

England's Future King.

AN AFFABLE, GIFTED MAN IS THE PRINCE OF WALES.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes from Homburg: The Prince of Wales is not tall and is stout, and wore in the park at Homburg a suit of the color of a cinnamon bear, a calico shirt, red cravat, unbuttoned leather shoes, soft brown hat, with a broad figured ribbon, carried a stick, and was followed by an Esquimaux dog, white as snow and too dignified to wag his tail. The Prince generally walked with a ruf, as if he had a severe duty to perform and meant to get through with it, and he was always accompanied by a lady usually some one else's sister, occasionally by his own sister, the Princess Christian. He was not an obtrusive person, and there were no ceremonies about it, only he was allowed to go about his business having for the time the coveted freedom of a private citizen; and those who met him said he seemed to be a companionable man, who asked many questions with much intelligence, and did not have to have many jokes explained to him. If he desires to form an acquaintance we presume his overtures are rarely declined. We are no aware that the American Minister has recorded a reverence for the Prince. He often meets the Prince, and testifies to his good fellow-ship. The Prince told him that he was anxious to meet M. Bismarck, and when he did meet Bismarck he was glad to see him again. The Prince of Wales possesses a peculiar interest. He may very soon be the King of Great Britain and Ireland and the Emperor of India. But he is not playing the despot. He is as careful of the cultivation of the arts of popularity as if he were a candidate for the presidency. He is one of the oldest students of current history, and he is much of the time engaged in public duties, many of which are thrown upon him by the widowhood and infirmity of his mother. He has made it a point to be polite to Americans. Is that a reason why should be particularly obnoxious to us? It is not bad policy to cultivate pleasant relations with the other English speaking peoples. The education of the Prince, as the Prince, has of course been a detriment to him, for royalty is a sham that must pass away. But few men know so well the weakness of it as the Prince of Wales. He is a very good public speaker, and there are many of his speeches that could not have been written for him and memorized. Those who know him say he speaks very well indeed, and he has a manly voice, and his universal reputation is that he is a gifted in taste, and that he is good humored and studious to please. He is a great improvement on the run of Prince of Wales and should have credit for it.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Doan's Kidney Syrup, which any druggist will sell at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

$500 REWARD. is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, and bloody; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, breaking or coughing to clear the throat, expectation of offensive matter, together with sores from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony," from Catarrh.

Prof. W. HAUSER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, toward sundown, my voice would hoarse, I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would not cease. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Sneaking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RISHING, Esq., 502 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly sneezing and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only cure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and strong and healthy."
