

British Trade Is On The Move

By CAROL KENNEDY
LONDON (CP) — Britain's trade with Canada has taken a distinct turn for the better, says Peter Allen, a leading industrialist and chairman of Britain's committee for exports to Canada.

During the last nine months, exports to Canada rose by nearly £30,000,000 ($300,000,000) compared to the similar 1964-65 period, Allen estimated in a luncheon address to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Britain.

While Britain has a chronic deficit in Canadian trade—with imports sharply higher than exports—the fact that this imbalance may be equivalent to one-half of three-quarters of Brit-

Opening lead—king of hearts. Many hands start with declarer having no idea how he will eventually come out. On most of these, the defenders, seeing dummy's cards, are actually in a better position to predict the outcome than declarer, since they can often tell whether the critical suits are divided favorably, or whether declarer's finesses will succeed.

This hand was played in the Vanderbilt team of four championship in 1961. Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson were North-South against Edw. Kantar and Marshall Miles, respectively East-West.

Robinson won the heart lead with the ace; East discarding

Senator Fulbright Voices Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator J. W. Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) said here that both literally and figuratively, Saigon has become an American brothel.

Fulbright continued his criticism of U.S. foreign policy in the face of a broadside from former senator Barry Goldwater, who argued Fulbright should resign as Senate foreign relations chairman for "his carping criticism" of American policy.

Goldwater hit at Fulbright's expressed concern that the United States is showing signs of the "arrogance of power" that led to the ruin of Napoleon, France and Nazi Germany.

But Fulbright said in a lecture prepared for a university audience "I do not think for a moment that America, with its deeply rooted democratic tradition, is likely to embark upon a campaign to dominate the world in the manner of Hitler or Napoleon."

Fulbright said what he does fear is the United States "may be drifting into commitments which, though generous and benevolent in intent, are so universal as to exceed even America's great capacities."

Fulbright noted the political turbulence in Saigon last month when some American jeeps were burned and there were other anti-American signs during political demonstrations.

He said most Americans were "understandably shocked and angered to encounter such hostility from people who by now would be under the rule of the Viet Cong but for the sacrifice of American lives and money."

But the reason for it, Fulbright said, is that "fatal impact" of the rich and the strong on the poor and the weak.

The Vietnamese resented "the disruptive effect of our strong culture upon their fragile one."

He referred also to reports of U.S. difficulties in Southeast Asia "is not a deficiency of power but an excess of the wrong kind of power, which results in a feeling of impotence when it fails to achieve its desired ends."

"We are still acting like Roy Scouts dragging reluctant old ladies across streets they do not want to cross," he said. "We are trying to remake Vietnamese society, a task which certainly cannot be accomplished by force and which probably cannot be accomplished by any means available to outsiders."

Fulbright said "the countries which have had most of the tutelage in democracy by United States means are not particularly democratic."

He pointed to Haiti, the Dominican Republic, and Cuba. "Maybe, in the light of this extraordinary record of accomplishment, it is time for us to reconsider our teaching methods."

Ontario Nurses OK Minimum

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario nurses have approved a suggested minimum standards of employment for registered nurses after lengthy argument about whether the standards should be guidelines or an inflexible base for which members must fight.

The standards were presented by the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario to the membership on the second day of their three-day annual meeting.

Delegates voted to accept the standards as guidelines only. The standards recommend a 35-hour work week, an annual vacation of 20 days and five annual increments of five per cent of basic salary, regardless of general salary increases.

VALUES EXPERIENCE
The standards suggested that a nurse who moves to a new job be given one year's increment for every two years' experience in previous jobs. The delegates altered this section and recommended increments for every year of useful experience.

The recommended minimal salary scale for hospital nursing service ranges from $5,100 for a staff nurse in her first year, to $13,908 for an assistant director of nursing service with six years' experience and a master's degree.

Collective bargaining is scheduled to be discussed in a closed session this morning. Incoming sessions Thursday, the nurses approved a $600,154 annual budget, $87,164 more than the association expects to take in.

It was the second deficit budget in a row. Its assets are slightly more than $1,000,000, with $699,321 of this listed as surplus.

—Modification of Canadian anti-dumping restrictions to make it easier to sell British goods in Canada at lower prices. —The "most helpful attitude" of Canadian High Commissioners Lionel Cheyner and other officials at federal and provincial level.

—The display centres in Toronto and Montreal run by the British Canadian Trade Association, an idea which Allen said was inspired by Canada's former commercial minister in London, Bert Butler, who had had success with similar ventures at Canadian government headquarters here.

—A genuine change of atmosphere in this country about trade with Canada.

On this point Allen said his own committee and the British National Export Council could claim some credit by their publications, "by preaching, exhorting and persuading." He cited as examples the increasing number of sales-boosting missions now going both ways across the Atlantic.

Allen noted three big British trade efforts in Canada in 1967—the national industrial production show in Toronto May 1 to 5, the British Columbia international trade fair in Vancouver May 17 to 27, and Toronto's British Week Oct. 9 to 21, the biggest the British government has ever sponsored in seven years of organizing such projects in different countries.

Safety Expert To Be Invited

OTTAWA (CP)—Ralph Nader, the Washington lawyer considered a top expert on car safety, is to be invited to appear before the Commons justice committee decision to invite Mr. Nader and other North American experts on highway safety to appear as witnesses was taken here by the committee, which is considering several private bills on the matter.

Two of the bills the committee will deal with were explained by their sponsors. Richard Southam (PC—Montreal), a businessman, said his bill would force Canadian manufacturers to install all known safety devices in their cars. Individual car makers now are reluctant to do so because it would raise their car prices and thus put them in a poor competitive position.

By forcing all makers to install the devices at the same time, all would retain their competitive prices.

In a speech in Toronto St. Paul's, a lawyer, said his bill would make it a criminal offence to manufacture, assemble or sell unsafe cars.

The criminal code now made it an offence to send an unseaworthy ship out to sea. He would extend that section to include placing unsafe cars on the road.

His bill does not extend to used car dealers, he said.

Britain's lifeboats were called out 1,500 times and saved 777 lives in 1965, 250 more than in 1964.

The Lutheran Church in America maintains 49 missionaries in Japan.
