Advices Re Meat Inspection On A Slaughter House Basis

That any meat inspection should be on a slaughter-house basis, as it was the only way to handle it properly, was the opinion of Dr. Wendall MacDonald, City Health Officer, as he presented his regular monthly report to the City Council last night.

Dr. MacDonald did not believe that the excessive cost would serve any useful purpose other than "to appease cranks." He paid tribute to the people supervising the new wading pool at Victoria Park as he noted that it was adequately managed and offered his congratulations to those in charge. The Health Officer also spoke of the situation existing on Upper Queen street regarding dumping and stated that boxes and other debris dumped there should be burned as the supplies of pasty were just serving to feed the many rats. He did not agree that any circus or fair should be permitted in Victoria Park as there was no adequate water or sewerage facilities available.

Council Pays Tribute — All City Councillors joined in paying high tribute to the late Staff Sergeant L. A. (Larry) McInnis of the City Police Force.

Councillor M. A. Farmer, chairman of the Police Committee, and Councillor F. J. Storey, opened the discussion and later the Council passed a formal resolution of regret and extending sympathy to Mrs. McInnis and other members of the family. Mayor J. D. Stewart said he wished to speak to the motion and called the late officer one of the most valuable of policemen. "He was efficient and courteous and through himself built up a reputation for the whole Force," in lieu of the leave of absence which the Staff Sergeant might have had the Council decided to continue monthly payments to Mrs. McInnis as a token of the City's appreciation.

Police Chief Charles MacArthur told the Council that in view of the efforts to increase revenue to collect dog taxes, he noted that there were only 85 licenses issued so far this year compared to over 300 at the same time in 1952. He also expressed the opinion that there were at least 900 dogs in the city. One Councillor remarked that there were that many in his backyard each night.

Street Program — Considerable discussion arose over a motion to pave the area on Kent between the sidewalk and curb from Hillsboro street to Weymouth. There was a sharp disagreement between Councillors with Councillor Storey, chairman of the Street Committee, stating the motion was not introduced by his committee because they had not considered the desirability of the work. He felt that the street program should be followed and finished before any provision was made for extra parking areas.

This view was shared by others but on a standing vote the motion was allowed when Mayor Stewart voted for it. Those in favor were Councillors McCromac, MacDonald, Keefe and Gormley.

The City Assessor, Mr. Ernest Seller, intimated that there might be a possibility of obtaining some tax revenue from the Federal Government. He stated that he expected officials here from Ottawa in September to examine the situation with him and decide on some basis. However, he told the Council that there would be no taxes paid on either the Charlottetown Hoel or the C.N.R.

At the same time it was brought out that the Federal Government was only paying one third of the cost of beautifying its own buildings and this City is paying the balance.

Labor Layoffs — Councillor Storey expressed regret at the necessary layoff of casual labourers last week, but noted that it was an annual thing when the main work on the streets was done. Extra labor was needed in the spring and early summer to handle the work.

A request from business houses on Elm Avenue to allow 15 minute parking on the West side to permit loading was granted. The East side was declared a no-parking area. The parking permitted does not apply to the block immediately after the traffic light at the corner of Great George and Euston Sts.

The City Clerk, Mr. James Fullerton, was authorized to ask for tenders for the supplying of river bottom sand and Belle River sand from bona fide sand and gravel dealers. Councillor MacDonald earlier commented that inspection of deliveries was not what it should be and Mr. Fullerton noted that the only loads paid for were those for which the dealer had a signed slip.

Parliament of South Africa Opens Session — CAPETOWN, (Reuters) — The South African Parliament opened a joint session Monday in what may be the climax of the Nationalist government's battle to get its racial segregation policy passed into law.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan, reinforced at the April general elections, told members of the Senate and House of Assembly that he will introduce legislation today to: 1. Amend the South Africa Act of 1909, which set up the Union of South Africa and which serves as the country's constitution.

2. Validate and amend the separate representation of the voters act of 1951, the bitterly contested bill which places 50,000 colored (mixed blood) voters on a separate electoral roll with their own representatives.

