LATEST NEWS FROM EUROPE.

THE English Mail with dates to the 23rd ult., was received here on Friday morning. It arrived at Halifax in the Asia on the 3rd inst. The news of most interest and importance will be found in the following extracts.

The prospects of the harvest were absorbing the public mind. The most reliable authorities on agricultural topics concur in the opinion that the harvest accounts from English counties are the reverse of encouraging. In Ireland matters look better. The hay crop has been remarkably heavy and well saved, and the potatoes are good and abundant.

As the pressure of distress increases, through the stoppage of more mills, the working classes from the country villages and towns flock to Manchester and the larger centres of industry in great numbers, to ask alms in the streets, and beg from door to door.

One firm, in the country, lately employing 2,000 people, now give them three days wages per week, though not employing them. To prevent their hands going about begging in other towns they have issued an order that their work-people shall muster at the mills every day, at a certain hour, and be kept there a short time to clean the machinery.

We again have to report that the state of employment in Manchester, from the returns, is more unfavorable than it was a week ago. Last week there were 11,593 persons out of work, this week there are 11,883. The number working short time is 13,980, last week it was 14,454. However, instead of there being only 21,928 persons employed on full time, as was the case last week, there are 22,121.

Notwithstanding the severe crisis in the cotton trade, and the difficulty of obtaining cotton to keep one-half of the cotton manu factories in full work, the cotton-spinners of Messrs. Hopwood & Son, Nova Scotia Mill, Blackburn, struck work. As a reason for this proceeding they allege that the raw material which they were spinning was of such inferior quality that it was not worth their while to manipulate it at the rate of remuneration given them. We earnestly hope the dispute will be at once amicably settled and the operatives resume their work.

Lord Brougham has been addressing the people of Scarborough on behalf of the local Mechanics' Institute. He could not of course, quietly pass over the prevailing distress in the cotton-manufacturing districts, and neglect the illustration which the patient endurance of the sufferers presents of the value of education. His Lordship compared the conduct of the sufferers of to-day with that of distressed operatives thirty or forty years ago. The contrast was most gratifying, and he could only account for the improvement by attributing it to the increased diffusion of information amongst the people.

If there be any truth in the parties by whom Italy has been revolutionized, the King and the King-maker are likely to come to blows. Garibaldi swears that he will have Rome from the Pope and the Emperor of the French or perish in the attempt; and he summons the young republicans of Italy to his standard. Victor Emmanuel proclaims this to be rebellion. The fillibuster answers that Piedmontese ministers are traitors,—that the King is with him, and that when he has made Rome capital of United Italy, Victor Emmanuel and his Cabinet will thank him for the gift as they did for Naples, though, to save appearances, they denounced his Neapolitan expedition. By the latest accounts the plot is thickening in Sicily, and a few days, perhaps hours, will determine whether Garibaldi and the Re Galantuomo are to be friends or foes. The King has declared Sicily in a state of siege, and the "General" has deposed the Royal Prefect of Catania, and appointed a Prefect of his own in his stead.

The 15th of August has passed; but though Napoleon was dumb, the Press that pretends or professes to be semi-official has been wonderfully loquacious. M. de la Guerrionere having stated in the advertisement to his new paper, La France, that the French army would not be recalled from Rome, where it protects the independence of the Pope against the rapacity of Piedmont and the assaults of the republicans, and this declaration having acquired importance from the notoriety of the fact that upon a memorable occasion the Emperor employed the editor of La France to enunciate his opinions upon Italian affairs, —the Constitutionnel and the Patrie, who do, it is said, sometimes receive inspiration from the Ministry of the Interior, have been laboring energetically to strip M. Guerroniere of the credit which he enjoys as an expounder of Imperial ideas. Day after day they come out with paragraphs professing to be authorized, in which something said in La France is contradicted.

The telegraphic news from Rome states that M. de Lavalette had, in an interview with the Holy Father, promised, in the name of the Emperor, that "France would never permit any invasion of the actual Papal territory, but would guarantee its integrity at any price."

The Federal steamer Tuscarora returned to Kingstown on Friday, from Ramsey, Isle of Man. Her departure from the last mentioned place was marked by an interesting event. An excursion steamer sailed from Douglas heavily freighted with people to catch a parting glimpse of the Federal ship, and small boats crowded round her. Cheers rent the air, and "myriads" of rockets and blue lights were let off in her honor. The crew of the Tuscarora returned the farewell of the islanders by three hearty cheers, and thus they left. It is stated that the object of this last cruise of the Tuscarora was to "fall in" with a collier, and thus obtain that supply of coal which is refused in port. Subsequently the Tuscarora visited Belfast, and on Thursday anchored at Queenstown.

