Friends of Mrs. Theresa Trainor will regret to learn she has again entered the Charlottetown Hospital for treatment. She was parish housekeeper here for many years before retiring last summer.

Friends regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. J. J. Perry at her home here. She had been ill for some time with a severe cold.

Quite a few children are reported suffering from measles at present, and the severe cold and cough which are going with them.

Friends and patients here are sorry to learn of the illness of Dr. T. L. Farmer, who is reported a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital.

Messrs. Gordon Batt and Robert Chisholm of the service department, R. T. Holman Ltd., Charlottetown, were here on business on Thursday, Jan. 3rd.

Several carpenters from this vicinity, who were employed in the City with a large construction company, have been laid off. Bad weather makes outside work in that line pretty slow.

It is understood that Mr. Harry McEwen, caretaker at Lot 40, Fort C. N. R. station for a number of years, has resigned the position but as yet no new man has taken over the job.

Strange but true: A lady from this vicinity was in the City one day last week and part of her business was buying eggs. There were none to be had here in the country where there are hundreds and hundreds of hens.

Friends are sorry to learn that Mrs. Adolph Perry had the misfortune to fall on the icy road on New Year's Day breaking her arm in several places. She was taken to the Charlottetown Hospital where she is still a patient.

Rabbits which were once so plentiful in this vicinity are very scarce now. One young man informs us in all his efforts this season he has snared one lone hare. Years ago they were carried from the woods daily in loads.

This vicinity lost one of its most respected residents recently in the death of Mr. Peter McDougall, aged fifty-eight. A veteran of World War One, he retired from the farm some years ago and purchased a lovely home in this vicinity and lived quietly. His fine family is scattered in dif-
