Is Sandy Wondering?

SANDY Koufax, Los Angeles Dodgers' ace pitcher, must surely be wondering what a fellow needs to do to get a victory.

Sandy went after his 19th Wednesday afternoon, pitched nine scoreless innings but didn't get the shutout nor did he get credit for the triumph. Had the Dodgers got a run in any of the first nine innings, Koufax would have had his 19th win and his 11th shutout, a new record for the National League.

But Sandy got neither the win nor the shutout.

NO the Dodgers didn't lose the ball game and that's the biggest item as far as the Dodgers are concerned. They scored a single in the tenth but the Cubs came back to tie in their half of the inning and got Koufax out of there for Perranoski. He stopped the Cubs cold and Dodgers won it with a pair in the 11th.

They gained a full game on the Giants and the Cardinals who were losing to Houston Colts and New York Mets respectively and it meant six full games in front for Walter Alston's boys.

But despite the gain on the second place outfits, the Dodgers must have felt a bit upset about failing to get the win for their ace hurler.

Ellsworth Was Good

HOWEVER, one must not forget that Ellsworth must have been hurling pretty fair ball for Chicago to keep the Dodgers off the scoresheet so long. He got clear of the loss because Cubs tied it after Lindy McDaniel took over in the top of the tenth. So neither of the moundsmen who toiled so brilliantly for those first nine innings had anything to do with the decision.

Sure, Sandy would have liked to inch that much closer to the 20-game mark but there's loads of time for that. He appears right back in the groove and Dodgers can expect many more good games from him. He surely didn't hurt his earned run average and he added another 11 strikeouts to his credit.

And the fact that Koufax didn't win but Perranoski did doesn't help the Giants or Cards one little bit.

As long as any Dodger wins they are in real trouble.

A Great Fireman

THIS fellow Perranoski has surely played an important role in the Dodgers' success so far this season.

Strictly a fireman, Ron has accumulated a total of eleven victories and has lost only two. He has served many others for different members of the mound corps.

Every club needs a good reliefer and the Dodgers surely have one in this fellow. He thrives on work and Alston gives him plenty of it. It's surely great to know that a fellow like Perranoski is ready and waiting to do a cleanup job.

There have been many great relievers in the past on teams that have gone into the world series. The Yankees had Johnny Murphy, Joe Page, Luis Arroyo; the Cards had a Harry Brecheen; the Dodgers produced a Hughy Casey; the Phils a Jim Konstanty. These were just a few of the great bullpen men but all of them proved most valuable to their clubs. Perranoski is doing exactly this in the 1963 campaign and if the Dodgers make it into the world series, Ron will have played a big part in their achievement.

Golf Tourney Ends

MARITIME women golfers had a great four days of it at Belvedere Golf and Winter Club.

Congratulations to Mary Ellen Driscoll who copped the championship and to all others who emerged victorious in the various divisions. The women golfers really had ideal weather for their meet and all were loud in their praise of the accomodations offered at the local club.

We would like to thank all those who made the handling of the tournament so easy for us. Particularly do we single out Mrs. W.A. Farrell who acted as press convener. She made our task a pleasant one and we surely appreciate it.

MISS MARY ELLEN Driscoll, left, of Saint John, won the Maritime Women's Golf Championship by defeating Miss Cairine Wilson, right, of St. Andrews, N.B., in the 36-hole finals played yesterday at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club. Miss Driscoll succeeds Miss Rita Lohnes of Lunenburg as the titleholder.

Mary Ellen Driscoll Cops Top Spot At Tournament

Miss Mary Ellen Driscoll reigns as Maritime Women's golf champion.

Miss Driscoll succeeds to the throne formerly occupied by Miss Rita Lohnes, Lunenburg, who did not contest her title this season. Miss Lohnes is at present in Florida.

Mary Ellen swept to her victory in the 36 hole final with the same ease she displayed in all her earlier matches. She sported an insurmountable lead over her opponent, Miss Cairine Wilson, St. Andrews, N.B., when play was halted on the 25th hole. It was a 12 and 11 decision for the Saint John golfer.

In the first 18 played yesterday morning, Miss Driscoll went eight up and the afternoon meeting was a mere formality. The two golfers halved holes 1, 7, 8, 11, 13 and 16 but Miss Driscoll was able to capture ten of the other 12. Her advantage came on 2, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 12, 15, 17 and 18. Miss Wilson was able to salvage only the 3rd and 14th.

In the afternoon it was much the same story as Miss Driscoll continued her mastery and chalked up her triumph on the 7th hole. She took holes 19, 22, 23 and 25. Tied were numbers 20, 21, and 24.

Miss Driscoll's victory was fully expected. She began the tournament as odds-on favorite and never once was in trouble during the four-day meet.

Most exciting match of the day was provided by Mrs. F.M. Cannon, Charlottetown and W. McCarthy, Sydney. Play went to the 23rd hole before the Sydney golfer emerged triumphant in the championship consolation.

