Simmons-Stewart Wedding Held In New Hampshire

A profusion of gladioli, hydrangea blossoms and potted plants provided a lovely setting for a wedding on interest to relatives and friends on Prince Edward Island, when, on September 15, 1956, Mrs. Lillian Irene Stewart of Charlottetown was united in marriage with Charles Holmes Simmons of Alstead, New Hampshire. The double ring ceremony, which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble, Cambridge, Mass., was performed by the Rev. William A. Nicol of the North Congregational Church. The bride was becomingly attired in a blue gown with white lace collar and cuffs, and wore a corsage of blue and white midget carnations. The groomsmen were George Stanley Gamble, nephew of the bride. Immediately following the ceremony, a delicious buffet lunch was served to a large number of relatives and friends, after which the bride and groom left on a motor trip through Connecticut and New Hampshire. For travelling the bride wore a grey suit with navy accessories. The happy couple are residing in Alstead, New Hampshire. The bride and groom are both former residents of Kingston, P. E. I.

LET'S EAT

Give Child Milk Drinks Instead Of Sweet Foods

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN
It is always interesting to notice the food people order in a restaurant. Often I can prophesy what will be on the plate by merely looking at the person. A fatty is almost certain to order fried food, potatoes or spaghetti and salad with mayonnaise at a single meal. They will eat too much bread, top the meal off with a sundae and, finally, as a sop to her conscience, virtually drop a sugar-substitute tablet into her coffee!

NON-FATTENING MEAL

A thin person, needing to build up, usually orders meat and vegetables, passes up bread and butter, eats fruit for dessert and avoids milk. Of these two dietary extremes, children will beg for sweet the latter is the more healthful, foods. But on our visits to the New York Thruway Restaurants, we found some intelligent mothers tactfully substituting a milk drink, which combines all the food elements needed for a meal except bulk. Others overcome this problem by pouring part of the milk drink over a bowl of cornflakes or ordering a peanut butter sandwich along with it. Try these popular "milky way" fountain favorites next time your small children are picky about food.

WONDERFUL WINTER SUIT

BROWN wool tweed cut on dressmaker lines does well for a warm winter suit. The jacket sports a draped collar of black Persian lamb, keeping with the importance of fur trimming on suits and coats. The sleeves are cut in one with the softly fitted bodice and there is a three-button closing above the cutaway-front peplum. Skirt is slim and straight. Lining is of bright red crepe, a nice contrast to the dark brown and black. Warm enough for all but quite gold weather.

ELLEN'S DIARY

A Saga Sad And Brave

Better news? Yes, if events world-wide continue to distress and alarm nations, nearer home, there are encouraging tidings tonight: word of miners rescued and proof of life continuing in the depths of the coal mine where a number still are trapped. And the erstwhile gloom is being dissipated somewhat in the thought that while there is life there is hope that presently all will be brought safely to those who so anxiously await their return.

What a sad saga and brave, of the tragedy which has already claimed many lives is being written these hours — loved ones waiting, miners gathered about the scene begging, demanding to be among the company of rescuers, to be allowed to go down the mine to what sorrow or hardship they do not know. Only to go is their will, to be of service in saving the kin and friends who are still there.

This is the spirit of gallantry when once again in the turn of the Canadians will honor tomorrow seasons they remember the illustrious dead of their wars. Those lads who, knowing nothing of nations other than youthful skirmishes of their own, marched off to the awful conflict of World War I. And in their turn, and more cognizant of what it meant, for were they not reared on war's tales? Those whom World War II called away across the seas. And a bit later, those who went to service in far eastern battlegrounds, to some names heard odd times by them in missionary teachings in the little and larger Churches back home.

For these then — the warriors dead, the poppies will be worn, silences observed, wreaths laid on cenotaphs, as we remember them. Faces will return to mind — young faces that never, never grow old. Their smiles, words, inconsequential at the time but treasured since we shall see and hear again good lad, and careless, but all facing then the supreme sacrifice love hath no man than this. "Lives of which it is written, "Greater given for the freedom of succeeding generations and to keep sacred the bonnie hills and valleys they best loved.

Tomorrow we shall honor the memory of the fallen warriors and remember with gratitude the sacrifices of all the lads and lassies "who went a-warrin'" but tonight on the eve of Remembrance Day does some mother remembering her lost laddie think of it this way? "You are the world's tomorrow, but tonight you are my very own. No soldier now. But just a happy schoolboy, with the light. Of fun and laughter on your freckled brow. I hear the step that never seemed to tire. As you came running in from school or play. And sprawling on the rug before the fire. You tell of all the happenings of your day. This is my hour and these my memories. And none shall share my joy or know my pain. Though time may heal the ache and give me ease. Still for this evening let me grieve again.

BEEHIVE MACAROONS
1/2 lb. cocoanut (medium)
1 egg
3 tbsp. white sugar
Beat egg and sugar, add cocoanut, put a small piece of cherry in the centre after dropping by teaspoon on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven till light brown. Makes 3 dozen.

