

Bold Action Seen Required To Boost Lakes

WASHINGTON (CP) — Teno Roncolio, U.S. co-chairman of the International Joint Commission, said here Great Lakes water levels are lower in 1964 than in 100 years and a bold long-term approach must be made to divert rivers and streams to feed the lakes and prevent damage that could reach into the millions of dollars.

"We need men of vision to consider radical new plans if we are to overcome this adverse cycle of nature," Roncolio said in an interview as the commission wound up a Friday semi-annual meeting where the Great Lakes situation was studied in detail.

Arnold Heeney, Canadian chairman, agreed that the situation is "very bad." He said the commission's approach is being sent immediately to the two central governments.

Both sides declined to disclose details of the report, it is understood the commission will inform the governments what it is likely they will do next and what the commission will do what it can to overcome the hardship that may occur.

Mining Men Meet Today In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Some of the world's top mining men will be among the record 2,500 delegates expected at the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy 1964 annual meeting, which opens here today.

Officials say the meeting, which ends Wednesday, will be a largest mining conference in Canada's history.

Mining executives from Europe, South Africa, Australia and the United States will be hand to discuss mutual problems and accompanying representatives of all phases of the minerals industry in Canada.

Theme of the institute's 66th annual meeting is "The Canadian Arctic," and a highlight of today's inaugural session is a symposium on the north at which speakers include such authorities as Dr. R. F. Leggett of the National Research Council and Dr. Trevor Lloyd, chairman of the geography department at McGill University.

A total of 33 technical sessions will be held, usually five at a time, covering every aspect of the minerals industry.

Speakers include William Benfield, federal mines minister; Arthur L. Brown, president of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers; and W. J. Baker, retired vice-president of International Nickel Company Limited, and W. J. Baker, president of the institute and managing director of Johnson's Alabaster Co. in Ottawa.

At its conclusion Wednesday, President R. D. Parker will take over direction of the 1964 member institute for 1964-65 from Mr. Johnson.

SC Leader Proposes Coalition

OTTAWA (CP) — Social Credit Leader Thompson said Saturday a national government, formed of the best elements from all five party groups, is the only solution to the critical problems facing the federal administration.

He said in an interview such a step may also be taken to help to save the country from complete political chaos.

Thompson said a five-party coalition, replacing the minority Liberal administration, would be made up of men convinced of "the absolute necessity" to end "labels and old formulas" and would rally the nation as it had never been rallied before.

SASKATON (CP) — T. C. Douglas, national New Democratic Party leader, Saturday proposed a Social Credit proposal for the formation of a national government in Ottawa.

Mr. Douglas was speaking during an interview, which his views were set out in a proposal by Robert Thompson, Social Credit leader, who said earlier Saturday a national government should be formed from the best talent available. He said it was the only solution to the critical problems now facing the federal government.

He said: "I don't think there is any crisis facing the country, although there are some very real social and economic problems."

He said he didn't think a five-party coalition was necessary to better solution of the problems except in a time of war or some other national emergency.
