

LAYING WREATHS AT S'SIDE CENOTAPH

Remembrance Day Ceremonies Are Observed At Summerside

In a memorable Remembrance Day address at the cenotaph in Summerside yesterday afternoon, Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., in referring to the present unsettled and dangerous trouble spots in the Middle East said that the bright light of liberty which Hungarian patriots held up before a cheering world for a few days has been almost extinguished by Communist guns and bombs. The successors to the brave Canadians being honored on Armistice Day will soon be leaving again to maintain liberty in the Middle East, so close to the place where almost two thousands years ago, angels came down to announce "Peace on Earth, goodwill to men."

"In the historic storehouse of this great country," he said, "we can find much to applaud and honor but nothing shines brighter than the stars of love and sacrifice which our brave sons, whom we honor today, emblazoned on the road to liberty. "Death stamped on them the great seal of heroic character and closed a record which the years can never blot."

The Remembrance Day ceremonies were carried out in a most impressive manner and were witnessed by a large number of the citizens of the town.

LARGE TURNOUT
The parade, under command of Regimental Sgt. Major Emmett Trainor, moved off from the Legion Home with one of the largest turnouts of veterans ever seen in Summerside. The men from R.C.A.F. Station were under command of F.L.D.L. Quinn.

Preceded by the band of the Sea Cadets, the parade marched to Memorial Square where the ceremonies were carried out under the supervision of the president of the Summerside branch of the Canadian Legion, Lorne Monkley, who in his brief opening remarks said, "We are here today to pay tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice and with the hope that their sacrifice may not have been in vain."

The time honored ceremonies were faithfully carried out, ending with the laying of the wreath by the representative mother, Mrs. Gabe Gallant, followed by the representatives of the various bodies, the Provincial Government, the Federal Government, the I.O.D.E. and many others.

While veterans placed their individual poppies at the cenotaph, the names of the fallen were read out by President Monkley. Following the parade marching down Summer Street, where, at the corner of Summer and Fitz Roy Streets, the salute was taken by Charles Hogan, president of the Provincial Command.

Following the ceremonies in Summerside, the veterans went to attend those at Travellers Rest, St. Eleanor and Miscouche.

AT OTHER POINTS
The ceremonies at Miscouche were held in St. John the Baptist Church where the Legion members were extended a welcome by the parish priest, Rev. J.D. Kelly.

Guest speaker for the occasion was S.L. Murray Shanks who directed his remarks in particular to the children. He spoke very impressively on the meaning of Remembrance Day and what its observance means to those who returned as well as to the memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

SUM-HI NOTES
This Saturday night a football dance sponsored by the student Council will be held in the auditorium with Lowell Huestis Orchestra.

On Thursday morning the assembly program opened with O Canada, which was played by the Sea Cadet Band under the direction of Mr. Chaisson. The program theme was Remembrance Day. The Sea Cadet band also accompanied the Glee Club in two hymns.

Arthur Morrison, president of the Students Council, presented Mr. Charles Hogan who is Provincial President of the legion Association with a sum of money for the school wreath to be placed at the Cenotaph on Armistice Day. Mr. Hogan spoke to the audience on how the poppies come to be a symbol of our war dead. He also explained how the poppies are made by war veterans. The money from the poppies is used by the Legion to help families in this district.

Major Francis MacNeil, a chemistry teacher in the school and chairman of the program explained the meaning of the Last Post and Reveille. He introduced Hazel Mellish a Sea Cadet who sounded the two pieces on the bugle. A two-minute silence, then followed in which the students remained silent and thought of the men who have given their lives for our. Charles Hickey a Grade 12 student read the immortal "In Flanders Fields" by John MacRae. The assembly closed with the playing of the Queen by the Sea Cadet Band.

There will be a football game between the sum-Hi and Queen Square teams here at the Queen Elizabeth Park on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. The sum-Hi team which has won the western championship should be encouraged by your attendance at this game.

On Thursday afternoon at the Capital Bowling Alleys the first bowling of the school teams took place. Although the attendance was small, it is hoped that next Thursday more school students interested in bowling will show up. Any one interested in bowling can get in a team by going to the bowling alleys next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Charged in Toronto
TORONTO — Provincial Police have laid a charge of false pretenses against one of two men who bought up thousands of bags of potatoes from district farmers, who now claim about $20,000 owed them is unpaid.

About 20 farmers are involved. Several estimated that 25,000 bags of potatoes were turned over to the two men. The man charged is Lloyd McCue, 23, of Prince Edward Island.

Farmers said he and a partner set up a "field office" in a trailer for the purchase of this year's crop of potatoes.

Police said they are concerned only with several thousand dollars in bad checks. The remainder of the money outstanding was covered by IOU notes and verbal agreements, police said. One farmer said he understood much of the potatoes were sold for cash to the St. Lawrence market.

Annual Legion Banquet Held At S'side On Saturday Night

On Saturday evening at the Canadian Legion Home in Summerside, veterans of two world wars and of the Korean conflict gathered together once again for their annual banquet and to pay tribute to those who went over and did not return.

The guest speaker, Rev. Cecil R. Webber delivered an inspiring address on the meaning of Remembrance Day and of the great sense of comradeship of the Legion.

"It is not enough," he said, "for us to sit down to a banquet or to march to a cenotaph on Remembrance Day. It is not a moment of passing sentimentality, those who made the supreme sacrifice depend on us "that we go on" we must see that the things you and they fought for are preserved."

Mr. Webber, in referring to the great turmoil in which the world finds itself today said "we never know when the testing time may come or how near we could be to losing all the things we hold so dear."

Toastmaster at the banquet was president Lorne Monkley who thanked all those who had assisted in preparing the banquet arrangements, in particular the members of the Ladies Auxiliary and a special thanks to Comrade Joe Clark for his splendid work in decorating the hall.

Briefly he reviewed the great work of the Legion, its donations to worthy causes, youth work, Red Cross blood donors, and all this, he said, "is the work of the Canadian Legion, this is the Canadian Legion at work."

The following is the order of toasts proposed and responded to: The Queen, Victor Sanderson; The Canadian Legion, Charles Hogan. The armed forces, Brigadier K. Peake, D.S.O., E.D.; The Ladies Auxiliary, Dr. J.C. Simpson, responded to by Mrs. Marjorie Wylie.
