Government was leaving a lot of things undone until after the election—like putting a deck on the Scotia—you might as well put a deck on a canoe, and this is where the federal government intends to spend a million and a half dollars.

He said it was only a few weeks ago that a railway car loaded with fuel oil upset on the deck of the Scotia during a crossing. The ship has only two lifeboats, he said.

Agriculture Minister Cullen said there were many reasons why the conservatives would not want to hear federal politics discussed during the forthcoming election campaign and one of these was the great bonanza promised by Diefenbaker in parity prices.

He read a letter he received this week from a woman near Souris who showed that from a 30 dozen crate of eggs, she received an average price of 7.4 cents per dozen. "The only parity I see in that is that it compares favorably with prices we received for eggs during the thirties," said Mr. Cullen.

"500 MAJORITIES" Hon. Dr. Bonnell predicted majorities of 500 for each of the two nominees and a 500 majority for the Premier in 4th Kings. "As for myself I don't know whether I am going to have an opponent or not. But if he runs, I will not only take a big majority I will take his deposit as well," said the Doctor.

Touching briefly on hospital insurance, Dr. Bonnell said the local government had tried to give the people a voluntary plan and Ottawa had tried to make it nasty for them to put in into effect.

Retirement (Continued from page 1) 1951 and 1955 and always by a large majority. He was appointed Minister of Public Works and Highway June 16, 1951 by the late Premier Jones, who was still his running mate. Following the 1953 election he was chosen again for the same portfolio by Premier A. W. Matheson.

Mr. MacKinnon was made Minister of Industry and Natural Resources on June 16 1955. The portfolio of fisheries was created later.

Maritime

(Continued from page 1) it was "an exhibition in self-discipline and in discipline of the animals under their control" that the three brothers displayed in achieving top honours.

Greetings from Nova Scotia were conveyed by Archie MacMillan of Truro. Lloyd Sloat brought greetings from New Brunswick in English and P. J. Robichaud brought greetings in French. Mr. Sloat is from Fredericton and Mr. Robichaud from Richibucto.

Winner of the judging competition, conducted by Archie MacMillan of Truro, N.S., was Loyd Sloat of Fredericton, N.B., the president of the New Brunswick association. Runnerup was L. C. Wood, of Marshfield, while Barbara MacRae of East Royalty was the top winner in the 4-H Calf Club contest.

In addition, 31 other calf club members were each awarded a dollar bill for taking part in the judging contest.

Maritime Directors of the Ayrshire breeders of Canada, Keith Boswell of Victoria and Frank Hughes of Peticodiac, N.B., reported briefly on the annual meeting of the association held in Montreal last winter.

The value of culling the herd with the idea of propagating superior animals was strongly emphasized by J. Douglas MacKechnie, Secretary Manager of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada.

HERD CULLING In this process of eliminating non-productive animals, the national secretary said, breeder records can be of great assistance. He said environment and management have a great deal to do with the average production of any herd.

Feeding methods too were briefly stressed by Mr. MacKechnie in the course of his remarks. He said, "It takes so much food to maintain an animal. But it is the extra feed a cow gets that puts milk in the pail."

In addition to making use of records, the speaker emphasized the knack of selecting blood lines that will produce outstanding stock. He said a number of breeders have developed this art and in such cases top ranking herds are the result.

In promoting the breed, Mr. MacKechnie said three things should be remembered: 1. Show the herd at exhibitions; 2. Advertise in the local press and farm papers; 3. Show enthusiasm for the breed when talking to others.

Reporting on the year's activities of the breed across Canada, the secretary manager said a five percent increase was noted in registrations and a considerable increase was seen in membership in the Association.

He said purebred Ayrshire cattle were in good demand throughout Canada although the export market declined slightly. This he thought was not significant so long as the domestic market kept up to a high standard.

Reporting on an Ayrshire sale held in New York state during the year, Mr. MacKechnie said the average price paid was the second highest in the United States. Out of 39 cattle sold the top price was $3,400 and the average for the lot was $900. He was pleased to report that the second highest animal at the sale was from the Ness farm in Canada.

Twenty two Isard breeders were on record of performance during the year 1958 out of 45 members of the Association. He said the over all Canadian average was 106 percent or in other words six percent above the average production for Canada. Fifteen of these above average records were established by Island breeders.
