Warren Spahn Praises Casey

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—They call them the amazing Mets. But everybody knows the only thing really amazing about them is their manager.

Warren Spahn hasn't been around the club very long but there's no doubt in his mind who is the most amazing Met of them all.

"I knew Casey Stengel years ago," said the pitcher-coach. "More than 20, in fact. I was just a green kid then trying to make good. Casey was my first big-league manager, you know. But I was too young to understand him then."

"Now that I've become re-associated with him, I can understand why he's become an image. Why he's so beloved. Why he's the greatest ambassador the game has ever known."

"The man is a marvel. He's unbelievable. I don't care how old he is. He's got all those young fellows beat a mile."

"I've never seen a more understanding person. Or a more dedicated baseball man."

"Sure, he's a comedian. Sure he double-talks. But he's plenty deep. And nobody knows more about this game. If you listen to him carefully, and concentrate on what he's telling you, you can learn plenty. A fellow can get an education just being around him."

This comes from one who has won 356 games in 19 years and experienced 13 seasons winning 30 or more. Casey is not the only one who is amazing.

At 44, Spahn is the oldest major league practicing his trade. He's also taken on the additional chores of pitching coach.

"Casey's been good to me, in that respect, too," said the indestructible left hander. "He lets me run the pitchers and he's never second-guessed me."

"He doesn't tell you 'you have to do this' or 'do it that way.' He leaves you on your own initiative. If you can't do it, then he takes over."

"Some of his know-how has rubbed off on our kids. We have 18- and 19-year olds on our club who know more about inside baseball than guys five or six years older on other clubs."

"I've never seen a more understanding person. Or a more dedicated baseball man."

"Sure, he's a comedian. Sure he double-talks. But he's plenty deep. And nobody knows more about this game. If you listen to him carefully, and concentrate on what he's telling you, you

Injured Hawks Pose Problem

By AL McNEIL
MONTREAL (CP)—The Chicago Black Hawks arrived in Montreal Friday afternoon faced with the possibility of opening tonight's Stanley Cup final without the services of two key veterans.

Coach Billy Reay said Pierre Pilote, team captain and defence stalwart, may be forced to sit out the opener with an injured left shoulder. In addition, Kenny Wharram, right-winger on the scooter line, is nursing an injured right knee.

"Right now it's questionable whether Pilote will play, but I'm a little more hopeful about Wharram," Reay said.

Meanwhile, coach Toe Blake of Canadiens is more concerned with a healthy member of the Hawks.

Blake is the latest to join the stop Bobby Hull movement. "The way I see it, that's the key to the series," Blake said Friday, as his charges went through a final 50-minute workout in preparation for tonight's game.

"Stopping Hull is a tough job," Canadiens' coach added. "He had a good year against us and it's pretty hard to defend against a guy who's on the ice as much as he is."

As a starter, Blake said he will assign right-winger Claude Provost, the semi-final hero whose overtime goal Tuesday sank the defending cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs, to shadow the Hawks' blond bomber.

"We'll use Provost against him at home. But Billy Reay may have some other ideas when we get to Chicago."

Blake, as coach of the home team, will have the final say in aligning line-up against line at the Forum. In Chicago, the last move will be up to Reay.

However, the Chicago coach had some bad news for Blake. Reay said Hull was playing up to his first half-season standard and the eight-day vacation the club gave him just prior to the playoffs had proven beneficial.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Eight criminal charges have been laid against Stuart Hatch, former supervisor of the bankrupt Lethbridge Central Feeders Association. D. Vaughan Hartigan, agent for the attorney-general, said Tuesday the charges include theft, fraud and making a false statement in writing. A judicial inquiry found the association was in debt more than $800,000.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS BRONCHIAL COUGH, ASTHMA

Do you cough, cough, cough night and day because of bronchial irritation caused by night-packed phlegm in your bronchial tubes? Do you gasp for breath, wheeze and cough so you find it hard to do your work or get your proper rest? Then here is GOOD NEWS for you from Mrs. C. Schofield, 75 Moore Street, Toronto. "I have been subject to chronic bronchitis which made me cough and gasp for breath. I also got asthmatic attacks in damp weather. I am thankful to say I have found RAZ-MAN capsules quick and satisfactory relief from my suffering. I recommend RAZ-MAN capsules to my friends."

You can get this same satisfactory relief. Get RAZ-MAN capsules from your druggist, 85¢ and $1.45. For children get RAZ-MAN Gummies.

Foreign Students Find SDU Appeal Increasing

By MICHAEL O'BRIEN
And MARGARET ANN WARREN
According to statistics, St. Dunstan's University is becoming more and more appealing to foreign students each year. This year, 70 of the student population of 552 have residence outside Canada. This mixture of race and culture tends to give the SDU student body an inside look into how people from other lands live and act.

