Literary Notes.

Mr. T. P. Gorman, editor of the Ottawa Free Press, has an article in the December number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine on the "Silent Monks of Oka," which gives an interesting account of the village, its history, its inhabitants, and the silent brotherhood who form its most notable feature. Oka, it is well known, is a village upon the Ottawa River, ninety miles below the capital and thirty miles above Montreal.
Its fame is due to the struggle between the Sulpicians and the Methodist Iroquois for possession of the soil on which the village stands. The title of the former is based upon a grant from the King of France in 1717, and its validity has been upheld by the law officers of the crown. During the excitement which arose a few years ago in consequence of the feud, a Methodist Indian church and a Roman Catholic church were destroyed by fire. The monastery belongs to the monks of the Trappist order, an industrious community who have redeemed the barren soil of their farm from sterility, and turned it into a garden.
The members never speak to each other, except to give the salutation, "Remember death!" Their frugal, laborious lives, and the strange contrast presented by their habits of asceticism, toil and prayer, to the gay hubbub of the modern world, affect the imagination deeply. The Ottawa Citizen remarks that Mr. Gorman has been so seized upon the striking features of his subject, and with the aid of numerous excellent illustrations to furnish a picture of great interest.

Woman has never had her Christmas needs so marvellously well anticipated and so completely met as in the new and fresh Christmas issue of The Ladies' Home Journal, which comes robed in one of the most beautiful and artistic magazine covers. Few better suggestions have been given of the possibility of combining the practical and the entertaining between the covers of a single magazine. Of course, the opening chapters of William Dean Howells' new novel, "The Coast of Bohemia," will attract quickest attention, and the five chapters given, promise well that this may be the brightest and liveliest story ever written by the novelist. It is for girls, and is perfect, so far, in its portrayal of American girl life. Genial "Bob" Bardette has a most amusing account of "Christmas When I Was a Boy," while "A Christmas with Dickens," by Dickens' favorite daughter, is a delightful picture of holiday life as it was celebrated in the famous novelist's home. Mrs. Burton Harrison will interest thousands of girls, in her excellent way, by pointing out the essentials of "A Young Girl's Dress in Society," while George W. Childs tells of the "Girls I Have Educated." The most sensible article we have read on conducting "An Evening Musical," is given by Mrs.
Hamilton Mott, while the illustrated farce, "The Burglar Alarm," comes dangerously close to the witliest of Howells' farces.
There is an exquisitely illustrated page on "Ecclesiastical Embroidery," by Harriet Ogden Morison, and Mrs. Lyman Abbott points out the wisest way of "Conducting a Ladies' Aid Society." Hamlin Garland has a pathetic literary etching, Eugene Field contributes an exquisite poem in his "Little Sans Merci," while Dr. Talmage gives one of the best articles he has ever written in telling "Why I Have Never Been Ill." Then comes the wealth of practical Christmas information, which cannot but prove of inestimable value to women in their Christmas buying. Not a point is forgotten—everything is touched upon, the home, the nursery, the parlor, the dining room, the festooned rooms, the gown, the table, the servants—every phase of Christmas life is fully and admirably covered in a number which must stand as the best and most complete Christmas guide for women ever issued by a magazine, and that, too, at the small price of ten cents; while a yearly subscription is but one dollar per year. The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

St. Petersburg, November 25.—The Czar has nominated the czaritch to be president of the Russian state council.
This is regarded as a step toward a more liberal spirit in the czar's administration.
Under the presidency of the czaritch the repression of Jews and Catholics will eventually be relaxed.

Notes from Murray Harbor North

The shipping season is nearly over here.
During the last six weeks thousands of bushels of potatoes and oats have been shipped from this place by the enterprising firm of Clow & Son.
The potato crop in this vicinity was a very good one this year, the "bug" to the contrary notwithstanding, and farmers have received twenty-five cents per bushel for the tubers from the beginning right along with much pleasure and satisfaction.
Murray Harbor is always ahead of Charlottetown in the matter of good prices for agricultural products. It is to be hoped that our merchants may not meet with any loss in the markets abroad, which, by the way, look a shade gloomy just now in the face of "Bill McKinley." But the darkest hour is just before dawn, and McKinley and his "Bill" will have to take a back seat after the fourth of next March.
Hurrah for Cleveland!
The roads have been excessively bad this fall, as is usual under a Grit Local Government.
There is no settled minister here now, but for the last two Sabbaths the people have had the pleasure of shaking hands with and hearing their former pastor, the Rev. S. G. Lawson, who happened to be among us, with much acceptance.

