

Ontario Voters Prepare To Register Votes Today

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario decides Thursday whether to retain in office, the Progressive Conservative government which has run its affairs for the last 12 years.

The alternative choices facing some 3,000,000 eligible voters are the Liberal party, campaigning with renewed vigor under the leadership of veteran Farquhar Oliver, and the CCF which seeks to recover from a crushing defeat in 1951, which left it with only two members in the 90-seat legislature.

Standing at dissolution May 2: Progressive Conservative 78, Liberal 6, CCF 2, Liberal-Labor 1, Labor-Progressive 1. There were two vacancies in Progressive Conservative seats. In the interval since the 1951 election, the government increased its strength by one, ousting the Liberals in a Niagara Falls by-election.

EIGHT MORE SEATS

The new House will have 98 members, first change in Ontario representation since 1930 when the number was reduced to 90 from 112.

A total of 314 candidates is in the field, just three short of the record 317 of 1945. The Progressive Conservatives are contesting 97 of the 98 seats. They haven't an official candidate in Renfrew South where James S. Dempsey, member of the last House who lost party support for not reporting a 1951 campaign contribution, is seeking re-election as an independent Progressive Conservative.

The Liberals have 94 candidates in the field and also stand behind Liberal-Labor candidates in the northwestern Ontario riding of Kenora and Rainy River where Liberal and labor organizations have co-operated for years. The CCF has 80 candidates. Communist Labor-Progressives are running in 31 seats. The list is completed by 10 others.

ADVANCE POLL TAKEN

The voting started last week when advance polls were open for voters who expected to be away from home on election day.

Ontario's 40,000 or so active servicemen were voting by mail. However, election officials estimated that only about 8,000 were likely to cast ballots. Servicemen got ballots by applying in advance. Those in Canada have to mail their ballots by midnight tonight.

Personals

Mrs. Christine Kilpatrick and her daughter Florence of Portland, Oregon and her sister Miss Annie MacDonald of Boston are visiting their brother Mr. D. D. MacDonal, Fitzroy Street, City. They are accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Melow also of Boston. This is Mrs. Kilpatrick's first trip home to the island in the last 35 years.

and those in the United Kingdom and Europe by midnight election night. Service ballots will be opened in Toronto a week after the election.

SECOND FOR FROS.

The Progressive Conservatives are making a second bid for power under the leadership of Leslie MacCampbell Frost, the province's treasurer since 1943 and premier since 1948. In his first try four years ago the party captured the greatest legislature majority in the party's history.

Mr. Oliver, in the legislature continuously since 1926 when he was elected as a United Farmers of Ontario member, is also leading the Liberals for the second time. His last try was in 1948 when the party wound up third with 13 seats against 21 for the CCF which became the official opposition for three years.

The CCF has a new leader, Donald C. MacDonald, taking over from E. B. Jolliffe since the last vote.

In Memoriam

HOWARD WAYE

The people of Wheatley River, and surrounding districts were shocked to hear on May 8, 1955 of the sudden passing of Howard Waye in his 64th year. He was the son of the late Lavinia Axworthy and William Waye.

Although in poor health for some time he had continued his farm duties as usual. He lived in Wheatley River most of his life and was a man of few words. That he was well liked by all who knew him was shown by the large number who assembled at Wheatley River United Church on May 10th, to pay their last tribute to a friend and relative.

He leaves to mourn one brother, Alfred of Glenside, Saskatchewan. Three brothers, George, Jim and Leslie and a sister preceded him some years ago.

The service at the church was conducted by Rev. C. R. Moast who gave a short and impressive service. The hymns sung were: "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "Nearer My God To Thee". Mrs. David Axworthy and Miss Alma Chandler sang a duet "God Will Take Care of You".

The pallbearers were: Chester Smith, Ellsworth Waye, Guy Gastermer, Howard Axworthy, Brent Ekikoud and Frank MacLean.

The flower bearers were: Walter Ling, Orville Stead, Reagh Barrett, Douglas Smith and Arnold MacLean.

Interment was in Milton cemetery where Rev. C. R. Moast was assisted by Rev. A. E. Piercey. Following were the flower tributes:

WREATHS: Wheatley River W. M. S., Ellsworth, Heles and family.

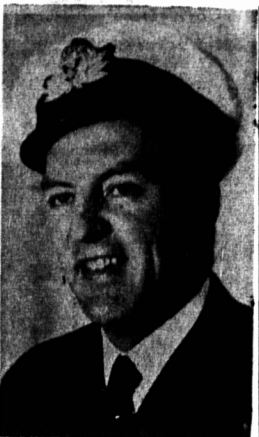

SPRAYS: Dorothy, Harold, Austin and David, Georgina, Una, Jessie and Robert, George, Howard, Wilbert, Alfred, Ernest and Rufus.

At the same time, Bronx District Attorney Andrew C. McCarthy ridiculed the "model boy" reputation of the slain boy, William Blankenship Jr., 15.

