

Dr. A. W. CHASE

DISCOVERED NERVOUS
A NEW TREATMENT DISEASES
FOR

In his study of diseases of the nerves, Dr. A. W. Chase found that in nearly every case the cause of trouble was improper nourishment. About one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless this blood is rich and pure the nerves cannot obtain proper nourishment, and become worn out and exhausted.

Nervous depression, nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, loss of sleep and vital force, lack of energy, are symptoms of weak, watery blood and exhausted nerves.

It was as a food for blood and nerves that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food was prepared. Its remarkable success in curing all diseases arising from thin blood and impoverished nerves is proof that Dr. Chase's theory of feeding the nerves and blood is the proper one; stimulants only urge on the tired and worn out nervous system until there comes a complete collapse.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates new brain and nerve cells, and makes the blood pure and rich. It restores to the exhausted nerves the vigor of perfect health. 50c. a large box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FOR THE WOMEN

Where There is Waste.

A few hints in that note book in regard to careless wastefulness are well worth considering.

The tea-canister is left open.
Towels are used for holders.
Brooms and mops are not hung up.
Scraps of meat are thrown away.

Cold potatoes are left to sour and spoil.

Dried fruits are not looked after and become wormy.

Vinegar and sauce are left standing in tin.

Apples are left to decay for want of "sorting over."

Victuals are left exposed, to be eaten by the mice.

Soap is left to dissolve and waste in the water.

Dish-towels are used for dish cloths. Tin dishes are not properly cleaned and dried.

Good new brooms are used in scrubbing kitchen floors.

Silver spoons are used in scraping kettles.

Cream is left to mold and spoil.

Mustard is left to spoil in the cruet, etc.

Hams become tainted or filled with vermin for want of care.

Cheese molds and is eaten by mice and vermin.

Tea and coffee-pots are injured on the stove.

Woodware is left unscalded, and left to warp and crack.

Pickles become spoiled by the leaking out or evaporation of vinegar.

Pork spoils for want of salt, and beef because the brine wants scalding.

More coal is burned than is necessary by not arranging dampers when not using the fire.

Sugar, tea, coffee and rice are carelessly spilled in the handling.

Waste in the kitchen is often very great from apparently trivial sources.

In cooking meats the water is thrown out without removing the grease, or the grease from the dripping-pan is thrown away.

Bones of meat and carcasses of turkey are thrown away when they could be used in making soups.

And so on and on indefinitely: and it is important that the eye of the mistress be ever vigilant, no matter how competent the "help" may be considered or how thorough the housekeeper.

Home is Woman's Creation.

"In order that a woman may be successful and happy in her home life, she must inevitably regard her work as worthy the highest education and enthusiasm," writes Katharine Reich, in the Ladies Home Journal, of "The College-Bred Woman in Her Home." "Let her know before she enters upon it that it must for years occupy the greater part of her thoughts and time—there will be seasons when it must occupy her whole time—and be content that this is so because of the value of the result to be attained. The home where peace and order reign, and sweet influences of industry and education, of courtesy and religion prevail, is not made by chance. The woman's thought, and study and ability have entered into it and determined its character. Where the servants are industrious and quiet, where the children are healthy, gentle and obedient, where the conversation shows intellectual life and generous thought, and the spirit of the home in its activities and pleasures is love, and joy, and peace—the praise is due, first to the woman, who as wife, and mother, and mistress, and house-keeper, and home-maker, has made it her study and pleasure to rule her kingdom diligently, with intelligence and love. The home is her creation, springing from her own ideal of what is good and fair, and speaks to mankind as truly as if thought had expressed itself in writing. It is a work of the highest art. If a woman thus regarded work at home she would settle her mind to it without that restlessness and discontent she will always feel if in her heart of hearts she regards history, or art, or higher mathematics as being more worthy her attention."

Summer Aids to Feminine Beauty.

Cucumber peelings, boiled in water, will be found good for the skin. A slice of cucumber may be rubbed on the face, instead of soap. Lemon juice will remove sunburn. Dill-water is as good for the complexion as rose-water, though it makes the skin paler.

Elderflower-water is famous for its cooling properties, as is also lavender-water.

Never go out in blustery weather without a veil unless you wish a tanned skin or freckles.

Do not forget, when drying the face after washing, to rub upward toward the nose. This will prevent wrinkles, and will help to smooth out to a great extent the crease alongside the nose.

Use neither hot nor cold water exclusively for bathing. A good rule to follow is a hot bath at night and a cold one in the morning, but be sure to take a bath daily if you wish to keep your skin in good condition.

Do not wear tight shoes if you desire a graceful carriage; no woman can walk comfortably or well in shoes that are too small for her feet. Do not wear too small gloves.

Avoid tight lacing and any form of dressing which compresses any organ of the body.—Mrs. Humphry.

Doctors now agree that consumption is curable.

Three things, if taken together, will cure nearly every case in the first stages; the majority of cases more advanced; and a few of those far advanced.

The first is, fresh air; the second, proper food; the third, Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil with hypophosphites.

To be cured, you must not lose in weight, and, if thin, you must gain. Nothing equals Scott's Emulsion to keep you in good flesh.
