INFORMATION REGARDING THE SCOTT ACT.

SIR.—Mr. A. G. Bremner, in a recent letter to THE EXAMINER furnished some facts concerning the work of the Scott Act in this city. "Could you believe" he says "that during last year I counted no less than thirty-six men between the hours of five and eight o'clock so drunk that they could scarcely keep on the sidewalk.
Besides these I saw four boys during the same period in the same condition."

The editor of the Woman's Kingdom in the Toronto Mail visited Charlottetown and this is her description of what she saw:
"The Scott Act is in full force on the Island yet the result of it seems to fill the streets with intoxicated men. We saw a number on market day and the day after no less than four stumbled across our path.

So much for Charlottetown. How does it work elsewhere. Here is a Moncton despatch to the St. John Telegraph here:
"Moncton, April 18.—Saturday was one of the busiest days in the history of the police court. In fact Marshal Foster pronounced it the busiest day since he has been connected with the police force in his present capacity, which means the last seven or eight years. Moncton is a Scott Act town, and just now the temperance people are boasting that the Act is being better enforced than ever before, but, notwithstanding these facts, when sitting Magistrate Grant took his place at 9 o'clock Saturday morning he was confronted by no less than five persons who had imbibed too freely on Good Friday. The limited capacity of the lockup was probably a reason for more drunks not being locked up on Good Friday, as drunkenness, it is admitted by the police, was never so noticeable on this day for many years past."

At a largely attended temperance meeting held in Yarmouth recently Rev. T. J.
Deinhardt is reported by the Times to have spoken as follows: "During last Tuesday there was more drunkenness than had been seen in Yarmouth for forty years. It was enough to make every citizen blush and hang his head in shame. This in Yarmouth that had no license for fifty years: Yarmouth with its temperance record."

The Act is such a panacea for the cure of drunkenness, how is it that it has been repealed in Ontario after a fair trial, even prohibitionists admitting that it was a failure.

FRENCH ACADIAN TEACHERS MEET.

The teachers and friends of the Acadian schools under the presidency of Inspector J. O. Arseneault, met in convention at Bloomfield on Thursday and Friday of last week. The spacious parochial hall was tastefully decorated with greenings and mosses. A more beautiful spot than Bloomfield at this season of the year could not be found anywhere. Sing farmhouses dot the clear and fertile fields, skirted with luxuriant meadows everywhere, while the Mill River meanders in peace and beauty away towards the East to mingle its waters with the Cascoquec Bay where the steeple of the Alberton Church glints in the distance, making a picture of reposeful comfort and charm.

At 10.30 o'clock, sharp, Mr. Inspector tapped his gavel upon the President's table and the Fifth Acadian Teacher's Convention was called to order.
The President having ordered the roll call and invited the enrollment of new members, the minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Gallant and adopted. Then the President made, with his usual grace and appositeness, the usual annual address which was greeted with much applause. This over, the esteemed pastor of St. Anthony's, Rev. F. X.
Gallant, stepped forward and read an exceedingly literary greeting. The charm of the rev. gentleman's diction, the graceful gestures, the scholastic matter employed won at once the admiration of all.
Mr. Andre Deiron speaking for the teachers made the reply in fitting terms.
Shortly speeches were then given by Revs Dr. Chaisson, A. E. Burke, P. P. Arsenault and J. P. McGrath.
Besides the teachers a full house listened to the paper and discussions, the former of which were well up to the standard and the latter animated and practical.
Indeed a more intelligent and well looking body of male and female teachers could not be gathered together anywhere.

While it would be invidious to make distinctions, we feel that Mr. J. O. Arsenault, Indian Inspector, deserves special commendation for his learned and withal entertaining discourse on French grammar, a difficult subject. Mr. Phileas Leclair, for a young man, did his profession honor in his well prepared and nicely read papers. But as we said all the papers at the different sessions were good and the singing was also splendid especially the God Save the Queen at the close. It is pleasing to be able to congratulate the Acadian teachers whose numbers are increasing rapidly upon their splendid convention, and to bespeak for their sixth convention the same measure of success which marked the Bloomfield one.