These 70 students represent the United States, Hong Kong, India, British Guiana, Basutoland, the West Indies, Thailand and Jordan.

Lyris Roberts, a 21-year-old SDU sophomore arts student from Port of Spain, Trinidad, claims that her reason for coming here was to receive a broader education by meeting different people and living in a completely different climate and culture. Lyris finds Prince Edward Island a very beautiful but extremely quiet place, as does Naser Mukhar, a freshman science student from Jericho, Jordan. Mr. Mukhar is on a scholarship to SDU.

MANY FROM ORIENT
The Orient is well represented at St. Dunstan's. Nick Wong, a third year engineering student at SDU who first learned of St. Dunstan's through one of his high school teachers in Hong Kong, finds the island a very friendly place, much more friendly than any of the big cities he has visited during his stay in North America.

Nick intends to continue his studies next year at Nova Scotia Tech and would like to plan his future in Canada.

Anita Fung of Hong Kong and Sunti Kosolcharoen from Bangkok, Thailand, both are enjoying their stay in Canada and both would like to do post graduate work in a North American university. Mr. Kosolcharoen has had a deep interest in Canada for some years and this prompted him to inquire of Canadian colleges, and finally on the advice of a friend who had studied at SDU, he decided to make his academic home here.

Angela Mohale, a sophomore science student from Basutoland, South Africa, has found her time spent here most worthwhile. On being asked about her first impression of P.E.I., Miss Mohale, who arrived in mid-summer, answered, "I couldn't believe it was still so bright after nine p.m."

RELAXING CHANGE
Moving closer to home, we find there are many American students at SDU. John Linus O'Connor, a sophomore commerce student from New York City finds P.E.I. a relaxing change from the hustle and bustle of New York. John thinks St. Dunstan's is a good college for a student who is serious about his education, but not for one who is just out for a good time.

Another United States student John Driscoll from Saugus, Mass., who chose SDU on the advice of an older brother who had studied here, likes SDU because it is not in a big city. This was a determining factor in his coming here, and John, SDU's varsity football quarterback, finds the atmosphere at SDU is quite conducive to studying.

The general complaint made by foreign students is that there just isn't enough social life on St. Dunstan's campus. This was for some a major drawback and for others only a minor one, but one which everyone agreed should be corrected.

Mt. Stewart Stab Victim Funeral Sun.

NEWCASTLE, N.B. (CP)—Funeral service for Wayne Jay, 22, of Newcastle, and formerly of Mount Stewart, P.E.I., stabbed to death in Toronto Wednesday, will be held here Sunday.

Jay, a mechanic employed in Ontario, was stabbed several times following an argument in a down-town Toronto apartment.

Daryl Clark, 38, of Toronto, formerly of Saint John, N.B., was charged with capital murder in connection with the death.

CITY POLICE Investigate Accident

A two-car collision at the Kent-Queen street intersection last evening resulted in an estimated damage of about $300 to each vehicle.

The accident occurred around 8 p.m. when a 1965 model car driven by Alan Wayne Gregory of 295 Allen Street, Parkdale, travelling south on Queen Street, collided with a 1959 model car driven by Calvin Campbell, 33 Park Street, who was going east on Kent Street.

The accident was investigated by city police.

All Music Festival Adjudicators Named

Christopher Le Fleming and Eric S. Lewis have been named as two of the adjudicators for the P.E.I. Music Festival to be held April 26 to May 1.

Names of the other two adjudicators, Francis Cameron and Edgar Boucher, were previously released.

Mr. Le Fleming is a graduate of the Brighton School of Music and the Royal School of Church Music. He was a piano pupil of Evelyn Howard Jones and George Reeves and studied composition with the late Sir Sydney Nicholson and Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams.

He has held music teaching posts at various schools in England, as well as posts of director of Rural Music Schools in Wiltshire and Sussex, assistant director of Rural Music Schools Association, educational advisor to a music publishing company and honorary music adviser to the Religious Drama Society of Great Britain.

MANY COMPOSITIONS
His compositions include choral works, many part songs, and instrumental music of various kinds.

At present he is attached to Kent Junior Music School.

Mr. Lewis is a graduate of Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music and took post-graduate work at the Royal School of Church Music in England under the late Sir Sydney Nicholson, and also with Sir Ernest Bullock, then of Westminster Abbey, Dr. G. Thalben-Ball of the famed Temple Church, London, and the late Sir Ivor Atkins of Worcester Cathedral.

He is frequently engaged as an adjudicator at music festivals and competitions, while his own pupils in both voice and piano have won many awards of similar events.

For 20 years, the Choir of St. Simon The Apostle has presented a Christmas concert in Toronto's Eaton Auditorium, one of the city's two major concert halls. Every year, the 1,800 seats are "sold out," which testifies to the professional standard maintained by conductor Mr. Lewis.