Frosted Float: In a blender, combine 6 oz. chilled milk and 1/2 oz. fresh fruit syrup drained from frozen or canned fruits. Buzz 1 min.
Put 2 scoops ice cream (any flavor) in a tall glass. Pour in the blended milk.
Egg - Nog Milk Shake: In a blender, combine 6 oz. chilled milk, 1 raw egg, 1/2 oz. fresh fruit syrup or syrup drained from frozen or canned fruit and 1 scoop ice cream. Blend 2 min.
Tomorrow's Dinner: Fruit cup; stage coach hamburgers with grilled cheese and bacon on buns; tomato-lettuce salad; orange sherbet; coffee, tea or milk.
All measurements are level.
Stage Coach Hamburgers Corner House: Mix 1 1/2 lbs. ground round of beef, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1 tsp. Worcestershire and 1/4 tsp. thyme poultry seasoning or powdered ginger if desired. Mix until very smooth.
Form into 6 large round patties. Brush all over with plenty of melted butter. Slow-grill 15 min., or until done. Baste once with melted butter.
Three minutes before they will be done, top each patty with a thin slice of Cheddar cheese and a slice of bacon. Finish grilling.
Serve very hot, each on a toasted bun. Garnish of lettuce, pickle and water cress. Serves 6.
Trick of Chef: Serve tomato and lettuce salad with French dressing, spiced with pickled onions.

REMEMBRANCE DAY
To those who so bravely defended our cause on land, sea and in the air — we pause today to pay honored tribute, so richly deserved. May each of us firmly resolve ever to maintain our free way of life for which they fought.

Girl Guide Dolls Are Ambassadors

OTTAWA (CP) — Eighty dollars and a 47 demi-puppets have become goodwill ambassadors for the Girl Guide movement across Canada. The collection, handiwork of doll and puppet makers in 18 countries, was assembled in England. It has already toured countries in Europe and now is moving across Canada. During a week's showing here, visitors to the display contributed to a silver collection which will help send Ottawa guides to the Canadian Guide Camp at Dow Lake, near Huntsville, Ont., next summer.

Mrs. P. D. Holt, division commissioner of the Ottawa Girl Guides Association, said response to the display here was very good. The Ottawa division has more than 3,000 guides. The exquisitely-detailed dolls and puppets represent characters in history and fiction, and some wear the costumes of the country where they were made. A dark-skinned maori doll, for example, wears a rustling grass skirt, and a Swiss doll holds a tiny bunch of edelweiss, her country's national flower. Among the personalities of history are a small but resplendent Bonnie Prince Charlie on a white horse, and a Robert Bruce in shining armor, studying a spider. Alice in Wonderland gazes beside Jenny Geddes, who holds a milking stool. Jenny, so the story goes, threw a stool in Edinburgh's St. Giles Cathedral because she didn't like the bishop. The collection will move to Australia and New Zealand after the Canadian tour, Mrs. Holt said.

VERNON HOME AND SCHOOL
Vernon Home and School Association held their October meeting in the Junior Classroom with 12 members in attendance. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A discussion took place regarding the purchase of a projector for the school. Mr. Burke was asked to look further into this matter and also to see about procuring the use of a projector and films for use at the present time.

The following members were appointed delegates to the semi-annual convention in Charlottetown: Mary Henry, Ruth MacMillan, Jean Mossman, William Howlett and Lynd Furness. A Hallowe'en party was planned for the children and the social committee assisted by the teachers, Mrs. McQuaid and Mr. Burke were to be in charge of arrangements. Mae McDougall and Mary Henry volunteered for lunch committee at next meeting which is to be held on November 26th. A vote of appreciation was extended to the teachers and pupils for the fine job they had done of painting the classroom. Meeting was then adjourned.

BEDSIDE STAND
PATTERN 302
DESIGNED FOR COMFORT
Here is a bed-side stand to dream about. The terraced top places a lamp at just the right height and yet leaves plenty of space at the bed level and below. Any good amateur carpenter can make this stand or a pair of them with pattern 302 which will be mailed for 35 cents. This pattern is one of five in the Bedroom Packet for $1.50. Full steam ahead for better baking with PURE BARBADOS FANCY MOLASSES
There's oceans of goodness in every can of Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses and best of all, my honey, you can stow that goodness — the iron, the calcium and the Vitamin B₁ — into almost all of your baking where a sweetener is required. Every youngster likes molasses as a spread and nothing's nicer on pancakes. But what about your cookies and fancy frostings? They'll all taste better when Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses is the sweetener 'cos Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses is actually sweeter than sugar and it's so easy to mix with other ingredients.
Word of Warning: not all molasses is Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses. So don't just ask for molasses at the store. No ma'am! Look at the container and if it says "Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses" beneath the brand name you can be sure you're buying the best in the world.
Be sure the label says: "Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses"
