A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, July 17th—Lovely Joyce Washburn, another beautiful Woodbury bride, wore a ruffled, hoop-skirted gown of white chiffon and organza and carried a nosegay of delicate white stephanotis. But her magnificent Woodbury complexion stole the show. Joyce knows that Woodbury Facial Soap is more than just a cleanser. You see, there's a precious beauty-cream ingredient in every cake of WOODBURY SOAP. It's the same softening oil used in finest face creams, and is intended to help replace the natural oils you wash away. Try Woodbury yourself. See how its mild, rich lather cleans your skin thoroughly, gently—and smooths it too. And ask for the Big Beauty Bath size of Woodbury Soap—for lovely skin—head to toe.

GLACE BAY, N. S., July 16 (CP)—Two 14-year-old boys—Mattie O'Donnell and Mac C. O'Leary—were soaked and frightened in a two-hour battle with rough seas that carried their home-made raft a mile and a half to sea today. The lads were taken to safety by police who noticed their frail raft was being carried frutcher to sea by a sudden squall. The boys were helpless against the sweeping combers which turned their inshore paddling into a rough voyage.

On Friday afternoon, June 20, the First Church in Cambridge, Mass. Miss Constance Devereaux Heckscher, sister of the bridegroom, was honor maid. Miss Heckscher wore a strapless gown of white nylon tulle with a bouffant skirt and a pleated stole. In her hair was a wreath of white flowers, and she carried a semi-cascade of gardenias and stephanotis. The bridesmaids, whose gowns and wreaths were like those of the maid of honor, but who carried semi-cascades of bouvardia, white iris and baby's breath, were Miss Margaret Morton, Miss Margaret S. Bryan, Miss Katherine Colt, all of Cambridge. Mrs. Donald G. Perry of Medford, Miss Helen Milas of Belmont and Miss Elizabeth Godman of Boston.
