QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been: South West North East 1♦ Pass 2♠ Pass 2♥ Pass 2♣ Pass

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands? 1. ♠A ♠A6 ♠AK9852 ♠J53 2. ♠A2 ♠AQ9 ♠KQJ983 ♠QJ 3. ♠QJ73 ♠95 ♠AKQ74 ♠K6 4. ♠A4 ♠KJ7 ♠AJ8532 ♠85

1. Three clubs. Having opened the bidding with a relatively weak hand, we want to sound as weak as possible. The two diamond bid put partner on notice the opening bid was nothing to get excited about. North's two spade bid, disregarding our sign-off, forces us to bid again. Apparently, he is interested in reaching a game.

There are now three bids to be considered. One is to bid two trump. But against the presumable heart lead a notrump contract may not work out well unless North has the diamond fillers that would permit the suit to be run. Another possible rebid is three diamonds, but the suit is not independent of support—partner may have a void or singleton.

By bidding three clubs, a simple preference, we show the moderate club fit and, at the same time, confirm that we started with minimum values. Partner can carry on from there or not, as he sees fit. 2. Three notrump. Singoff bids are not always of the same caliber. The two diamond bid, through it was proper, understated our values. We now have a chance to rectify the previous underbid. By jumping to three notrump we show that the second rebid is based on values beyond those previously indicated and not merely on North's forcing two spade bid.

3. Four spades. Again we have the case where the singoff bid of two diamonds did not tell the full story. A three spade bid would not satisfy the genuine enthusiasm with which the newly-discovered spade fit should be greeted. We shouldn't sound as though the spade raise is being forced out of us. North may be clamorous for judgment from his first bid, and there is no reason to throw a damper on the proceedings. To can't expect too much from us, since at one point we were willing to play for two diamonds.

4. Two notrump. This bid evolves through the process of elimination. We can't stand spades where North presumably has only a four-card suit. Club support is inadequate, even through partner probably has five. The diamonds are not good enough to bid again. Since we have heart strength and a notrump. Being a forced rebid, it identifies fairly well the size and shape of our hand.

24-Hour Power Line Break Is Blamed On Woodcutter

CHEBOUGAMAU, Que. (CP)—A woodcutter may have been responsible for the power failure that left 6,400 residents of this rugged mining area without their usual supply of electricity for light, heat and cooking in sub-zero weather.

Power was restored in this region 300 miles north of Montreal at 2:50 p.m.—more than 24 hours after the break occurred about 1:30 p.m. the previous day.

The Saguenay Transmission Company, which maintains the 157-mile power line from St. Felicien to Chibougamau, said a tree felled by a woodcutter caused all the trouble. A spokesman said the tree broke a ground wire which fell on the high voltage line carrying the electricity. It was impossible to move the energy through the grounded line.

The break was in wild bush country 90 miles east of Chibougamau, a factor which made it extremely difficult to find. Hydro-Quebec and Saguenay Transmission crews worked through the night and all morning before spotting the trouble.

SEARCH BEGINS Men on skis, snowshoes and in helicopters were pressed into service in the effort to restore power to the stricken communities.

As temperatures dropped to the 20-below-zero mark, thousands left their homes and sought shelter elsewhere. In Chibougamau, many of the 4,000 residents crowded into the Roman Catholic parish church, which is heated by oil.

A similar situation existed at Chapais, another mining centre 25 miles east of here, where the population is about 2,300. Among the larger buildings pressed into service for emergency accommodation was the curling club.

Official Hopes Furor Over Murdered Hunters Final One

QUEBEC (CP)—Deputy Attorney-General Charles-Edouard Cantin hopes the latest furor over the murder of three American hunters in the Gaspé Peninsula hush five years ago is the last.

Wilbert Coffin, a 43-year-old prospector, was found guilty of one of the murders and hanged two years ago. Speculation about the killings cropped up last week after Miami police arrested a Mohawk Indian on a grand larceny charge. Francis Gilbert Thompson, 35, told them he and a companion, Johnny Greene, killed two of the hunters.

Tuesday he denied his first story. And his mother, Mrs. Catherine Lazore, 59, told police in Syracuse, N.Y. her son was in a Brockville, Ont., mental hospital when the slayings took place. CANTIN STATEMENT Mr. Cantin said in a statement issued Wednesday: "I hope the last page of this sad episode in our judicial annals has been written.

"Following this retraction... it is unnecessary to pursue this matter further." Quebec authorities were quick to doubt Thompson's story, noting there were facts in it and adds with those established at Coffin's trial.

Coffin was convicted specifically of killing Richard Lindsey, 17, of Hallowell, Me., in June 1953. Slain at the same time were Eugene Lindsey, 45, the boy's father, and a friend, Frederick Claar, 20.

LONDON (Reuters)—A London nightclub Wednesday was ordered to close after a police court was told about a striptease there by a 14-year-old girl. The operators of the Seven Dials in the Soho district were fined a total of £335 for illegal sale of intoxicating drinks and unlicensed dancing.

FANCES SEDITION CHARGE RANGOON (Reuters)—Bo Mya Thway general secretary of the National United Front, Burma's main left-wing parliamentary opposition party, was arrested along with 11 other persons at dawn Tuesday and charged with sedition.
