The newest and best catalogue of Domestic Fashions for fall 1887, can be had at the Diamond Bookstore for five cents. The Pioneer informs its readers that an editorial on the Hackett-Perry case has been crowded out of this week's issue of that paper, but will appear next week. It would be as well for the editor of the Pioneer to reserve his comments until after the case has been decided by the Supreme Court of Canada. This would, however, be too much to expect.

One of the pieces struck him on the head, killing him instantly. He was between fifty and sixty years of age, and leaves a wife and family. He was much respected. His family have the sympathy of all.

Quite a fracas took place in Georgetown on Sunday afternoon. Two of the hard characters of that town undertook to beat one of the sailors of the Canada who was on shore and slightly under the influence of the ardent. The sailor, however, quickly showed them what British tars could do, and, one of his comrades showing fair play, the little sailor gave his assailants a right good hammering. All the people said the roughs only got what they deserved.

NASAL BALM

TOTTENHAM, ONT., May 3rd, 1887. I have been troubled with nasal catarrh for the last five years. Seeing Nasal Balm advertised I procured a bottle, and although I have only used part of it, I do not hesitate to pronounce it the best remedy in the world for that loathsome disease, Catarrh. It is easy and pleasant to use, soothing and healing in its action, instant in giving relief, removes and changes the poisonous secretions to a healthy state, stops the droppings from the head into the throat, and removes all the symptoms of Catarrh and Cold in the Head. In fact, if the directions are faithfully followed, nothing but a sure and permanent cure can be the result. Yours truly,

JNO. S. GEORGE, Baker and Confectioner. Sept. 23—wky
