the boy if he did not clear out, and the little fellow started for town. Brummer, thinking he had killed his wife, shot himself, and died, it is supposed, instantly, falling across the body of the woman. The woman's clothes caught fire, and were burned completely off, so that when assistance reached them, half an hour afterward, she was perfectly naked, and the flesh in many places burned to the bone. The woman lived until about four o'clock in the afternoon, suffering intense agony. This horrible tragedy has thrown a feeling of sadness and gloom over the entire community in which it occurred, seldom equalled.—Lafayette Journal, July 3.

A brutal murder was perpetrated last week in the village of St. George, N. B. A man named Ryan, a millman, at that place, had a quarrel with a fellow workman named M'Carty. On Friday morning they met each other, and some words passed between them, after which they separated. In the evening however, Ryan came down again to the mill with an axehandle in his hand, and told M'Carty that he wanted to see him. When they had gone a short distance, Ryan raised the axe-handle and struck McCarty over the head, knocking him down. McCarty then rose to his knees, but being struck again on the back part of the neck fell back dead; while the villainous wretch who killed him, not content with what he had done, continued battering his head. Ryan then fled and remained at large until arrested by a Coroner's warrant.

A Bear in a Lady's Chamber.—On Thursday night a tame bear which is kept by the proprietor of the Cambria House, got loose from his kennel and started on an exploring expedition through the premises. Finding a door open, Bruin entered, and made his way through the house. In passing the hall he came into contact with one of the servant girls, en dishabille, who, supposing that the bear was bent on mischief, fled, screaming, into a bedroom, close at hand. Bruin, seeming to appreciate a joke, pursued her closely, and took his stand in the door. The girl, seeing her retreat cut off, crept under the bed to hide from the monster. The inmate of the couch, a lady, being awakened by the screams of the girl, and seeing Bruin making his way towards the bed, started up in a hurry, and added her screams to those of the girl. The bear commenced a charge upon the fair ones, being evidently in a sportive mood. By a dexterous flank movement he cornered them both, and, raising himself upon his hind legs, he looked intently into their faces, as if to say, "What do you think now, my dears?" By this time nearly the whole house was aroused, and came to the rescue of the besieged. Bruin was seized by some of the masculine gender and taken to his kennel, while the frightened women were taken care of by the female portion of the house.—Milwaukie Sentinel, July 9th.

A murderer, named Joseph Bell, who was recently hung in Scotland, prepared a little account of himself while under sentence, from which we take a modest paragraph. Where is Wendell Philips?

"My mental capacity stands high, especially as regards mathematical calculation. My principal characteristics are agreeableness, both in manner and temperament, and as a whole, though a little dignified, I am sypathizing and hospitable. As an athletic, my physical powers have been called into action against a few of no small importance, both in fistic and pedestrian exercises, in all of which I came off victorious. As a matter of fact, I could lift half a ton and carry it a distance of sixty yards. For days I could walk at the rate of five and a half miles an hour. I could run a mile in four and one-half minutes, &c. In the training of the canine breed I greatly excelled, my favorites being dogs bred between the staghound and greyhound. I never failed in bringing these to a knowledge of their work, and could place confidence in their performing their duties with military precision. The satirical and reproachful representations given in the newspapers regarding me are but vague and groundless, and, if not huddled up through motives of selfishness, must be from the pure want of something to fill up space (I hope the latter)."

How the Fenians conduct themselves.—A Toronto letter says: A despatch from Chicago states that the feeling against the Chicago Canadians who left to fight for their country is intense. They are openly threatened, and yesterday one of the boys, Mr. Clara, was attacked be four Fenians and rather roughly used. If the Chicago Canadians go out after dark they are followed by Fenians watchful for a chance to attack them. Only two or three of the entire company have procured their former situations. Many people are afraid to employ them, as the Fenians swears they will set fire to the establishment of any person who gives them work. They also treated that if the prisoners in Canada are punished they will have revenge out of the Canadians in the country. They are more active than ever in preparing for another raid. Their doings are conducted with the utmost secresy. It is said they will be in Canada again but will go in a different way.

ALLEGED ATROCIOUS MURDER IN CARLISLE.

