Galloways.

The Liee Stock Journal, of London, England, of the 6th of November last, has the following comment on the Galloway cattle, recently sold at Halifax from the wrecked steamer Brooklyn. The animals purchased by the Hon. D. Ferguson, we learn, were bred by the Earl of Galloway and Mr. Webster Airds:—

"Messrs. Thomas Biggar and Sons, Chapelton Delbeattie, shipped a splendid consignment of Galloways for Canada by the Dominion steamer Brooklyn, from Liverpool last week. They comprised forty cows and heifers and twenty-seven bulls. In addition to a large consignment from their own herd, there were selections from the herds of Mr. Vickers, Closeburn Hall; Messrs. Sheenan, Ballig; the Earl of Galloway, the Earl of Selkirk, Sir Robert Jardine, Bart. M. P. of Castlehill; Mr. Cunningham, Tarbroch; Mr. James Graham (formerly of Parcelstown); Mr. Brew, of Craigenhall; and Mr. Webster, Airds. The Dumfriesshire Courier says the bulls included the famous John Highlandman, first prize winner at the Highland Society of Scotland, and whose produce have won premier honors at the Royal of England; also Corporal, own brother to the first prize yearling heifer of Aberdeen, and twenty-five bull calves. The heifers were a specially grand lot, in respect alike of pedigree and personal merit—a number of them having taken prizes at Highland Society and local shows. Three of them were of the famous 'Hill' strain, Hannah tribe, and the following justly celebrated tribes were also very favorably represented:—The Balg Susan, Tidy, Blackie, and Black Beauty tribes; the Chapelton Music, Fiance, Bess of Blakie families, in calf to the Highland Society champion bull Crusader; a member of the Mary of Parcelstown family from the Drumlanrig, Highland Society first prize bull; and the produce of such well known bulls as Scottish Borderer, Prince Victor, Cromwell, Balliol, Chalmersford, and Stanley 2nd of Drumlanrig. This consignment is of such exceptional merit that they are certain to add to the reputation of the Galloways on the other side of the Atlantic."

Subway Meeting at Cardigan Bridge.

On Thursday, 7th January, inst., notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the roads and the inclemency of the weather, a large and respectable audience gathered in the School House at Cardigan Bridge, to listen to Hon. Senator Howland's lecture on the proposed Subway across Northumberland Straits.

The meeting was organized by appointing Wm. P. Lewis, Esq., Chairman, who, in a few pointed words, explained the purport of the meeting and introduced Senator Howland to the audience. That gentleman, in an able address of about two hours duration, treated the history of the negotiations that brought about Confederation, and explained the reasons why he had been induced to accept what are usually known as the Pope-Howland Terms. After pointing out the necessity that existed of having that part of the bargain carried out, that guaranteed "efficient steam service for the conveyance of mails and passengers between the Island and the Dominion, winter and summer," he described and explained the surveys that had been made at the Cape, and showed that nature had formed a bed particularly suitable for laying a Subway between Cape Traverse and Jourmain Reef. He explained the construction and working of the proposed Subway, and after a brilliant peroration, resumed his seat amidst the applause of his audience.

The following resolution was proposed by George F. Owen and seconded by John G. Scrimgeour, each of whom made a few remarks, complimenting Senator Howland on the energy and ability he had displayed in advocating this very important subject:—

"Whereas, this meeting has derived great pleasure and instruction from listening to the description and explanations given by Hon. Senator Howland, of the proposed Subway across the Northumberland Straits; and

"Whereas, no better scheme has been brought to the notice of the people of this Province as a means by which the Dominion Government will be enabled to carry out that part of the Terms of Confederation which guarantees 'to establish and maintain efficient steam service for the conveyance of mails and passengers between the Island and the Dominion, winter and summer, thus placing the Island in continuous communication with the Intercolonial Railway and the Railway system of the Dominion'; therefore,

Resolved, that we respectfully urge upon the Dominion Government the necessity of causing such inquiries to be made as will fully demonstrate the practicability, or otherwise, of said Subway; and further

Resolved, that this meeting hereby tender Hon. Senator Howland their hearty thanks for the untiring energy with which he has brought this most important matter to the attention of the people, not only of this Province, but of the Dominion; and we hereby ask our representatives in the Dominion Parliament to lend such assistance to Senator Howland as will strengthen his hands in carrying this matter to a successful end."

After some remarks from Rev. Mr. Gilles, complimenting Senator Howland on his able address, the resolution was carried unanimously.

A vote of thanks was tendered the chairman, three cheers were given for Senator Howland, and the meeting dispersed.

A Cruel Military Joke.

An incident years ago in the riding school of the Scots Greys, of which a man named Somerville, who recently died at Toronto, was the victim, led to an investigation bringing about the abolition of flogging in the army. An occurrence is reported from Vienna, which, like the Somerville case, may also lead to an army reform. An artillery recruit, named Aubin, had become the butt of the military riding school at Yvernes, on account of his inability to retain his seat. M. Bazine, who by the way, is a nephew of Marshal Bazaine, the officer in charge, ordered the man to be tied upon his horse, which was whipped around the ring. The animal took fright and threw Aubin; but unable to free himself he was dragged on gashed and bleeding for some minutes, receiving injuries which proved fatal. An investigation was held, and M. Bazine has been put on the retired list. It is to be feared that the brutalities of the riding school are not confined to the Continent and this case of incidental murder may have a beneficial effect nearer home than Vienna.

