Canada's Old Friendship Has New Role With France

Following is an assessment by an Associated Press correspondent of the significant role Canada has been playing in the current NATO discussions in Brussels.

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON BRUSSELS (AP) — Canada's old friendship with France is rising in an active new form amid the clash of controversy among Western statesmen over the future of their Atlantic Alliance binding Europe with North America.

The Franco-Canadian relationship emerged as a crucial factor that brought more time this week for the NATO council of foreign ministers.

Among the delegates grappling with the tangle of troubles besetting NATO, the role of the Canadians under External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, 63, became a major factor.

There were those, including Americans and Britons, who criticized Martin fiercely. To them it seemed Canadian conciliation on France's position came near to taking the side of President de Gaulle. Some talked darkly of "the Quebec vote" as an explanation of Martin's activities, meaning that a

Mistaken Identity Sparks Case

MONTREAL (CP) — A man charged with manslaughter last autumn through a case of mistaken identity has started proceedings in a $50,000 suit against the province of Quebec.

Benny J. Chartier filed a petition in Superior Court Monday seeking permission of the Crown to take action against it.

In the petition, Mr. Chartier says Wilfrid Dumont, 52, was assaulted July 11, 1965, and died the following day.

Mr. Chartier says he was taken to provincial police headquarters a few days later and was not allowed to see his lawyer or wife. Later he was found originally responsible for Dumont's death at a coroner's inquest.

He said considerable pressure was put on him by police to admit responsibility for the death.

On Nov. 5, John Paul Laroche, who resembles Chartier, was arraigned for manslaughter and released on 2,000 bail. The same day Chartier was freed by the court.

Canada is concerned more with pleasing its 6,000,000 or so French-speaking Canadians and less with the good of the alliance.

Whether inside the United Nations, the Commonwealth, NATO or even between the white and non-white races, the Canadians, according to these middle-roads, for years have chosen a leading role in the quest for accommodation and compromise.

There were others, who included mainly the smaller allies, who saw Martin's actions as a bridge-building mission that fitted into a long-established Canadian pattern.

It was the forceful intervention of Martin which led France's partners to defer until October a decision on moving NATO's political directorate out of Paris to Belgium.

U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and West German Foreign Minister Gerard Schroeder had been insisting on a quick decision now to withdraw NATO's council.

France's financial contributions would have been lost to NATO, the American fuel pipeline to West Germany that crosses France would probably have to shut down and a variety of other reprisals may have followed.

—De Gaulle then would have pulled France's 72,000 troops from West Germany, so breaching the long-solid NATO defence wall across Europe.

—De Gaulle also probably would have cancelled for good all NATO rights to overfly France.

—De Gaulle's move probably would have cancelled for good all NATO rights to overfly France.

1. There are seven good reasons why your car should have Safety Glide Tires. Premium Quality at Special Prices... you get a tire better than original equipment on most cars now at special Super Value Prices!
2. Contour Safety Shoulders... put more rubber on the tire's outer edges, where it wears faster; results in sure-footed steering, more traction and greater stability on corners and curves. Adds miles of life to the tire too.
3. Polybutadiene Tread Rubber... helps give softer, more comfortable rides, yet is strong and resilient to resist cuts and bruises on rough roads.
4. DuPont Nylon Cords... 4 plies of reliable DuPont nylon provide strength for extra protection at high speeds.
5. Angle Siped Safety Tread... deep, wide tread pattern with scientifically angled siping provides positive traction on almost any surface, wet or dry.
6. No Time Limit Road Hazard Warranty... allowance based on amount of tread remaining.
7. Immediate installation... at low cost, available at or through any Eaton Store or Catalogue Office.