A most atrocious murder was committed in Carlisle on Wednesday. The victim, Mr. Armstrong, was an old man who had been a grocer in Carlisle, and who was owner of much property in that city. The prisoner's mother was one of his tenants, occupying the "Wellington" Inn, in English-street. The prisoner, who is named William Hollywell, had been drinking for several days. He went to Mr. Armstrong's house and had an interview with him about some property. An altercation took place. Hollywell seized Mr. Armstrong by the throat, threw him on the floor, and beat his head against the stone pavement in the kitchen until the unfortunate man was insensible. Hollywell then left the house, but was shortly after apprehended. Mr. Armstrong died about four o'clock in the afternoon. The prisoner who was in a respectable position, is a middle-aged man, and married.

RUSSIA'S THREAT.

The actual outbreak of the war in Europe has not probably startled the public mind of this country so much as Prince Gortchakoff's declaration that, upon the slightest violation of neutrality by France, Russia also would abandon her present neutral attitude. This, as if by a lightning flash, gives us a glimpse of our combatants standing behind those who have opened the war, and ready to impart an immense enlargement to its area. For, let us consider a moment what such a declaration implies. Gortchakoff is a veteran statesman and diplomatist, who neither by habit nor by his position as Prime Minister of Russia, is likely to drop any public expression without giving due weight to his words. He implies, then, that he suspects France of a design to drop the mask of neutrality at any favourable moment, for his words carry a stigma which he would be the last to apply to any power like England or Spain that has given no reason to distrust its neutral position. Secondly he implies that Russia is ready to enter the arena as the antagonist of France, because his declaration is a virtual challenge, which he is too shrewd to issue if Russia were behind France in point of preparation.

Confirmation of this view has been presented in the rumors of a secret alliance between Russia and Austria; in recent visits between the capitals of the two empires by the Queen of Wartemburg and her significant reception at the two courts; and even in the remarkable composure with which Austria is reported in our last despatches to have received the hostile invasions of Prussia and Italy. If these indications should be realized, we may soon see Russia, Austria and Turkey in battle against Prussia, France and Italy—the East against the West of Continental Europe. The ministerial crisis in England just at this moment even raises the suggestion that a Tory ministry might form an alliance with the Austro-Russian side; but there is no reason to believe that the people of England would endure that. Great Britain will probably keep clear of the affray. It will be gigantic enough and bloody enough without her. It will change the map of Europe and give a new life to the social and political energies of the people, which we cannot but trust will be beneficial on the whole.—Boston Journal

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,

In the account published in your paper of Monday last of what took place at a Meeting held at the Cross Roads, East Point, on the 11th July, instant, a slight error inadvertently appears, which I am desirous to correct. I am reported to have said when addressing the Meeting, "that the Government were themselves culpable for the disturbances among the tenants on account of the deception they had practised towards them." What I really said was not to that effect, but that they were culpable because they had not exhibited more wisdom and energy in repressing the disturbances when they first commenced. In other respects the report of what I said appears to me to be substantially correct.

By publishing this letter in your next paper you will much oblige,

Dear Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH HENSLEY.

INTERCOLONIAL TRADE.

Charlottetown, July 14th, 1866.

My Dear Sir:

I read this morning, with much interest, a letter from Mr. Brydges, addressed to the Presidents of the Boards of Trade in the principal cities of Canada on the subject of Trade between Canada and the Lower Provinces. I am sure that you and your readers will be glad that the subject of Intercolonial Trade has been so carefully considered by Mr. Brydges, and feel obliged to him for his instructive and opportune letter. You will be further glad to hear that a gentleman connected with the steam ships "Merritt" and "Her Majesty" purpose visiting Charlottetown, together with the other Lower Ports, in a few days, to make himself personally acquainted with the probable amount of freight there will be by steamers during the summer months, from Montreal to Halifax, N. S., touching at certain intermediate ports. I sincerely hope such prospects of freight may be held out to this gentleman as may induce the owners of the steamers above named to call here on their way to and from Pictou, N. S. I believe Mr. Brydges' probable estimate of the number of barrels of flour that will be required to supply the demands in this Island during the current year say 55,000 barrels, to be correct; and further believe that considerably more than one half of that quantity will be imported from Montreal next year. I will not venture to form an estimate of the probable number of barrels both of tobacco, leather, corn, corn meal, soap, candles, &c., that will be imported from Montreal next year, but firmly believe that our importations from that city, from say, 10th May to 10th Nov., 1867, will be at least twice as much as would induce the owners of any steamer or steamers to include Charlottetown among their Lower Ports of call, without even a grant of a Government subsidy, which I cannot but think can and will be obtained. Of course, my dear sir, after the happy consummation of the Confederation of Her Majesty's British North American Colonies, (Prince Edward Island included), our Intercolonial Trade (if such a term will then be admissable) will be so greatly increased that hardly any estimate can be formed of the future requirements of the carrying trade between this little Island and our new metropolis.

