Expect Up To $200 Million In Oak Island Money Pit

Partner In Search Looks For Hoard Of Ancient Incas

TARZWELL, Ont. (CP) — Vically for the vault. Harman, 40-year-old motel owner, says he and his brother may find $200,000,000 in buried treasure hidden in the fabulous "money pit" of Oak Island, N.S., by mid-July. Mr. Harman said that he will leave his business in this village, 75 miles southeast of Timmins, and join his 41-year-old brother William on the island next week for what he believes is the final phase of a two-month search. The business man, who spent years drilling for gold in various parts of Canada, said he has dreamed of solving the 163-year-old mystery of the money pit since he read of it in a magazine 10 years ago. Mr. Harman said that he and his brother are two members of a three-man private company that may expand to a public company if they have difficulty in locating the legendary gold and jewels sought by other treasure hunters for more than 100 years.

Hungarians Demonstrate In Ottawa And New York

OTTAWA (CP) — Hungarian demonstrators splattered the Soviet Embassy with blood-red ink Sunday night. They were protesting the executions of former prime minister Imre Nagy and four others, all connected with the 1956 Hungarian uprising. Three bottles flew from the centre of the parade of some 320 Hungarian refugees as they slowly passed the sombre grey embassy building singing the Hungarian national anthem. One bottle left a large red blotch on the front steps, a second hit the grey-stone wall beside the main entrance, the third splattered against the wall of the top third storey. Blinds of the embassy all were drawn. LED BY MONK The demonstrators, led by a Roman Catholic Franciscan monk, otherwise were orderly. Some 175 were on foot, walking abreast. The rest were in 42 cars, one black limousine in front and the rest, carrying mainly women and children, behind the marchers. One of the many placards the marchers carried read: "What Nagy and Malater died for will live." NEW YORK (AP) — Some 350 screaming Hungarian refugees trampled several policemen Sunday while smashing windows of the Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations. Nine demonstrators were arrested after seven policemen, including a deputy chief inspector, were injured. Three demonstrators were arrested Saturday after a less violent outbreak at the Soviet building. The demonstrators, including OBTAINED RIGHTS The Harman brothers obtained the rights to drill on Oak Island from the owner, Mel Chappell of Sydney, N.S., last fall, and can remain on the island indefinitely. Hiring a $10,000 diesel diamond drill, they set to work May 1, and since then have reached down 212 feet, 18 feet of which is bedrock. Mr. Harman thinks the treasure, thought to have been cached in a stone vault, is at the 148 or 150-foot level. The operation that begins next week and will carry on for 10 hours a day, is to probe diagonally for the vault. He discounts theories that the treasure is the loot of pirate captains Kidd or Bluebeard. Nor does he believe that he will find the missing crown jewels of France. INCA GOLD? "There's no doubt in my mind that the Incas of South America buried on Oak Island what they could salvage of their gold and valuables after the raids of the Spanish in the 1600s," he said. Mr. Harman said his crew has found traces of man-made planks, coco-fibre and ship's caulking that could have been used to construct the tidal water trap that has filled in previous excavations at the pit. Two technicians are helping the Harman expedition. Brother William, who worked with the Ontario Northland Railway, quit his job to spend all his time on the island. They made their first attempt at getting the rights to drill two years ago, but they were then held by Texas oilman George Green, who gave up and went home after drilling 181 feet. COLLECTED DATA For the last three years the brothers have collected newspaper clippings, charts, books and anything that held a mention of the money pit to prepare themselves for the hunt. The secret of the small island, 50 miles south of Halifax, has baffled the world since 1795, when two boys found a crude block and tackle on a tree and traces of a pit in the ground.

See Lebanon Army Chief Big Factor In Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (Reuters)—The shadowy figure of Lebanon's army chief emerged as a deciding factor Sunday in the civil war now entering its sixth week. Gen. Fuad Chehab, army chief of staff, so far has resisted all pressure for a full-scale offensive against the rebels. Some quarters claim an offensive could end the revolt in 24 hours. The Christian general also has resisted pressure to replace President Camille Chamoun as a compromise leader until presidential elections next month. There has been no mention of Chehab in print here for nearly a week with the exception of a brief statement saying "the general remains the symbol of Lebanese unity." The main point of the statement was to deny rumors he had resigned. The independent Algerian government probably will take part in the "Consultative Assembly for North Africa" which was announced after a four-day meeting here among Algerian rebels and representatives of the Tunisian and Moroccan governments. A Tunisian government spokesman said the conference was "a step toward the formation of a United Arab Maghreb (the projected federation of Tunisia, Morocco and an independent Algeria)." Should the rebels push France from the remainder of its North African holdings and the "Maghreb" concept be realized, the new state would bring together 22,000,000 people in an area of more than 1,000,000 square miles.

