Delightful Tea Held At Government House

His Honour, the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Hyndman held a most delightful afternoon tea Wednesday at Government House when they entertained in honour of high dignitaries of the Anglican Church, the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, the Right Reverend R. H. Waterman, B.A., L.S.T., DD., the Bishop co-adjutor of Nova Scotia, the Right Reverend W. W. Davis, M.A., D.

D., and delegates to the Anglican Synod which has been meeting in Charlottetown this week.

Prince Edward Island apple blossoms were used effectively throughout the various reception rooms. In the dining-room the delicate pink and white petals and the lighted pink and white tapers were a springtime delight. On this pleasant and memorable occasion, the first time an Anglican synod has met in this province, many new friendships were formed and many old friendships renewed. Delegates were heard to express the joy they felt at having the opportunity to join in this Anglican movement.

Pouring tea were Mrs. J. T. Ibbott and Mrs. G. E. Moffatt. Ushering was Mrs. E. M. Malone. The tea assistants were Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. James Brady, Mrs. Douglas Hill, Mrs. H. M. Simpson, Miss Bea MacKinnon, Miss Winifred Anne Macmillan, Mrs. Tom Rogers, Mrs. Ian Rankin, Mrs. Douglas Saunders, Mrs. Roy MacGillivray, and Miss Nancy Hyndman.

Bit Of Heat Is What's Needed Now - Says James

"Great growing weather, this" James observed to the farmer who came by on an errand "when I thought you'd be at home" this noon. . . and enterprising man he is neither young nor old, but experienced in his chosen work; and we recall canny and alert, and of that kin which male or female actively and actively "lets no grass grow under its feet" in the cropping, or indeed at any other time of the year.

"It certainly is" the other agreed. "Everything looks good. It's not too favorable to-day a though for sowing—this cloudiness with neither rain nor shine! Not the best either for the planting—it's not nice to be caught in a shower at that."

"A bit of heat is what's needed now," James nodded.

Not the best weather either for the fishing as a little boy angler fished out, when after school and alone, he set out to try his luck along the stream. Without so much as an encouraging nibble. But what matter? Whipping the stream at length leads foot-steps to Rob's farm and a playmate most congenial, one with an imagination to plan and hands to build and altogether keep the two interested and happy while the young hours spend happily away.

As happens in eloudiness, the birdsong was most noticeable: the whistle of Papa Starling idling on a flat roof-top. . . "Is yo' a-weavin', Love wid all dat sittin'?" It is tiresome, ah knows dat. But "softer" it won't be fo' long, Honey! 'Tis a few mo' days. An den "with a wisid smile" "what's a comin'?" De cutes' little dahlin's. . . Oh me, oh my;

In the orchard, the robins sang of sating-blue eggs and warm-lined nests caught in high leafy nooks. The goldfinches too expressed their joy of living as the bright pair went about the house-building. The site this year is not

The minutes of the April meeting were read by the Secretary, approved and signed by the President. The members present paid their annual fees.

The following motions were moved and seconded and approved by the Reverend Director, Fr. Walsh, who also addressed the meeting briefly. That $5.00 be given to the Sisters of Tignish Convent to help buy prizes for the annual closing. That $12.00 be donated for Catechism prizes, both English and French, for the children of the parish.

Also that twenty-five dollars be sent to the Sisters of St. Martha in Summerside for Social Welfare Work. Some finished articles of clothing for the Red Cross were returned to the Social Welfare convenor, Mrs. Cloris Doucette. HOUSEHOLD HINT

Mend a snag or break in knitwear as soon as it appears. Otherwise, it stretches and forms a real hole.

All that's necessary for a simple break is to catch the end of each loop with matching thread and tie it off on the wrong side.