He was a juvenile gang member himself, McCarthy said, and at the time of his death April 30, "went a long distance from home that day, spooling for a fight."

The reduced charge carries a penalty of 20 years to life in prison. McCarthy also had recommended the lighter charge. In doing so, he gave a revised version of the killing, in which young Blankenship earlier had been pictured as innocently trapped in a youth gang war.

McCarthy said rivalry between the two Bronx gangs, "The Navajos" and "The Golden Guineas" led to Blankenship's killing, and Redwings" was "a brother gang of that the victim's own gang, "the Golden Guineas."

Receives Award

Lt. Wallace Elmer James, RCN, 35, of Springwater, Sask., and Vancouver, has been appointed a member of the Order of the British Empire for saving the life last fall of a Cape Breton, N. S., light-house keeper seriously injured in a dynamite explosion. In the face of adverse flying conditions, Lt. James, a naval helicopter pilot, picked up the man from St. Paul's Island, off the northern tip of Cape Breton and brought him to hospital in Sydney, N.S. (National Defence Photo).

Small Holes In Iron Curtain

VIENNA, (Reuters) — A number of minor breaches in the iron curtain have been reported here which have aroused hopes that the Hungarian frontier may shortly be less difficult to cross.

Reports from Burgenland province, which borders the frontier, say that for the first time since 1945 a number of Hungarians have been given exit visas to come to Austria to see their relatives there.

And the Hungarian travel agency Ibusz, which has an office in Vienna, has begun to arrange visits to relatives in Hungary. It gets Hungarian visas, formerly almost impossible to obtain, in three to four weeks. Officials there said they hope the system would be further relaxed when the recently concluded Austrian state treaty is ratified.

The Hungarian state railroad also has begun negotiations with the Austrian railroad for beginning traffic on some border lines which have been closed down since the end of the war.

The flower bearers were: Walter Ling, Orville Stead, Reagh Barrett, Douglas Smith and Arnold MacLean.

6-Fold Hike In Canadian Industry In 35 Years

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's fast-growing manufacturing industry made a sixfold expansion in 35 years.

Powered by big oil discoveries in the west, the opening of uranium deposits and the world-wide demand for metals and newsprint, the manufacturers rose from an annual production of less than $3,000,000,000 in 1917 to a record $17,000,000,000 in 1952.

This upsurge was no mere accident, said the bureau of statistics in a detailed analysis of the 35 years of progress.

OIL, IRON, URANIUM

"Such events as the discovery of a major oil pool on the Prairies in 1947, the discovery of large-scale deposits of iron and the successful search for uranium have given new dimensions to Canadian thinking and business planning.

"These are the factors that explain the records of capital expenditures year by year since the end of the Second World War. Yet it is not the mere rate of expansion that is significant. There have been other periods when Canada's population has grown more rapidly and in many respects the rate of industrial expansion in late 1920s was relatively as great as the post-war years.

"The real significance of the latter period is that never before has there been an advance on such a broad industrial front."

In 1952 Canada ranked sixth among the world's industrial powers and third among the traders. NEW ORE NEEDED

Millions of dollars were invested in Canadian oil, said the bureau, "because the Prairies can produce oil as economically as other great fields on the North American continent."

"The exploitation of the Ungava iron deposits rests on the belief that the steel industry of the North American continent will need the high-grade ores involved in order to meet the continuing peacetime demands."

As for uranium, said the bureau, "no country is in a more favorable position than Canada to supply uranium for the production of atomic energy."

Goldsmith Is Kayser Canadian President

A Phillip Goldsmith, President of Julius Kayser and Co., New York, has been named President of Julius Kayser and Co., Limited of Canada, following the resignation of George H. Carr, it was announced over the week-end.

Mr. Goldsmith will take over his new duties in addition to his present functions, it was noted.

Howard S. Peterson, Kayser of Canada Vice-President, will retain his position, assigned to complete control of all manufacturing operations at the Kayser Canadian Plant located at Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Lawrence D. Rolfe will continue as Merchandise Manager in Glove and Lingerie divisions; J. Gordon Mitchell as Secretary-Treasurer; and Donald L. Lancaster as General Credit Manager.

Edwin R. Nagel, Sales and Promotion Co-ordinator of Kayser in New York, has been named Assistant to Mr. Goldsmith in Kayser of Canada, with special assignment in the Co-ordination of Sales and Promotion.

The Kayser Canadian operations employ about 500 persons and is regarded as the oldest brand name in the Women's Stylized Field in Canada, making a complete line of Lingerie, Hosiery and Gloves similar to those produced in the U. S. Kayser plants.

New North Atlantic Crossing Record

MONTREAL (CP) — For the third day in succession, and for the seventh time in 12 days, Trans-Canada Air Lines Wednesday established a North Atlantic crossing record. With 42 passengers aboard, a Super Constellation flew from London to Montreal in 10 hours and 15 minutes, cutting the old mark by 26 minutes.

As for uranium, said the bureau, "no country is in a more favorable position than Canada to supply uranium for the production of atomic energy."