First division honors went to Linda McGill, Halifax, who beat Marie Toole, Charlottetown, 5 and 4. In the first division consolation it was M. Trainor, Moncton, over Mrs. J.C. Gallant, Charlottetown, 3 and 2.

Mrs. W.L. Macdonald topped the second division, shading Mrs. C.M. MacLean, Charlottetown, 2 and 1. The consolation award in this division was taken by Mrs. A. McGill, Halifax. She downed D. Gormley, Charlottetown, one up.

Third division was headed by Mrs. F. MacMillan, Charlottetown. She defeated Miss A. Grant, Charlottetown, 3 and 2. Tops in the consolation bracket of the same division was Mrs. V. Williams who defeated Mrs. W.H. Beaton, 2 and 1. In consolation medal play staged yesterday it was Mrs. W.A. Beer, Charlottetown, with lowest net and Mrs. J.K. Beer, Summerside, with fewest putts.

This week's Maritime tournament marked the 50th anniversary of The Maritime Women's Golf Championships. It was here at Charlottetown that the first tournament was held in 1913. It is also 50 years since the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union came into existence.

Prizes were distributed to the various winners by Miss Christine MacDonald, Summerside, president of the provincial women's golf association. The presentations took place at the conclusion of play late yesterday afternoon.

Baseball Playoffs Nearing For Clubs In King's County

Playoff time for baseball is fast approaching. For, instance, the King's County league schedule ends on the 18th of this month. Of course, there will be a few postponed games to play, but the playoffs will get underway by the first of September. We understand that outside playoffs will not interfere this year, as none of the KCBL teams registered for Island or Maritime playoffs.

The Souris Town Baseball League is supposed to end on the 12, day of this month. If the weather man co-operates, and no ties occur, that date will see the schedule end. The playoffs will start either on the 15th or 19th. Finals and semi-finals in this league are both best three out of five affairs.

Sometime around Old Home Week, or right afterwards, Island Minor baseball playoffs will get underway. This County will have four teams entered in the Little League competition. Teams will be from Cardigan, Georgetown, Montague, and Souris. It will probably be a round robin playoff for the county, so that everyone will have all kinds of chance to see the kids play. And by the way, in this age group, Charlottetown and Summerside are in a bracket of their own. We'll explain further on.

BANTAM TEAM

Unless Montague has a bantam team, the County will not be represented in that age group And the irony of it all, is that Souris is the defending Island champions. However, there are not enough players in Souris of that age to form a team this year. This age group is also divided into two groups in the play offs.

Souris will be fielding a team in the Midget age group. We understand that Montague may also field a team. Last year the two centers met for the County title with Souris coming out on top. This group is not divided as far as further Island competition is concerned, and we understand that both Summerside and Charlottetown are entered.

Souris Legion will be the squad that represents King's County in the Junior playoffs. Charlottetown and Summerside will also be definite starters and we hear rumors that Vernon River is going to enter a team. This will mark Souris' first venture into this classification.

To explain about the playoff divisions. In both Little League, and Bantam age groups, there will now be two Island champions declared. Charlottetown and Summerside will be classified as "A" and other centers as "B". We have been given to understand, that, if they so desire, the "B" winners may challenge the "A" winners for the Island title.

YOUNG PLAYERS

Souris Legion received their 13th and 14th losses of the season during the past week. They have only three wins to their credit. What most of the home town fans do not seem to realize is that Souris has a young team, and that they are gaining experience. The team's executive expected to lose most of their games this year, (not quite as many as they are losing), but, they are thinking of the future. In a couple of years time, Souris should have a team that'll be hard to beat.

Youth and inexperience is definitely the byword this year. In the last two games, only one player who played in the KCBL before this year, played in the lineup. The starting lineup in Sunday's game saw three fifteen year olds, three sixteen year olds, one aged seventeen, and two aged eighteen. And these boys not only started the game, but, were still playing at the finish. They are taking some clobberings, now, but they're remembering, and plan to repay those teams in a couple of years.

Doiron Fashions Neat One-Hitter

Lloyd Doiron, crafty right-hander of the Rovers must be thinking of Dodger center-fielder Bob Rice today.

Rice was the only player able to solve Doiron's pitching last night as he belted a third-inning single that spoiled the stout heated hurlers bid for a no-hitter.

Doiron ended up with a 1-hit 6-5 victory as the Rovers jumped over the idle Stars and into third place in the four-team City Baseball loop.

Pat Sherran was on the mound for the losers and gave up nine hits in absorbing the loss.

Doiron's main trouble was his wildness as he walked six opposing batters. He also sent four down via the strikeout route.

The Dodgers jumped into an early 2-0 lead in the first inning as the first two batters, Reg McClintock and Irv MacKinnon walked. A sacrifice a passed ball and an error put both markers across the plate.