Very faithfully yours,

STEPHEN SWABEY.

Hon. Edward Whelan.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir:—

Ross's Weekly has pertinently enquired what has become of the anti-Confederate address.

"O whe e, and O where has the bonnie address gone?" The innocent, respectable anti-Confederate spawn.

Answer announces, that the latest intelligence represents that unique specimen of truth—that powerful emanation of the literary Committee as being in the care of one of the distinguished luminaries whom the astute framers of the excellent address intended to honor, and who, with a zeal and modesty peculiarly and inherently his own, was itinerantly begging signatures to the thing, under the commanding influence of his personal address, seconded by the charm dwelling in his persuasive tongue. Who could resist his powerful appeal? And who so torpid as to be able to withhold concession to the exalted aim, and disinterestedness of the very honorable gentleman humbly asking signatures to an address eulogistic of himself?

"TIME IS, TIME WAS, TIME SHALL BE NO MORE."

The glorious oracle of the Brazen Head!—so often quoted, and so little attended to. "Taking things in time" is so proverbially mentioned as to be almost a trite remark. But what is "in time?" A man meets a friend casually, who seems desperately ill, and naturally ask him, "What on earth is the matter with you!—what are you suffering from!" "Oh, nothing particular," replies the invalid, "I have lost my appetite, and do not sleep well at night, and of course I look poorly." And so they part; the friendly inquirer shaking his head, and muttering to himself not very cheerful prophecies as to his friend's condition. The fact of the case is simply this, videlicet: that the invalid so addressed is in want of proper treatment; his liver is out of order and will not perform its proper functions; consequently his stomach speedily becomes disordered, and alternate cold shiverings and feverishness supply the place of the natural secretions with which, during a tranquil sleep, a healthy skin recruits a healthy body.

Has this sufferer (and there are many such) ever heard of Holloway's Pills and Ointment?—or, having heard of those remedies, does he despise the testimony of thousands, ay, we may say millions, as to those remedies' efficiency? What we say to men in the position we have supposed is this—delay no longer—Time is; but Time, with you, may soon be no more. Delay then, say we, no longer, delay may be death. A little attention, a little ordinary precaution and observance of the rules which accompany Holloway's Remedies will restore any sufferer, in any climate, to health, strength, and happiness. Can we say more? If more is needed, let the reader refer to the wide-spread testimonials in favour of the Pills and Ointment which have made Professor Holloway's name known as a benefactor to the human race, from the mouths of the Ganges in the east, to the sources of the Mississippi in the west; from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Sydney Harbour. And to the doubter we say, as is said with regard to the monument of the grand old architect. "If testimony is what you require—circumspice!" Look around you. But to the actual Sufferer we repeat what we have begun with—Time is—and Time may be no more.—The Irrinite.

WORDS OF VITAL INTEREST.

Will the thousands who read columns of frivolous verbiage every day devote five minutes to the perusal of a few facts which concern them nearly? Our text is Health, and we will put our commentary into a nutshell. Weakness is indirectly the cause of all sickness; for if nature be strong enough to resist the morbid influences which produce illness, of course they are powerless. Seek strength therefore. Invigorate and regulate the system. When the quicksilver ranges from 80 to 96 degrees in the shade, the most athletic are enfeebled, and the weak are prostrated. It is at such a time that such an invigorator as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is urgently needed. What are the effects of this rare Vegetable Tonic? Would that all who have known its benefits could condense their experience into this paragraph. They would tell the healthy, to protect their health they must use this great safeguard against the debilitating influences. They would exhort the weak to discard all unmedicated and impure stimulants, and cling to the wholesale and unfailing tonic and alterative as the shipwrecked mariner would cling to a raft in a stormy sea. They who would of dyspeptic pangs be relieved, of appetite restored, of shattered nerves restrung, of headaches cured, of disordered functions regulated, of hypochondria dissipated, of miasmatic diseases baffled, of fever and ague cured, of liver complaints arrested, of heat, privation and toil defied, of hope reanimated, and cheerfulness restored. Such are the effects of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Holloway's Pills.—Nervous Irritability.—The very prefection of the human body renders it like a complex machine, very liable to be thrown out of order—a state that is at once made manifest by the nerves. Holloway's Pills are always the seasonable and reliable remedy; they relieve every ailment, which is not mortal, in the human system. As alteratives, stomachics tonics and aperients, these Pills occupy a proud pre-eminence, from which no other medicine can dislodge them; they restore health and strength which nervous and dyspeptic sufferers have failed to recover elsewhere. Holloway's Pills act so directly upon the organs of digestion, assimilation and circulation that they immediately arouse torpid organs, augment diminishing vital power and support failing energies.

