

Jury Announces Verdict In Death Of Ernest Brown

A jury empanelled by Coroner Dr. W. E. Callaghan met in the Summerside Court House last evening and heard evidence relative to the death of Ernest Brown of Plussville who was struck by a car at Bloomfield corner on the evening of June 19th.

After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict that the deceased had met his death as a result of being struck by a car driven by Jack MacKenzie of Conway.

First witness to be called was Mr. MacKenzie, driver of the car. He said that on the night of the accident he had driven to O'Leary and after a short stay had started toward Alberton. He said he had gone as far as Elmsdale and then decided to start back and had gone as far as Bloomfield Corner where the accident occurred.

He testified that he had been driving along at about 40 miles an hour and that when he reached the point of accident had noticed someone on the road ahead. He had pulled towards the ditch and as far as he could remember he had struck someone before the car had gone into the ditch.

He stated that he could not remember any details of what had happened next, but that he had not known that he had killed a man until he had been told about it in the hospital next day. Cpl. Harry Chipman of the Alberton detachment of the R. C. M. P. told of being called to the scene of the accident and of finding the body of the deceased and the car some distance away.

Ian Strang of O'Leary testified that in company with Clifford Seaman he had started to Alberton that night in the MacKenzie car. He said they had agreed to buy the gas for the car on condition that he (Strang) would be allowed to drive. Questioned as to why he had insisted on this condition, Strang said that it was simply because he always felt safer in a car when he was behind the wheel.

He said that when they had gone some distance that MacKenzie had indicated a desire to turn around and go home. Strang said that he had turned the car around and that he and his companion had got out of the vehicle and started to hitchhike to Alberton.

Joseph Pineau, bartender of the Legion Home at Bloomfield said that on the night of June 19th he had served the deceased with four pints of ale in the club rooms. He stated that when Brown had left the Legion his condition appeared to be quite normal.

Walter Callow Day In Alberton

Saturday will be Walter Callow tag day in Alberton. This needs no introduction to residents of this community who are quite familiar with the great work begun by the late Walter Callow, and who have contributed to it on previous tag days. Many alderly and shut-in folks of this area have enjoyed rides in a Callow wheelchair coach. The tag day will be sponsored by Regalette Rebekah Lodge and for the second successive year lodge members will be assisted by the girl guides in selling tags. Last year's tag day was most successful and there is no doubt that citizens will again make a generous response to this very worthy cause.