Prince Alfred arrived in the Russian capital on the 9th inst. His Royal Highness is travelling incognito. He left Cronstadt in a small steamer, and on reaching Peterhoff, travelled to St. Petersburg by railway. His R. Highness has visited the Emperor, and taken a carriage excursion with the Empress and her eldest daughter. The Prince wore the simple jacket of a midshipman. He was about to start for a day's visit to Moscow, after which he would rejoin his ship.

The unfavorable state of the weather prejudices stocks and shares, through the apprehensions excited as to the effect upon the crops. Consols closed on Saturday at 93¾ to ⅞ dull, and shares were in most cases lower.

Renewed disturbances in Syria are apprehended.

Canton advices of July 11th have been received. The Taepings still remained quiet.

The Empress of Austria, perfectly cured, returned to Schonbrunn on the 15th of this month.

The Viceroy of Egypt is suffering so severely from an internal complaint that his condition excites anxiety.

It is expected that a considerable reinforcement of troops for the north of China will shortly be despatched from India.

It is again stated in the north-west papers that the infamous Nana Sahib, of Bithoor, is alive, and resides in or near Bhootan, and that his family are now on their way to Bhootan from Benares.

The Prince of Wales intends to give £2000 towards the proposed memorial of the late Prince Consort.

At the half-yearly meeting of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company, on Wednesday, it was resolved to appropriate £5000 to the relief of the distressed cotton-manufacturing operatives. The money will be given in sums of £500 each month.

A Dublin journal publishes the remarkable statement that Federal agents are covertly and successfully recruiting in Ireland for the United States army.

The decided refusal of Bavaria and Wurtemburg to adopt the treaty negotiated by Prussia, on behalf of the Zollverein, with France, has naturally caused much surprise.

The Queen of Spain has announced her intention of having a grand International Exhibition at Madrid, and architects have been invited to send in plans for the building.

There has been another outbreak between certain tribes in the North of New Zealand.

The conflict itself had not, at the date of the last advices, assumed alarming proportions.

From all quarters in France come satisfactory accounts of the harvest. This year's yield will be above the average, and the Government will not have to expend any of its substance upon foreign corn.

The Prince of Montenegro is reported to be desirous of peace, and Turkey is inclined to comply with his wishes without imposing extreme demands.

It is positively stated that Russia, following the example set by England, intends to preserve neutral relations with the belligerents in the United States.

The Paris correspondent of the Post believes that at last Cabinet Council at St. Cloud all his Majesty's advisers agreed that France could not retire from Rome before a Garibaldian threat, and that despatches were sent to the Eternal City reminding the Pope that a time must be fixed for terminating the French occupation of his States.

FRANCE AND ITALY.

The Emperor is said to have instructed Beneditto to inform the Italian Government that he shall be under the necessity of sending an additional 20,000 men to guard the pontifical frontier, unless the Garibaldian movement be promptly suppressed.

The Morning Post in a leader says that Ratazzi and his colleagues are endeavoring wilfully to mislead the public opinion of Europe as to the actual state of affairs in Sicily. They have endeavored to disguise the very serious character which the present crisis is assuming throughout the whole peninsula.

TURIN, August 22.

The Discussione asserts that General Cialdini has been appointed civil and military chief of Sicily, with all the powers necessary for maintaining the state of siege. It is believed that Admiral Persano will assume the command of the fleet.

The official Gazette of to-day publishes the following report addressed by the ministers to the King:—"General Garibaldi has raised the standard of rebellion. Your Majesty's name and that of Italy serve only to veil the intention of European demagogy. The cries of Rome or death are senseless insults to our glorious ally, and retard the only possible accomplishment of our unanimous wishes. As General Garibaldi remains deaf to your voice and unmoved by the thought of lighting up civil war, energetic action has become necessary. The rebellion of Garibaldi imposes on us the necessity of treating the country occupied by volunteers as a country occupied or threatened by an enemy. We therefore advise your Majesty to proclaim a state of siege. The ministry accepts the responsibility of the measure.

The Discussione of to-day says—"Some Italian cruisers have captured in Catania waters a foreign vessel laden with arms. The royal troops have assembled in considerable force near Catania."

THE LATE SIR ALLAN McNAB.