Mill View Notes.
Mr. Hamilton Myers is doing a rushing business in his blacksmith shop.
D. McEachern has got tired of city life and is going to move to his old home in Mill View.
A. McDonald is doing rushing business in the grocery line.
T. H. Muttlow & Son have purchased that valuable property known as the Clusey place, and intends doing a fine logging business this winter.
Mr. Samuel Brown has gone on a trip to the United Kingdom and we wish him success.
J. M. Bradley is doing more than a big business with his cloth and carding mills and is doing first-class work.
P. M. Bourke, Esq., has ploughed over thirty acres this fall and is making ready for a big crop next summer. He is purchasing cows for the cheese factory, which we hope will be in full blast next summer.
Mr. William Grant, late from California, has purchased Mr. William Pratt's farm, where he intends settling down to farming.
We wish him success.

An Evening Musical.
In giving a successful evening musicale there are almost as many things to be avoided as there are to be accomplished, and it would seem almost that it might be wise to voice the suggestions which it is purposed to give here in the negative form, writes Mrs. Hamilton Mott in an exhaustive paper telling how to conduct one of these popular affairs, in the December Ladies' Home Journal. There are, in any case, a few important, if general, "don'ts" that may well preface the more detailed suggestions which will be found below, and these are addressed to those contemplating the holding of a musical evening, either large or small.
Don't invite the people if you cannot make them comfortable; remember that their homes are places of rest and ease, and that unless you can give to them entertainment and comfort they will grudge the hours spent away from their own vines and fig trees.
Don't include mediocre talent among your performers on such an occasion, avoid your best friend, if he or she thinks, without proper foundation for the belief, that musical ability is his or hers.

Our Girls as Successful Women.
A wealthy woman recently gave $200,000 to establish a summer resort for poor mothers and their children. God bless her, this is only one instance among thousands where woman has conceived and executed grand ideas. Women are rapidly entering every branch of the useful arts, and aspiring to every money-making employment. "What shall we do with our girls" is no longer a mighty problem for mothers and fathers to solve.
Some one has said "It takes a woman to set a man, and so it does." The most successful poultry raisers are women. We have in mind a woman who has for years raised finer poultry and got more eggs from her hens at less expense, than her male neighbors,—practical men, too. Let your girls engage in the poultry industry, as many are doing. Give them a fair share of the profits, and they will soon convince their fathers that girls are mighty handy persons to have about the old house.
With the aid now offered any person can make hens lay even in cold weather. Out of twenty-four gold coin premiums offered last winter for best results, one-third were won by the women who used Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay. For example Mrs. Henry Baker, Holliston, Mass., won $10 and got from 18 hens during the three months' trial 1359 eggs; Mrs. L. J. Wilson, Northboro, Mass., got 3243 eggs from 100 hens; Mrs. Edwin Brown, East Greenwich, R. I., from 35 hens got 2454 eggs; Mrs. E. Bartley, Freeport, Pa., got 2029 eggs from 32 hens; Miss Ada L. Ross, of Mt. Sterling, Ill., from 15 hens got 896 eggs; and Miss Maggie Cross-horn, of Ottobine, Va., got 2000 eggs from 30 hens; each of the last five ladies also won a $5.00 premium from I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass. Every person who sends this firm now $1.20 for a can of Powder, and desires it, can have his name entered as a competitor, if the premiums are again offered. For 50 cents they will send two 25 cent packs of Powder; for $1.00 five packs postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express paid; a large can of Powder, also one year's subscription to Farm-Poultry, monthly, both sent postpaid for $1.50. Sample copy of paper 5 cents. Send stamps or cash. Testimonials sent free. no22 dy6i wyl

"They thought I must die."
"THE STRONGEST STATEMENTS COULD

Hereditary Liver Trouble, ENLARGEMENT OF THE LIVER, Diagnosed by the best Physicians, CURED.
GENES.—My father died of CONSUMPTION of the LIVER, many in my family have died with the same disease, and a large part of the time for the past two years I have been very sick, no appetite, bowels alternating between CONSTIPATION and DIARRHOEA. Pains all over my body, and severe pains all through my LIVER, so nervous I could not sleep BETTER nights, and in fact I was so much emaciated and run down My Physician said I had Enlargement of the LIVER.
The day before I commenced the use of SKODA'S REMEDIES, I had two different Physicians call upon me. People thought I must die. I had doctored so much and taken so many different kinds of patent medicines, without any benefit, that when SKODA'S DISCOVERY was brought to me, I tried it at once. I away did "BETTER" THAN my medicines, and I commenced to gain my appetite increased; from being weak and feeble I began to grow stronger; I never assumed a natural condition sweet and refreshing sleep came to me nights; I began to increase rapidly in flesh.
I have now taken less than a full course (six bottles) of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, with SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, and today I COLD do my own work. In fact, am well and happy. The strongest statement I could make would not tell half your wonderful Remedies have done for me.
