

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 14, 1884.

The Water Question.

It is worthy of special note that not a single point in any of THE EXAMINER'S articles on this question has been controverted—though abundant evidence has been given by the Patriot of a will to do so. It has, indeed, been stated that waterworks, unless supplemented by water-carts, will not suffice to relieve us of the dust nuisance. THE EXAMINER never said that they would. What we said was, in effect, that with an abundant supply of water on their premises, merchants would be enabled to sprinkle the sidewalks and streets in front of their stores, and thus reduce the dust nuisance and make it more tolerable. But this is a matter of secondary importance. The important points made out are that for want of waterworks (1) the city suffers a direct loss, in insurance premiums alone, of $10,000 a year; (2) that the extra risk suffered is equal to at least $30,000; (3) that our merchants suffer losses ranging from $100 to $300 a year; (4) we suffer many discomforts and inconveniences unknown in neighboring towns, while losses by fire are at all times imminent; (5) our city suffers loss of patronage from the wealthy classes who come to seaside resorts during summer. All these facts are practically admitted. And do citizens require an addition to this array, ere they can be induced to take action with a view to the removal of the present council and the election of men ready and able to take charge of this matter and save the City from a recurrence, year after year, of these enormous losses and great risks.

Editorial Notes.

—John Kelly, Esq., is the only candidate for the vacant seat in the City Council, and his election will follow on Saturday next, as a matter of course. Mr. Kelly is to be congratulated on his easy victory.

—The Mutual Marriage Aid Association has been proved to be a fraudulent concern, and its Vice President and Secretary have been imprisoned on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The defence is that the Association has been unfortunate and cannot pay its debts, but will treat all policy holders alike.

—According to the Under-Secretary of State, the British Government have made representations to the United States Government, "touching the duty of friendly powers in regard to dynamite." But Secretary Frelinghuysen says that he has not received anything on the subject from the British Government since the commission of the recent dynamite outrages.

—The rumors circulated at Montreal and in New York and London that the Canadian Pacific is financially embarrassed and has had to apply to the Government for assistance, are officially denied; and it is stated that the arrangements made last session are entirely satisfactory and afford ample means to complete and equip the road by the time stated, May, 1887.

—The Patriot proposes to institute comparisons between the political ability of Mr. L. H. Davies and that of certain prominent members of the Liberal-Conservative party. Well, public men have to bear a good deal; and we have no doubt that Messrs. Brecken, Sullivan and Ferguson, etc., will survive even this. The Patriot condemns Mr. Brecken because the Charlottetown Post Office is not repaired; but overlooks the fact, that though private individuals can always act much more promptly than Governments, there is not yet, in all the burnt district, a single wall above the surface of the ground. As soon as the plans are ready work on the Post Office will, no doubt, be commenced, and vigorously prosecuted.

—A member of the Halifax Herald staff has been writing up P. E. Island—its steamers, railways, hotels, etc. The Herald's representative praises the attractions of Charlottetown and Summerside; but says nothing of those of Georgetown, though, judging by recent events, we supposed that Georgetown had superior attractions for Halifax young men. As to the railroad and the steamers the Herald says:—

"But while the road may curve a little more than is absolutely necessary, it is nevertheless a pleasure to ride over it. Superintendent Coleman has put it in excellent condition. Trains run smoothly and all along the line there is a general line of order. The railway boasts of two fine first class cars, manufactured at Charlottetown. They are vastly superior to the old ones, and are cozy and comfortable. During the winter season the steamers of the Steam Navigation Company have been thoroughly overhauled and are now pleasing to the eye and comfortable to the body. The officers are uniformly obliging and courteous; good meals are served and the wants of passengers looked after. All who seek a few days rest, with a pleasant rail and water trip, may make up their minds to visit P. E. Island and be happy."

—Blaine will have a hard time. Among the journals opposed to him, are the New York Times, New York Herald, Harper's Weekly, Puck, Evening Telegram, Brooklyn Union, Rochester Post-Express, Rochester Herald, Syracuse Herald, Flushing Times, Boston Advertiser, Boston Transcript, Boston Herald, Springfield Republican, Philadelphia Record, Philadelphia Times, Chicago Times, Chicago News, New Haven News, and the New York Evening Post. In addition these the Chicago Inter-Ocean, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, the Philadelphia Telegraph, the Boston Journal, the Worcester Spy, and many other Republican party journals consent to support the ticket, but admit that they have small hope of seeing it elected. The New York Evening Post says, "We do not believe any candidate of any party ever entered upon a Presidential canvass with such tremendous odds as these against him. In this city the Tribune is the only paper which supports Blaine squarely."

The Presbyterian Assembly.

The whole forenoon of the 12th instant was occupied in the discussion of the marriage with deceased wife's sister question, and the Assembly agreed unanimously to send the whole subject down to the presbyteries to report on next year. Rev. T. Fenwick appealed against the decision of the presbytery of Quebec, removing him from the ministry; but the Assembly sustained the presbytery's action. Measures were taken to establish a high school at Prince Albert. The Rev. Mr. Baccid, missionary at Edmonton, travelled 3,000 miles to attend the Assembly. His congregation covers one hundred miles, and contributes $56 per family. $38,000 were paid into the church manse building fund of the Northwest. Subscriptions reach $95,000. Twenty-five churches were built last year. The aged and infirm ministers fund aided thirty-eight last year, expending $7,500. Income $13,000. Eight names were added to the list by this assembly. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Saw-dust in the Rivers.

SIR,—I have noticed during the past few weeks that there has been great quantities of saw-dust and other debris floating down the Montague, and several other rivers at the eastern end of the Island. This dirt comes in such large quantities that it may be gathered in handfuls, nearly two miles from either mills.

Now, Sir, I believe there is a Fish Warden paid for looking after this, and seeing that the fish ladders are kept open, &c. If so, why does he not do his duty, for the fish ladders at both mills at the head of Montague river are blocked with stones, logs and other dirt, so that no water can run through them. Hoping, Sir, that the proper authorities will see that this evil is remedied at once, I remain,
Respectfully yours,
ANGLER.