The winners tied the game up in the next frame as singles by Billy Weatherbie and John Lane together with a walk to Stan Rose produced two tallies.

In the third the Dodgers went ahead again as Doiron had trouble finding the plate. He again walked the first two batters to face him and this time Rice caught hold of one of his pitches to knock one across the home slab. The second marker came in when Rover catcher Ian MacDonald was charged with an error and Rice came across with the third run of the inning as Doiron threw another passed ball.

The Rovers weren't long getting those back. They collected four hits off Sherran in the fourth frame to count four runs and take a 6-5 lead.

They tried to make sure of the victory by adding another pair of counters in the sixth frame but the game was called because of rain and darkness. The score was reverted back to the last complete inning which still left the Rovers with a 6-5 margin.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Sea Trout Begin Moving Into Fresh Water Streams

Sea trout are beginning to move into fresh water streams and dams in good numbers after a slow start. During bypass repairs on two dams recently it was necessary to close them off temporarily and I salvaged quite a number medium sized trout that were as bright as a newly minted silverdollar. None exceeded seven inches but the bypass water was low and any trout that size would have trouble finding shelter as the water is low in the bypass's due to the hot weather. I returned them to the dams above. Several were pretty well spent by their escape efforts. Even when scooped out on the bare gravel they'd wiggle and squirm and had to be cupped in both hands. Some were so spent they turned on their backs with gills working hard but the moment they were able to remain on an even keel they sought the shelter of weed growth or other floating debris. They have a natural instinct to protect themselves from the dangers that lurk above. I have checked the bypass before shutting off the water but never even glimpsed a trout. They'd had little hideouts under flat stones or miniature cut-out in the banks. One wonders where they came from once their natural shelter is removed.

HAD LONG CHAT

I had a long chat with Reg Alex MacDonald a few days ago who is the owner of the Grove Pine trout fising area. He informed me that local trout fishermen, by local I mean an area covering both Queens and Kings counties including a sprinkling from Prince, forced him into such a move. Reg hates to hail anyone into Court and wholesale court action was the only means left to halt the wholesale desecration of the area. He told me that signs or advertisements did not mean a thing. Reg. was very much opposed to the extension of the trout fishing season from September 15th, 30th as the bulk of trout caught in the extended period were females and soft as putty. I was told that the last two years they really wrecked the Grove Pine area and it was either initiate wholesale prosecution procedure or let it go by the board. Now he will have outside protection and, he informed me, it will be protected from trespassers.

Reg pleaded through the medium of the press, and by signs posted, for anglers to cease fishing on his property after September 15th. It didn't work. In fact it appeared to increase the angling pressure. I can spot the angle there. Some of the smart boys figured they'd have the show all to themselves as the conscientious trout fishermen would obey this request. This type of trout fishermen is becoming scarcer with each passing trout season.

I was told that the trout fishing pressure on the Big Brook this past two years had increased to the point where the area stood in danger of being depleted of its finny population. When I spot seasoned trout fishermen patronizing noted trout pools when the sun is splitting the trees it sets me wondering. Reg told me that only once all summer in the dawning he went to his favourite trout pool near the Grove Pine Bridge and had it to himself and before he had made a few casts three car loads arrived, followed closely by a fourth, all filled with trout enthusiasts fairly bursting in their haste to get a line cast. I was told that one day a group were surprised this summer at a top trout hole and left rather hurriedly. On doing a little checking a fine nylon line was found in the bushes with a large hook on the end draped with a large blob of worms, and above the worms, spaced at intervals, were three sets of triple jig hooks welded back to back.

SAW THE SETUP

Mr. MacDonald invited me down whenever I had the time at my disposal and said he'd show me over the set-up. All silted holes are being dug out and new ones made and all may be reached by motor travel. I have warned trout fishermen for years that they would kill the goose that laid the golden eggs and it looks at the moment as if this particular trout bonanza is completely out of bounds. There's no point in blaming Reg Alex — many who are doing the hollering are the ones who forced his hand. I have been told by "natives" of the area known as Dingwell's and Grove Pine that the New York Syndicate have a Kennel of Blood Hounds that can track a man until he takes to the air. If he stops when cornered it may be well with him but if he runs they'll pull the seat out of his pants quicker than Jerry wrote the note, and, if a chuck of meat come out with the section of pants its all to the good —the dogs would really love that tit bit. This may be imagination on their part but I'd hate to gamble on it.

The Big Brook-Grove Pine area had only a few more years as a worthwhile trouting area, this season was really the pay off, and the end was in sight. Don't cry over spilled milk boys for you are the ones who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs. Left as it was, the end was in sight in any event. Several have questioned me on what would happen if they launched a boat or skiff off Grove Pine bridge. I informed them they couldn't do that without touching the bottom or bank, and they'd be out a boat If you don't believe me try it some day next summer.