The excitement occasioned in Canada by the alleged conversion of Sir Allan McNab appears to be increasing rather than diminishing. Bishop Farrell has published a letter in the Hamilton Times, in which he combats the statements made by Mr. Geddes, an Episcopal clergyman. In course of the letter Bishop Farrel charges some of the Canadian papers with attempting to excite the public mind with reference to the question at issue. He says that several months ago Sir Allan stated to him, in the presence of his Vicar General, his intention of dying a Catholic, and that on the Sunday before his death he (the Bishop) called at the castle for the purpose of visiting Mrs. McNab, and it was then he first learned that Sir Allan was indisposed. Upon a subsequent visit the Bishop says that Sir Allan desired to see him, and he entered the sick chamber and had an interview with him, and as to what transpired we have only the authority of the Bishop, who, in his letter, says:—

"I visited him, and seeing that he suffered much, addressed him a few words of consolation, exhorting him, simply, to pray during his sufferings. After a very short visit, when I was rising to take leave of him, he seized my arm, and said he had not forgotten what he had said to me some time ago. I understood his allusion to be to the conversation in the castle garden, and told him that he should lose no time, but do at once what his conscience dictated to him."

Upon the Thursday of the same week the Bishop made another visit, and says he was told by Mr. Andrew Stuart that Sir Allan wished to see him, and complied with the request. Concerning this interview the Bishop remarks as follows:—

"It had been suggested to me before I reached the castle, that as soon as it would be known that he became a Catholic, many persons would say that he was mad; wherefore, lest there should be any doubt as to his state of mind, and that I might have a reliable witness, I asked Mr. Stuart, in presence of his sister, whether Sir Allan had full possession of his reason? Mr. Stuart's answer was in the affirmative. I went immediately up to his room, and found him fully conscious. He recognized me, and said he wished finally to become a member of my church. After a short conversation with him on the doctrines of the church, he made his confession in the usual manner of Catholics. He then, in the presence of Mr. Stuart and his sister, Mrs. McNab, in a strong clear voice, made his full profession of the Roman Catholic faith, according to the formula used when Protestants become Catholics; whereupon I received him formally into the Roman Catholic Church."

On Friday the Bishop was with Sir Allan again, and with reference to this visit he says:—

"When I entered his apartment he recognized me, prayed with me, and spoke to me, and requested me to remain with him. I gave him the benediction usual in such cases. By this time I perceived that he was becoming unconscious, for which reason, anxious as I was to administer the holy communion, I considered that he was too delirious to receive that most holy of the sacraments of the church. I left him between six and seven o'clock, a. m., to say mass for him in the church. At noon I learned, to my great astonishment, that the Rev. Mr. Geddes had been with him for some time, reading and praying. I deemed it my duty to proceed at once to the castle, where I was informed that the Rev. Mr. Geddes had taken forcible possession of the room, notwithstanding the resistance of those in charge of the sick man. I was likewise told by Mrs. D. McNab and Mrs. Boulton, in the presence of Doctor Hamilton, who appeared to be of the same opinion, that Sir Allan was quite unconscious at the time. It was enough to justify me, that in his senses he joined the Catholic Church, and that since that he had not abandoned it."

And this is how the matter rests at the present time, so far as the Bishop and Mr. Geddes are concerned, and as we gave the strong points of the statements of the last named gentleman in a previous number, out of a spirit of fair play and impartiality we publish Bishop Farrell's defence, and allow the public to judge for themselves.—Nova Scotian.

THE CROPS.—Relative to the crops in the Northern parts of New Brunswick, the Mirimichi Gleaner remarks as follows:

"The Hay crop, which, in the early part of the season had every appearance of being short, owing to the dryness of the weather, has at last been gathered, and is a good average crop. Wheat and Oats look remarkably well, and there is every prospect that the yield will be large. So far there has been no appearance of disease in the Potatoes, and if the weather continues favorable, there will be an abundant crop. Turnips and other roots look equally good, and bid fair to be all that could be desired."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Holloway's Ointment and Pills—Useful knowledge.—The successful treatment of the great mass of disease is not so great a mystery as many may suppose. Purify the blood, cleanse the liver and stomach, and the absorbent system will immediately right itself. Holloway's remedies effect this object most satisfactorily and completely. Both medicaments may be beneficially used by the most inexperienced, under whose care the very worst of cases will progress favourably and terminate happily by using Holloway's celebrated remedies according to the instructions wrapped round each pot and box. These renowned remedies cure all disorders of the kidneys and bowels, and will be found superior to all other means for mitigating the sufferings of those unfortunately afflicted by incurable maladies.

"If we suffer, we shall also reign with him."

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE AND THE BRITISH REVIEWS.

L. SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:—

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative).
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory).

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news-items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

EARLY COPIES.

The receipt of Advance Sheets from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.