Golfer Struck By Lightning, Is Recovering

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — A golfer was struck by lightning Sunday and is expected to recover. Harlow C. Skillins, 55, of Portland, was reported in satisfactory condition. "Anyone struck by a bolt like that who lives is a very lucky fellow," an attending doctor said. Skillins was struck during a five-minute thunder shower which passed over Portland.

Hammaraskjold Seeking Solution With Nasser

CAIRO (Reuters)—Dag Hammaraskjold opened talks with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic Sunday night on crucial Middle East problems. The United Nations secretary-general conferred with Foreign Minister Fawzy for 75 minutes before his talk with Nasser. Fawzy and presidential assistant Aly Sabry were present at the Nasser talks. Nasser is the key man behind many of the issues confronting the United Nations secretary-general during his current Middle East peace mission. Hammaraskjold also will confer with Lt. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, commander of the UN emergency force policing the Gaza Strip. The secretary-general was scheduled to return today to Beirut, capital of strife-torn Lebanon. Since leaving New York last Wednesday Hammaraskjold had a series of talks with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Lebanese President Camille Chamoun and Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. He has remained tightlipped about the meetings. A visit to Jerusalem failed to settle the nagging dispute between Jordan and Israel over Mount Scopus.

Report Algerian Government In Exile Is Planned Soon

TUNIS, Tunisia (Reuters)—An Algerian rebel government in exile soon will be proclaimed, a spokesman for the main Moslem insurgent group said here Saturday. The independent Algerian government probably will take part in the "Consultative Assembly for North Africa" which was announced after a four-day meeting here among Algerian rebels and representatives of the Tunisian and Moroccan governments. A Tunisian government spokesman said the conference was "a step toward the formation of a United Arab Maghreb (the projected federation of Tunisia, Morocco and an independent Algeria)." Should the rebels push France from the remainder of its North African holdings and the "Maghreb" concept be realized, the new state would bring together 22,000,000 people in an area of more than 1,000,000 square miles.

INTEGRATION SUSPENDED

Little Rock Gets Respite Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Seven Negro students still enrolled at the end of the last school year would be barred from the 2,000-pupil high school this September. In New York, spokesmen for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said an appeal will be filed promptly. Governor Orval Faubus, whose state national guardsmen last September turned away Negroes seeking to enrol in Central, commented: "The Negro citizens of the community would do well to accept today's ruling, which will do much to re-establish the normal and friendly relations which prevailed here before. This is not a final settlement of this problem, but it can prove a peaceful interlude." The school board last Feb. 28 asked federal district court to suspend integration until mid-term 1961 on grounds that incidents and tensions resulting from the presence of the Negro students had adversely affected the educational process. Lemley said the granting of the board's petition did not constitute a yielding to unlawful force or violence, but was simply an exercise of discretion and good judgment so as to allow a breathing spell in Little Rock and preserve educational standards. His decision was another chapter in the Little Rock crisis that began last September when, on the eve of the first year of integration, Faubus surrounded the school with national guardsmen.

Family Members Re-united In Ch'town After 46 Years

Returning to the Province after a forty-six year absence, Mr. George Murphy, 72, of Calgary, Alberta, met with his brother William, 69, of 14 Spring Street, and his sisters at a family reunion held last night at William's home. Joining in the happy occasion were Mae, Mrs. Wilbert Cahill and Mrs. Annie Hughes of Springfield, and Mrs. Nell Sullivan of Houston, Texas. Mrs. Sullivan and George have not seen one another since 1906, the year of Mrs. Sullivan's marriage. After learning the tailoring trade here, George left the province in 1912, a year after William, and joined him in Calgary, where he continued with tailoring, retiring only a few years ago. In the meantime William had gone to Montana, where, later, he was drafted in the American Army. Following discharge he returned to this province, and for the past nineteen years has operated a grocery store. Mrs. Sullivan and George arrived home to attend, with other members of the family, the ordination of their nephew, Rev. Clifford Murphy, the son of Mrs. Murphy and the late Leaming Murphy. Mr. Murphy returns this morning by plane to his home in Calgary.

