Alcoholism Said Creeping Into Younger Generation

The scene: A smoking, twisted wreck of a once steamlined car of today's highways. Dead? Four young teenagers. Results of examinations? All had been drinking.

These pictorial facts and many more substantiate the knowledge that alcoholism is creeping into the younger generation at a far greater speed than it did even a decade ago.

Reverend John Linton, B.Th., M.A., D.D., General Secretary of the Canadian Temperance Association, revealed the circumstances during afternoon and evening sessions of the P.E.I. Temperance Federation held at the United-Church yesterday.

"We could truthfully say," he said, "that these teenagers had not lived long enough to say whether they had been alcoholics or not."

BORN IN ST. JOHN

The Saint John, N.B., born minister, now residing in Toronto, was educated at Teachers College, Fredericton, N.B., Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., Union Seminary, New York, Yale University - School of Alcohol Studies, Loma Linda, California.

For 22 years he had pastored in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and was Secretary of the Social Service Board, Maritime Baptist Convention and Field Secretary for the Ontario Temperance Federation.

In addition to his duties as General Secretary of the Canadian Temperance Federation, Mr. Linton is also a noted lecturer, addressing university bodies and Seminars throughout the United States and Canada.

He also represented Canada at the 1956 World Congress on the Alcohol Problem which convened at the University of Istanbul in Istanbul, Turkey.

Mr. Linton was recently honored by his alma mater of Acadia University when he received an Honorary Doctor of Divinity degree.

HEALTH PROBLEM

"Alcoholism is Canada's number one health problem," Dr. Linton said. He went on to note that alcoholics across the country today number in the vicinity of 200,000. He added that for each alcoholic, five other persons are seriously involved, making a total of 1,000,000 persons living with or connected in some serious way with the disease. He noted that Canada's population is only 17,000,000.

He said that three are "overtones" and "undertones" that you don't find in tuberculosis or polio. Included among the overtones are the overt acts which often accompany drunkenness and bring him into conflict with the law.

Mr. Linton went on to say that it is hard to convince an alcoholic that he is in dire need of assistance. "He refuses to accept the Nova Scotia TB Workers Observe Survey In P.E.I.

Ralph E. J. Ricketts, Executive Secretary, Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association, and Mrs. C. J. S. Fox, R. N., who will direct a Nova Scotia mass tuberculin survey, visited Prince Edward Island during the past week.

During their visit they have been observing all the procedures and administration of the current tuberculin and X-Ray survey being conducted here.

In the clinic observed at Wellington, the response was 91 per cent of the population of the community, or a total of 624 people were tested. Mr. Ricketts and Mrs. Fox were particularly impressed by this high percentage of attendance. They were told by the survey team that the success of the campaign was due particularly to the whole-hearted efforts of the volunteer workers and canvassers of which there were twenty-four in Wellington.

Mr. Ricketts and Mrs. Fox were most appreciative of the community participation and expressed their hope that similar co-operation would be extended them in their own Province. They expressed appreciation to Dr. Eric Found; Miss Hannah Turner, R.N.; Mr. Garth Crockett and Mrs. John Cameron, R. N., for their time and effort.