With a view of putting our brother paragrappers on their guard, so that they may be careful in examining their change when making purchases of stocks, bonds, etc., we would say that counterfeited $1,000 bills are in circulation.—Dartmouth Courier.

CURRENT NOTES.

Charles DeLesseps and a party of engineers have started for Panama.

There are 201,000 effectives of all ranks in the army. Of these 1,300 are stationed in Canada.

Complaint is made of militiamen who were engaged in the Northwest campaign selling their land scrip over and over again.

It is estimated by Commissioner Colman that there are now in the United States 45,000,000 head of cattle. Thirty-five years ago there were about 17,800,000 head, a gain of 27,200,000, or nearly 153 per cent.

It is learned on the highest authority that there is no truth in the alarmist reports which have been put in circulation regarding the health of Pope Leo. It is officially announced that His Holiness is in perfect health.

Lord Salisbury and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach have sent copies of a circular to their supporters notifying them to be in attendance at the opening of Parliament, on the 21st inst., when the Queen's speech will be read and business of importance will be transacted.

There are seven sisters in New York who possess 608 inches of raven black hair, and a statistician recently computed that their combined hair, if placed in single strands would reach over 160 miles. They put their hair in silk bags at night to prevent it from tangling.

An exchange tells us that the arch-undeliverer, Colonel Bob Ingersoll, recently attended a convention at Cleveland at which there was some lecturing and a collection, and that he emptied the plate into his pocket, leaving the other delegates to foot all the expenses.

The letters of Victor Emmanuel to the Countess Mirafloa, his morganatic wife, were sent to King Humbert after the death of the countess. They contained the freest judgments of the late King on the private and public life of Italian and other European statesmen. King Humbert ordered that all the letters be burned.

Leopold Von Ranke, now more than 90, presents the anomaly of a man who has never taken any exercise, and yet is in perfect health. This great German historian has almost lived in his library, working for fifteen hours a day, and has laid out more work which he hopes to complete before his 100th birthday.

Dr. Hammond said at the Nineteenth Century Club in New York, the other day, that in another thousand years we will all be bald. Oh, well, we shall not let this disagreeable prediction worry us. Up to the hour of going to press we have plenty of hair, and we may be dead in less than another thousand years.—Norristown Herald.

The oyster opening match for $250 a side, between Frank Barrett of Norfolk, Va., and John Gillen, of New York, Barrett to open 2,500 oysters to Gillen's 2,300, was won by Barrett in 2 hours 16 minutes and 43 seconds, the best time on record. Gillen opened his 2,300 oysters in 2 hours, 23 minutes and 32 seconds. Barrett used a hammer and knife, while Gillen only used a knife.

H. J. Guy, formerly a clerk in the Halifax Bank, latterly released from Dorchester, arrived in Portland, Maine, a few days ago, in search of his wife Katie and a man named Fraser Allan, with whom she eloped from Dartmouth, N. S., taking her two children and one of Allen's with them. It appears that the couple lived in Portland for some time. They left a few weeks ago and went to Waterville, to which place Guy followed them.

An exciting story has just reached Ottawa. It appears that two shantymen, belonging to Brennan's shanty, on the Petawawa River, started out for a walk through the woods one day last week, taking their axes with them. They had not proceeded far before they were attacked by a famished wolf. Taken so suddenly unawares, they had no other resource than to defend themselves. Retreating with their faces to the ferocious animal, they reached the ice on Lake Casty, when they succeeded in despatching it.

Advices from Calgary state that all the Councilors disqualified by Judge Travis have been returned by the electors. Mr. Cayley's days of grace having expired, over 200 of the citizens placed him in a wagon, drawn by themselves, and led by the town band, escorted him around the streets, with cheers for him and the old Council. Passing Judge Travis' house greets for the Judge were enthusiastically given. In the evening the municipal victory was celebrated by bonfires and a torchlight procession. Judge Travis did not order the arrest of Mr. Cayley on Monday, but on the following day that gentleman was taken to the Mounted Police barracks, to put in his sentence for contempt of court. A petition will be sent to Ottawa immediately demanding a commission to investigate Judge Travis' action.

The King of Bavaria is indulging in a new freak which may have serious consequences of international importance unless great care is exercised. He has left his domains incoquito and is now in Paris. His ostensible object in making this visit to the French capital is to select and buy dresses and scenery for the performance of "Theodora," which is to take place for his private enjoyment, but there is a rumor afloat that he is really in search of a new loan to enable him to carry out his extravagant schemes of pleasure. He travels under the name of Herr Ludwig and is not personally suspected by most of those with whom he has come in contact in Paris. If the public should get word of his presence it is probable the rage of the people would be aroused and that the city would again be the scene of violent anti-German demonstrations.