Six Cape Breton Mines Idle Today

SYDNEY (CP) — Six Cape Breton coal mines will be idle today as the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation begins a staggered series of summer shutdowns aimed at eliminating surplus. About 9,000 miners working in eight Cape Breton collieries will receive no pay cheques for five weeks of the closed-mine period ending in late September. Two weeks of suspended production, from Aug. 4-18, are annual paid vacation periods for Fosco miners. The company has been unable to find markets for a large part of 1,400,000 tons of coal piled high in Cape Breton. There will be two shutdowns of the Mainland Cumberland Railway and Coal Company's No. 2 mine at Springhill, N.S., besides the holiday period. There will be no production during the weeks beginning Aug. 18 and Sept. 8. The work schedule at Acadia Coal Company holdings in Pictou County will be reduced to four days a week from five. Both are Fosco subsidiaries. The mines that close today will shut down again the weeks starting July 14, Aug. 4, 11 and 18, Sept. 18 and 22. Another Cape Breton mine closes June 30, and another will lie idle the weeks of June 30, July 14, Aug. 4, 11, and 18, Sept. 1 and 15. A two-day meeting of the United Mine Worker's (Ind.) district 26 executive begins Friday.

Plan Probe Of Deepest Hole

TOKYO (Reuters) — French deep-sea explorers during the weekend completed preparatory dives for their descent into the world's deepest known ocean hole. The hole, known as the "Japan Deep," is estimated to have a maximum depth of 33,300 feet—more than six miles. It is about 600 miles long and 62 miles wide, lying to the east of the Japanese mainland. A group of Japanese scientists will join the French seamen aboard the Bathyscaphe for the dive into ocean depths never previously explored. The Japanese hope the deep will prove suitable for dumping radioactive waste material. They say it could be used as a dumping ground provided the waters there remain perfectly still.

Crowds Throng Opening Of New Park Royal Church

REV. G. HOWARD Christie, interim chairman of the new congregation of Park Royal had the honour of laying the cornerstone of the church which was dedicated "To the Glory of God" Sunday June 22, 1958. Participating clergy, Rev. J. M. Sheen (left) chairman of the Prince Edward Island Presbytery and Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, general secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance Department of the Church observed the stone laying. Later Rev. Mr. Christie received the silver engraved trowel from architect Keith Pickard memento of the occasion. Park Royal United Church was filled to capacity for three services of worship yesterday and a large number of people joined in the opening ceremonies by means of a public address system installed outside the building. In addition, a large number of people gathered at 10 a. m. for the corner stone laying which preceded the actual dedication of the church. Not only was it a historic moment in the life of the community of Parkdale, Central Royalty and East Royalty; it was a historic occasion in the life of the United Church in Prince Edward Island. This is the first new pastoral charge to be formed in the Province since the United Church came into being in Canada in 1925. The corner stone was laid by Rev. J. M. Sheen, chairman of the Prince Edward Island Presbytery, Rev. H. E. D. It is significant to note that it was during Dr. Ashford's ministry at Trinity that a new congregation in this area was first talked of. At the afternoon service dedication of the memorial gifts to the church was a feature of the worship which was conducted by Rev. W. S. Godfrey, D.D., secretary of Home Missions for the Maritimes. Last evening the sermon and greeting were brought by Rev. A. Strasser said he would approve such a merger. He added his German Social Union party will wait until the election of a national assembly for a reunited Germany before putting up any candidates.

Found Guilty In Murder Case

BARRINGTON, N.S. (CP)—Aubrey Eugene Blades, 17, was convicted here Saturday of the March murder of a New Minas, N.S. salesman. The jury deliberated 50 minutes. Chief Justice J. L. Halsey of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court did not pass sentence on Blades, one of two Shelburne, N.S. youths charged in the slaying of Wilfred Crouse, 25. The second youth, Robert Boudreau, 16, goes on trial today. Blades' sentence is expected to be passed at the end of the second trial.

Chinese Stage Artillery Duel

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops on a tiny Matsu island fought a 10½-hour artillery duel with Red Chinese forces on the mainland Sunday. It was the heaviest battle in months. The artillery barrage opened up at 1 a. m. after Nationalist warships attacked and sank two Communist patrol boats off the Matsus, the Nationalists said.