An Old and Well Tried Remedy.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, has stood the test of thirty years. Millions of mothers can testify that it is reliable and perfectly safe in all cases. Relieves the child from pain; softens the gums, regulates the bowels, gives an infant, troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest. Price 35 cents a bottle

Mayor's Office, 23d July, 1866.

To the Members of the Charlottetown Reading Room.

GENTLEMEN, —A Communication signed "A. McNeill," appeared in the 'Islander' of yesterday, in which the writer of it states that he did not resign the offices of Superintendent and Secretary and Treasurer of the Charlottetown Reading Room. To such a statement we need only give the most unqualified contradiction.

I. C. Hall, 1st V. P.
Wm. Murphy,
Thomas Handrahan,
William Kennedy.

In reference to that part of Mr. McNeill's letter in which he seeks to convey the impression that only three members of the Committee have approved of Mr. Harrington's building for a Reading Room, we beg to assure you that the insinuation is wholly unwarranted.

I. C. Hall, 1st V. P.
Neil Rankin, 2d V. P.
Wm. Murphy,
Thomas Handrahan,
Wm. R. Watson,
William Kennedy.

Charlottetown, July 21, 1866.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—I beg to correct a statement which appears in the Patriot of Saturday, signed George Coles, to the effect that I resigned my office as Secretary of the Charlottetown Reading Room I received my appointment to that office, from the Members of that Institution, at their annual meeting in January last, and not from Mr. Coles, nor the three Committee men who act with him; and even if I had resigned that office, it is not in the power of the Committee to appoint my successor. Mr. Thresher's appointment, therefore, is in open violation of the rules of the Institution.

I beg further to remark that at a meeting of the Committee, hastily convened, at the request of Mr. Coles, I submitted the following proposal, viz:

"To the President and Committee of the Charlottetown Reading Room:

Gentlemen:—I have to inform you that I am prepared to open the Reading Room in Mason' three story building, Dorchester Street, and having received the present year's rent from your Committee, I shall charge no rent for the new room until the expiration of the present year."

Present at above meeting—George Coles, President; I. C. Hall, Vice do., Wm. Murphy, T Handrahan, Wm. Kennedy, Members of Committee.

Absent—N. Rankin, Vice President; M. McLeod, W. R. Watson, Members of Committee.

When Mr Coles succeeded in getting the three Committee men above named to support him in renting his friend Harrington's Room, at a much higher rent, and not by any means as commodious and central as the room in Mason's building, I said if a majority of the subscribers would prefer Harrington's room it would be impossible for me to continue Superintendent. To the decision of a majority of members of the Room, I expressed my readiness to bow; but Mr. Coles positively refused to call the subscribers together, and therefore I have re-opened the Charlottetown Reading Room in Mason's building—on the tables of which are the daily telegrams, latest files of papers and periodicals from Europe and America.

Yours, &c. A. McNEILL.

The members of the Charlottetown Reading Room will observe that I did not state in the Islander of Friday last that I had not resigned the office of Superintendent of the Reading Room What I stated in the Communication alluded to, was that I had not resigned my office as Secretary of the Charlottetown Reading Room. The reader will therefore observe that I. C. Hall and others have given "the most unqualified contradiction" to a statement of their own invention.

In reference to the fact that but three of the Committee were present and acted with Mr. Coles, as shown by the minutes, an attempt is now made, by the securing of Mr. Rankin and Watson's names, to shew that they also approved of Harrington's Room. How, I ask, could any member of Committee not present, be said to have supported the question? and for whom does Mr. Rankin speak, he not being one of the Committee?

I made no "insinuation," but stated, and do now repeat, a plain positive fact, namely, that but three members of Committee supported Mr. Coles at the meeting in question. Can that be denied? From whom, then, does the "wholly unwarranted insinuation" emanate.

A. McNEILL.
