

Gems of Thought.

The basis of good manners is self-reliance.

The most difficult thing in life is to know yourself.

Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week.

Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

Modest humility is beauty's crown, for the beautiful is a hidden thing and shrinks from its own power.

Not nations, nor armies, have advanced the race, but here and there, in the course of ages, an individual has stood up and cast his shadow over the world.

Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for dishonesty and duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.

Self-distrust is the cause of most of our failures. In the assurance of strength there is strength, and they are the weakest, however strong, who have no faith in themselves or their powers.

Whatever you attempt, do it with strength. Determination is omnipotent. If the prospect is somewhat darkened, put the fire of resolution to your soul, and kindle a flame that nothing but death can extinguish.

Whatever you wish your child to be, be it yourself. If you wish your child to be happy, sober, truthful, affectionate, honest, and godly, be yourself all these. If you wish it to be lazy and sulky, a liar and a thief, a drunkard and a swearer, be yourself all these.

Do not be afraid of diminishing your own happiness by promoting that of others. He who labors wholly for the benefit of others, and, as it were, forgets himself, is far happier than the man who makes himself the sole object of all his affections and exertions.

Venerate four characters: the sanguine, who has checked volatility and the rage for pleasure; the choleric, who has subdued passion and pride; the phlegmatic, emerged from indolence; and the melancholic, who has dismissed avarice, suspicion, and asperity.

If we create imaginary wants, why do we not create imaginary satisfactions? It was the happier frenzy of the two to be like the mad Athenian, who thought all the ships that came into the harbor to be his own, than be still tormenting ourselves with insatiable desires.

Honor your engagements. If you promise to meet a man, or do a certain thing at a certain moment, be ready at the appointed time. If you go out on business, attend promptly to the matter in hand, and then as promptly go about our own business. Do not stop to tell stories in business hours. If you have a place of business, be found there when wanted.

The people who are always anxious to bestow confidence in their neighbors are unmitigated nuisances. There are some things one does not care to know, and it is a great annoyance to have a gossiping neighbor insist upon making you the depository of such unpalatable secrets, and then, perhaps, going on with a series of questions intended to worm out of you an opinion which you are not disposed to give. It is equally annoying to have a person of this sort intimate that there is something which he might tell you that would greatly surprise and grieve you, but which he will for the present withhold out of regard for your feelings. It is also an annoyance and an impertinence to be questioned as to your views of a certain matter, it may be, in the presence of the very people before whom you would be most unwilling to state your opinion.

AGE.—Old! Well, it does take one's breath away; must we all grow old? It seems so. Time will not stand still, and wrinkles and gray hairs mark his way.

Yes, physically we must grow old; but mentally and emotionally need we become so? I doubt it. A great deal of splendid work is done by people who have arrived at the age when the faculties are supposed to fail, and I think we all feel that we may hope to work all our lives.

If we take good care of ourselves we may be worth as much until the end as we ever have been; and with this comforting thought comes another; the sweetness, the tenderness of youth need not depart with its beauty. We are not compelled to grow hard and cold, to take stern views of life, and refuse to believe in anything beautiful, because this is the role set down for middle-aged and elderly people.

Those who keep their sweetness, who holding fast the tenderness of their souls, and have ardent friendships, are young still, whatever the years that have passed over their heads.

CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS.

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plaster.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well known the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medicinal agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canadas.
