SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR: The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia

PRINCIPAL: The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses. References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal. Sept. 19, 1878.

A SOUP KITCHEN

IN connection with the Women's Temperance Union and Benevolent Society, will be opened for the winter if sufficiently assisted by the charitable public. In order to distribute judiciously, only those will be relieved who identify themselves with the Society, which will enable the committee to look particularly into each case. In view of the present pressing demands for help, the friends of the poor are urgently requested to send donations immediately and as regularly as possible, which will be received by Mrs. W. KENNEDY, Confectionery. Clothing will likewise be very acceptable.

E. McRAE, Secretary of the Women's Benevolent Society. Dec. 23, 1879.

SECOND EDITION

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 21, 1880

High Prices this Year.

If Mr. Rufus Hatch, a high authority on trade statistics and commercial matters generally, is to be relied upon, we may expect to find a great advance in flour in consequence of the demands of European countries. Cotton is also to advance fifty per cent. over present prices. Mr. Hatch has been interviewed with the following result:—

Q. What do you think of the grain market?

Mr. Hatch—Our wheat crop was largely over-estimated in some places. For example, in Minnesota the local press bragged of a crop of about forty millions of bushels, whereas that State had but little, if any, over twenty-four millions; however, the aggregate from one end of the Union to the other was a superb crop, and average an excellent quality. On the other hand, Europe has required many times as much as she ever required before; the amount has not yet been accurately estimated. Their crop of 1879 has been a universally deficient one, small in quantity and poor in quality, and only for the circumstance that we had good crops in the United States, this year rather excessive than otherwise, there would have been famine in all Europe. As there is now a very close imitation of famine in some portions of it, our farmers have delivered probably 89 per cent. of their entire harvest; it has either been sold to Europe or is now in sight. These statements are facts; any writer up or writer down does not change the situation. Especially would this be more true with any adverse contingencies to the next year's crop, either here or in Europe. The United Kingdom and the Continent will need from seventy to eighty million bushels more wheat than can now be seen or calculated upon from other wheat-growing countries. We have not much more to give them; they will have to use some other kind of food. Under the most favorable circumstances up to next harvest, I expect to see wheat sell from $2 to $2.50 per bushel before another harvest is made.

Q.—What are your views about cotton?

Mr. Hatch—Our cotton crop as shown by the Bureau of Statistics at Washington, is about 250,000 bales less than last year. Our exports last year were about 3,400,000, our home consumption about 1,600,000 bales. It is fair to estimate that from the depression in the trade throughout the world, the whole world is bare of manufactured goods. From the increase of trade arising out of our unparalleled prosperity you may estimate that we shall want 40 per cent. more for home consumption than we did last year. This would require 640,000 bales more than we used last year; add to this the 250,000 bales short in the crop and you have deficit for export of nearly a million bales. Then another factor to be considered in the future is the extensive exodus of negro labor from the cotton-producing States to the Northwestern States and Territories, and that exodus, to which attention was lately called in the United States Senate, has only just commenced. Taking all things into consideration, you may expect to see cotton sell very much higher—at least 50 per cent. above the present prices, to say nothing about the contingencies that may happen to the next crop.

THE COMMERCIAL OUTLOOK IN BRITAIN.

—The following is from the cable despatches of the Toronto Mail of Monday: "Commerce is still somewhat quiet, as people have not recovered from the effects of the holidays. The newspapers note signs of business activity in the rapid advance of prices. Tin advanced to thirty shillings a box. Liverpool earthenware dealers have advanced prices ten per cent. Iron masters are looking for an increased trade with America. Twenty-one vessels, five of them armoured, are now in process of building. Diamond owners have entirely recovered from the first shock of Mr. Mactear's supposed discovery. The labor market has been much affected by the bad weather, but in the coal and iron industries, improvement is noted, and there is an upward tendency in wages. An extensive scheme has been set on foot for the development of the northern territory of South Australia.

Notice a woman when she receives a telegram. How it does scare her! She trembles like a dish of jelly, and imagines all sorts of things. Her husband has fallen down the hatchway at his warehouse. Her Johnny has gone out sailing and is drowned. Her sister Maria has been scalded to death. Nothing short of a fatal accident quite fills the bill of her imagination. When she finally summons up courage to tear open the envelope she finds a message from her husband warning her that he will bring a customer home to dinner, and she immediately calls her children together and instructs them not to ask twice for raspberries, as there's just enough to go round and give the visitor a few extra.—Puck]

The last foreign mails announce the death of several more or less celebrated Europeans. Among them were Mgr. Feron, Bishop of Clermont, the oldest French Bishop, who died in the eighty-sixth year of his age and the forty-seventh of his episcopate; General Fiereck, who—then a captain of artillery—arrested Napoleon at Strasbourg; George Edwards Hering, a well-known English landscape painter; George Raphael Ward, the painter and engraver, and the Viscount le Douteiller, the garde du corps at the cradle of the Duke of Bordeaux, now Count of Chambord.

Lady Anne Blunt, the granddaughter of Byron, is a notable instance of the travelling Englishwoman. She went with her husband, Mr. Wilfred Blunt, to Central Arabia. At one time, after travelling for five days without seeing any living creatures except a few hares and gazelles and one hyena, they were suddenly taken prisoners by a band of Bedouin horsemen, who afterward made profuse apologies for having attacked a lady unawares, and set them free.

The tar got cold and hard while the mob was getting ready to punish James Gayton at Warren, R. I. They were out of doors on a cold night, and nobody had a match to light a fresh fire under the kettle. So they rolled the naked man in the snow until he was chilled almost to death, and let the outrage go at that.

A lady had a premonition that as soon as she printed her first volume of poems she would die. The premonition was fulfilled. We would earnestly call the attention of a large number of poetical young ladies and gentlemen to the fact that things generally happen without any premonition at all.—Courier Journal.

A great many boys and girls fall desperately in love with each other, and rave over disappointed hopes before they are old enough to tell the difference between the heartache and the colic. Very few such cases prove fatal.—Stevensville Herald.

A MODERN MIRACLE.—It has long been stated as a scientific proposition by medical men that a third stroke of paralysis is necessarily fatal. What, then shall be said of John Appell, of North Banford, Conn., who had twice, and who is to day a strong, vigorous man? The phenomenon is ascribed by Mr. Appell to his constant application of Giles' Liment Iodide Ammonia. Giles' Pills cure Menstruation. Sold by W. R. Watson. Send for pamphlet. Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your Druggist about it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all Druggists.
