "Peter Cottontail" in pink rabbit costume and Eugene Donahue sang two numbers "Tammy" and "With my Shillelagh under my arm." Teresa Doyle who continues to be tops as a solo tap dancer was in splendid form for both her numbers.

Bethany and Peggy McIntyre ganged up with their father, Frank MacIntyre to make an excellent vocal trio in "Grandfather's Clock" and "Oh Dear What can the matter be?" Well merited popularity once again brought spontaneous applause for the Down Easters when they played a medley of old time music for a finale. The boys are Garry Chipman, Colin MacMillan and Alen Connolly.

The accompanists were Al Blanchard, George Weatherbie, Mrs. Gordon MacMillan and Leona Weatherbie. Wilfred Driscoll was Master of Ceremonies during the specialties and expressed the thanks of St. Charles Auxiliary to all those who in any way contributed to the success of the entertainment.

U. S. Stategists Worried Indonesia May Go To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States Far East strategists are worried that Indonesia, where a civil war is in progress, will swing into the Communist camp.

"Whether it will do that or not, I do not know," the U.S. Pacific commander, Admiral Felix Stump, said in censored testimony released Saturday.

If that does happen, Stump told a March 20 closed session of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee, "it will be a terrific loss to the free world." He added: "I hope that the elements that are anti-Communist will get together but I have no assurance that will happen. The thing is worrying us a great deal at the moment."

Stump described the Indonesian situation as "pretty much of a draw" at the moment.

Cuban Rebel Leader Eludes Army Forces

By LARRY ALLEN
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Rebel leader Fidel Castro apparently still is roving free. The Cuban army claimed Saturday it had him isolated in the mountains of eastern Oriente province.

There was only silence in the army general staff headquarters here Sunday. Cubans generally assumed that Castro had again eluded any government trap.

In an oddly worded communique Saturday night the army said Castro and a main force of rebels had been cut off somewhere in the Sierra Maestra, the mountains used by the rebels as the hub of their guerilla war against President Fulgencio Batista.

But rebel sources said the army's claim was nothing, that Castro has been isolated in the Sierra Maestra since the start of his war 15 months ago. Most Havana newspapers treated the army's announcement with cold reserve, publishing it under a single column headline.