3. Define the jurisdiction of the courts of law to pronounce on the validity of laws passed by Parliament.

The success of Malan's bid to wipe out his legal defeats of the last 15 months depends on 15 members of the opposition.

The aged prime minister more than doubled his majority in the elections. But his party still is 15 votes short of the two-thirds majority needed at the joint session to get his constitution-changing legislation passed.

Describes Advance Made In Chemistry

Mr. Douglas Walkington (above) of Canadian Industries Limited, Montreal, was guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club held at the Charlottetown yesterday, presided over by Mr. F. J. Storey with Mr. Randolph Manning as co-chairman.

Mr. Walkington spoke on "Chemistry and You", dealing primarily with advances made during the past 50 years in the development of antibiotic drugs, plastics, chemical fibers, synthetic rubbers and lacquers. "Color photography," he said, "has brightened our lives and new pesticides and sterilizing agents have come to man's aid in his ceaseless fight against insects, weeds, plant diseases and bacteria."

During his talk, the speaker demonstrated the unusual properties of nylon, dacron and terylene were also described.

Mr. Walkington pointed out the fallacy of regarding the new industrial raw materials as cure-alls rather than supplements to older products. "Intelligent and informative labelling will be of great help in keeping the public informed of the 20 different types," the speaker concluded.

The speaker, who was introduced by the chairman and thanked by the co-chairman, was listened to with deep attention as his demonstrations were carried out.

President Bill Reid announced that the meeting next week would be held in the main dining room and addressed by Sir Archibald Nye, High Commissioner for the United Kingdom. Owing to the prominence of the speaker, other organizations are being invited to join with Rotary for the occasion.

The sympathy of the club was extended to Rotarian Stan McInnis on the sudden passing of his father, Sgt. Lawrence McInnis, who was held in the highest esteem by all those with whom he came in contact as head of the traffic detail in the city. Sgt. McInnis died at the city hospital, after a long illness, on July 10, 1953.

The announcement was made that the Rotary Club at Summerside will hold their meetings in future on Tuesday.

No indication how deep the break had been.

Northeast of Super Ridge, on the central front where the main blows were falling in an unceasing attack some Allied positions were reported lost by 5 a.m. today (4 p.m. EDT Monday).

Counter-attacking South Koreans managed to regain some of the lost ground.

The Reds apparently were trying to wipe out an Allied bulge near Kumsong.

Every Allied division in that sector reported heavy action by masses of Chinese troops advancing behind extraordinary artillery barrages.

The current drive was big but still much smaller than the four great Chinese offensives of the war in November, 1950, and January, April and May, 1951.

However, the new battle dwarfed any action the front has seen since the truce talks began two years ago.

U. S. Sabre jet fighter bombers and B-26 light bombers dropped more than 100 tons of bombs Monday in the Kumsong area in advance of the big new Red offensive.

Says Conservatives' New Theme Song "Oh! Promise Me"

WINDSOR, (CP)—The new Progressive Conservative theme song is "Oh, Promise Me" Health Minister Martin said Monday night.

In an address prepared for broadcast over the CBC Dominion network Mr. Martin accused Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, of "extravagant and expensive" campaign pledges.

"In this campaign," he said, "Mr. Drew has changed his tune from 'Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better' to 'Oh, Promise Me'."

"Mr. Drew's party, by its performance in the last parliament, has rightly earned the title of the most extravagant and spendthrift Opposition we have ever had in Canada," Mr. Martin said.

"If the government had not resisted Mr. Drew's many attempts to increase expenditures," Mr. Martin said, "it would have been impossible for it to reduce taxes since 1951 by $50,000,000—a better record of tax reductions than that of any country in the world."

"And yet members of Mr. Drew's party now that there is an election on promise you everything but the kitchen sink, which is promised by another party. Yes, they promise all this and tax cuts too!"

Mr. Dougan is a member of the American Passenger Traffic Agents Association, the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers and the Canadian Halifax and Moncton clubs. He is also a member of the Knights of Columbus.
