Shareholders Want Report Given In Laymen's Language

By REFORD MacDOUGALL

MONTREAL (CP) — More than 3,500 shareholders have told the Dominion Tar and Chemical Company what they think of its annual and interim reports.

"Why not spell out your profit position in laymen's 'language?" wrote one of the shareholders. Others asked for forecasts on what the company's stock is likely to do in the month ahead.

The comments came in response to a questionnaire sent out with the spring report to the 40,000 Domtar shareholders across Canada.

Some of the replies were anticipated by the company; others came as a surprise.

The two main questions were:

Do you prefer the annual report illustrated or in figures only?

Does the annual report give you all the information you need?

ASK FOR ADVICE

Some shareholders wanted to know what the company could not tell them. Will Domtar stock rise or is this a good time to sell?

To this question the company replied:

"Forecasts are made by your management as an aid to budgeting and control and are revised from time to time during the year in the light of new facts or changed circumstances.

"Although useful for such purposes, they are more in the nature of reasonable expectations than precise figures and they could be misleading. Most companies hesitate to publish forecast earnings because so many factor in our economy are beyond the control of managements."

Other shareholders were worried about the cost of producing annual reports and typical comment was:

"Information to shareholders should be kept separate from publicity and advertising. I feel strongly that expensive annual reports are a waste of shareholders' money and cause poor shareholder - company relations."

WANT PICTURES

Nevertheless, 3,040 shareholders said they found pictures and material in the Domtar annual report "informative."

Other comments:

The company also received replies from its French - Canadian shareholders. Said one:

"Allow me to congratulate you on the wisdom of publishing your reports in French and English . . . I hope your policy will open the eyes of other companies to do justice to one third of Canada's population."

Quebec Educationist Sees High Schools 'Too Narrow'

QUEBEC (CP) — A Quebec educationist said today high school education is too narrow, and has too many closed doors which "have been barred too long."

"They must be opened and left opened for all youngsters up to the age of 18 at least," said David Munroe, director of McGill University's Institute of Education.

High school students must be offered a study program "which will satisfy the needs, the interests, the capacity of all young people, boys or girls, normal or above average, rural or urban residents," he told the Canadian Association of School Superintendents and inspectors at the opening of the annual meeting.

A member of Quebec's royal commission on education, his speech was delivered in both French and English. Text was made available in advance.

Mr. Munroe said attention has been focussed on students "who chose to submit to the narrow limits of our curriculum" or our teaching "methods" rather than on the large numbers of dropouts who needed different type of education.

It is possible, he said, that before too long normal employment in the labor force will not start until age 18.

"Indeed, in many areas this situation has already developed. This means of course that we must provide education of some new type, not for 40 per cent or 50 per cent of our youth as at present but for everyone up to the age of 18."

"It was "perfectly clear" that the great majority of these youths must be given a general education with some training and experience in technical or occupational skills.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

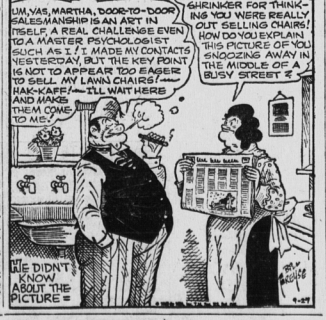
OUR BOARDING HOUSE MAJOR HOOPLE



CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1♠	Dble.	Pass	1♠
Pass	?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands

1. ♠AJ7 ♥KJ53 ♦A82 ♣Q64
2. ♠K73 ♥AK5 ♦KJ4 ♣AJ32
3. ♠KJ82 ♥AKJ74 ♦5 ♣AJ9
4. ♠KQ943 ♥QJ2 ♦K8 ♣A72
5. ♠AQ85 ♥AK74 ♦J6 ♣A53

1. Pass. A takeout double announces the values for an opening bid. It may be based on as little as 12 points in high cards or as many as 20 points in high cards. It may have good distributional values or it may have no distributional values. In other words, the double is a flexible bid that shows indeterminate values.

Once you've doubled, the duty arises at the next opportunity to indicate whether the double was based on minimum, maximum or intermediate values. In the present case it is clear that the double was of the minimum class, and the best way to show this is by passing partner's response of one spade. There can scarcely be a game under the circumstances, since, if partner had a very good hand, he would have bid two spades instead of one.

2. One notrump. This may seem like a terrible understatement with a 19-point hand, but it is the winning bid in the long run. It is important to remember that partner's spade response does not guarantee any strength watever and that he probably has a poor hand. He is unlikely to have as many as 7 points, considering that East opened the bidding, that we have 19 points, and that there are only 40 points in the deck. If North is unable to bid over one notrump, the outlook for game is poor.

3. Four spades. Granted that North doesn'thave much of a hand, he is still not likely to lose more than three tricks. There is a limit to how far to carry pessimism. A jump raise to three spades might bring a pass from North with a hand that offered a good pay for game.

4. Two spades. The single raise merely indicates extra values, distributional or otherwise, beyond a minimum double. It invites partner to bid again with a promising hand, bearing in mind that the two spade bid shows limited values.

5. Three spades. This is about all that can be done, despite the trump fit and 18 high-card points. We can't jump to four with a hand containing so many losers, since partner may have a practically worthless hand. Even nine tricks cannot be guaranteed, but the mild risk of going down at three is more than offset by the possibility of successfully reaching game.

DIFFICULT FOR U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, said Thursday racial problems in the United States create daily difficulties for American diplomats abroad. "There is no other single subject, month in and month out, that so consistently occupies the cares and curiosities of other people about the United States," Murrow said in a speech before the national convention of the Federal Bar Association.