MR. ARTHUR PETERS.
SIR,—I notice that both the Patriot and Guardian have drawn attention to the fact that a Conservative candidate at the present election is one of the signers for the repeal of the Scott Act in Charlottetown. Both of these papers have omitted to inform their readers that Mr. Arthur Peters, a Liberal candidate, is also one of the petitioners. Would the Guardian, who claims to be independent, please make the necessary correction.

POLITICAL MEETING AT CLIFTON.

The meeting called by the Liberals in their stronghold of the First District of Queen's was well attended by a highly attentive audience.

The meeting was first addressed by Mr.
Sinclair, the intended Minister of Agriculture, who made a speech more remarkable for what it did not contain than for what it did, full of what he would not do if elected—but not a word about what he had not done in the past, in fulfilling his many promises.
He was followed by Mr. Beaton, who is an entire stranger in this section, but who made an excellent speech in denouncing the Peters Government. He also spoke manfully on the temperance question and it elected would assist in putting down the liquor curse. He resumed his seat amidst great applause.

Mr. Warburton followed and began by denouncing Mr. Beaton in an ungentlemanly manner for leaving the Liberal ranks and running the election against him. It however only raised Mr. Beaton in the minds of the electors of New London. Mr.
Warburton's other remarks were only a vain attempt to defend Mr. Fred Peters in whose train he is a follower. The Liberals were so disgusted with the poor impression their candidates made that they would not applaud them. Mr. Mc-Leod followed and in a most excellent speech showed the electors the alarming condition our country was in and the fraud and deception which Peters had practised on the people as he showed up each scandal, in such a manner as a demon-traitor in Euclid that they persued because they proved. He was most rapturously applauded. He also expressed the opinions of his colleague Mr. Beaton on the temperance question, and spoke out so manfully for the cause of temperance that on resuming his seat he was followed by rounds of unceasing applause.

Mr. Geo. Simpson showed himself to be a Liberal of the worst type. His views on the Land Tax and the low rate he was allowed to value his land when the question was asked him raised intense laughter.
Dr. McNeill followed with a fine speech in which he showed the tactics characteristic of the Liberals in this Island and in the other provinces, and that whenever a Liberal Government was in power the debt of the Province always went up. He spoke of the manner in which they had been treated by their member, Mr. Davies, at Ottawa, who had paid no attention to the petition for a railway sent to him at the beginning of the recent session, and of the manner in which the Dominion officials had been deprived of their votes and given them back. The Doctor was most attentively listened to throughout, and at the finish was most warmly applauded.

Mr. J. C. Clarke made the closing speech for the Liberals, but some of the most preminent Liberals became so disgusted at the doings of their party and the failure of candidates that they got up and left the hall followed by the greater part of the audience.

The chances of the Conservatives are magnificent, there being few Liberals to a Conservative who will not visit the polls at all. The Liberals are disgusted with their leaders and freely admit that the Conservatives will win both this district and the Government.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Toronto Empire: "Laurier's offer of preferential trade with England received its death blow when he was informed that England did not intend to denounce the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium. The next move will be to rescind the offer made last session. Laurier, in speaking to this point at Liverpool, said if England could not advance, Canada must recede. In London he said if those treaties were not to be denounced, the whole subject would have to be reconsidered by Canada." But when is this to be done?
Are we to go on in the childish blunder for a year? Is there any way of correcting it before the next session of parliament.

mines, is largely owned by two sons of JUBILEE STAMPS.

As is now well known, the Postal Authorities will not sell to the public the 1c 6c and 8c stamps of the Jubilee refuses to buy the higher values from $1 to $5 which are absolutely useless for postal service many people are without the 1, 6 or 8. Any one wanting any of these rarest of the Jubilee issue, can have them at following prices.—

6 cent Brown, 2 00 8 cent Lilac, 1 00
