

Farewell Gathering Honors Prof. Roy And Mrs. Kendall

A most pleasant evening was spent in Trinity United Church Social Hall after the Sunday evening service where a large audience gathered to say farewell to Professor Roy and Mrs. Kendall.

Several presentations were made: a substantial cheque was presented by Mr. Will MacLeod, chairman of Committee of Stewards; by Miss Phyllis Coffin on behalf of the Young People's Union; also by Mr. A. R. Gillis on behalf of the choir; Mrs. Kendall by Mrs. Angus McEachern on behalf of the ladies of the choir. These were responded to by Professor and Mrs. Kendall in their usual gracious manner.

A social hour followed in which ice cream and cake were served. Mr. A. R. Gillis acted as chairman for the evening.

At this gathering a presentation was made by Mrs. H. E. D. Ashford to Miss Beryl Morson who is shortly returning to her mission field in India. In responding Miss Morson stated that while she regretted leaving friends here she looked forward with great anticipation and pleasure to resuming her work where the need is so great.

NO GRADE SIX READERS—The Charlottetown School Supply office has reported that they have no stock of Grade VI readers with which to supply public school children who will be flocking to the various City and rural schools when the fall term opens early next month. Although there is also a short supply of other minor text books, mainly those which have gone out of print, the supply branch is nevertheless fortunate, in that it had most of its books ordered in advance of the present rail strike, and with the exception of the Grade VI reader, have most of their supply already on hand. With respect to college text books, the branch has not yet had time to go over its supplies, but it is believed that there would be no shortage of books of that nature.

Fine Recital At The Kirk

A large audience was on hand last evening to hear the organ and song recital of sacred music given at St. James Church, Charlottetown, by William Keith Rogers and Mrs. R. S. Dunn, New Glasgow, N. S., assisted by Mrs. K. Rogers and Mr. Loran MacLellan and Mr. Stanley Lancaster.

Mrs. Dunn is the possessor of a remarkably true and sweet soprano voice, and her entire program was of religious numbers. In the high register her tones are pure and liquid, with a resonance which increases as she increases the volume of the notes. A very slight person, Mrs. Dunn nevertheless produces great volume at will, retaining the clarity and sweetness which seem to flow so easily. Each of her numbers was told with great feeling, almost like a story. Usually a singer of this calibre has difficulty getting the expression into her religious numbers, but Mrs. Dunn proves her point that religious music is full of expression if the singer can get it across to the congregation.

Mr. Rogers is well known throughout Canada and the United States as a composer. Last evening he demonstrated his skill at the organ, and the entire audience was high in their praise of his contributions to the well balanced program. Most of his numbers were from the pen of Bach, and it is in these that he seems to excel. Amazingly complicated fingering was featured in a number of the pieces he played, and like his companion artist he was able to bring out the full beauty of his music.

Mr. MacLellan and Mr. Lancaster are well known to listening audiences of Charlottetown, and Mrs. Rogers was accompanist for the three soloists. Program for the evening was as follows: Organ—Choral Prelude (Bach); In Dulce Jubilo (Bach); William Keith Rogers. Songs—Come Unto Him (Handel); Be Thou With Me (Bach); O Saviour Sweet (Bach); Jesus, Rose of Sharon (Gabrielle); Mrs. R. S. Dunn. Organ—Mazurka (Schubert); William Keith Rogers. Song—Jesu, The Very Thought of Thee (Hill) Stanley Lancaster. Songs—How Beautiful Upon the Mountain (Harker); A Legend (Tchaikovsky); Mrs. R. S. Dunn. Song—The Lord's Prayer (Chabrier) Mr. Loran MacLellan. Organ—Prelude and Fugue (Bach) William Keith Rogers. Mrs. Dunn is the wife of Rev. R. S. Dunn of the First Baptist Church, New Glasgow, N. S., who has been acting as supply minister at the Charlottetown Baptist Church for the past month. They left this morning to take up their duties in their home church.

TALKS BETWEEN

Continued from page 1... talks, started Friday night at the instance of the Prime Minister, came at 7:45 P.M. E.D.T. Saturday when railway executives left a meeting with the union men in the Parliament Building after rejecting the latest offer of the union. Earlier, both the railways and the unions had yielded ground from the point where they had broken off before Mr. St. Laurent brought them together again in a final attempt to have them get a settlement before he called on Parliament for action. But several unbridgeable gaps remained, including the amount and effective date of wage increases and the union's insistence—and the companies' refusal—to include hotel and water transport employees in the general terms of a contract with the majority of the workers. With the tie-up now in its sixth day, there appeared every prospect that it would go on at least two or three more days before parliamentary measures could halt it.

Cabinet's Plans The Cabinet's plans at this stage, it is understood, call for getting quick parliamentary approval of blanket powers to enable the Government to take whatever action it considers advisable to end the stoppage. What the eventual Cabinet steps will be has not been disclosed. Compulsory arbitration of the remaining points of difference has been reported as a probability, though the unions are strongly against this form of settlement. Best information from official sources tonight was that the Government is not planning to ask general legislation banning future rail stoppages but only to get authorization to end the one now shutting off Canada's rail transport artery. These informants said the legislation likely will be introduced Wednesday—possibly at a morning sitting of the Commons.

Two Major Events On Playgrounds This Week

The three Charlottetown playgrounds, sponsored by the Charlottetown Playground Commission, will wind up their summer activities this week by staging two major events namely a Track and Field Meet at Memorial Field on Tuesday afternoon, and a Mammoth Variety Concert at Connaught Square on Thursday evening.

The Track and Field meet will get underway at the park at 2:00 P. M. and has all the earmarks for a thriller from start to finish. It is the day when the athletes of tomorrow will battle it out against competitors from other playgrounds for individual prizes and for the glory of their own particular playground—friendly rivalry of course, but spirited beyond a doubt. In addition to the dashes, the meet will feature, bicycle racing and broad jumping for both boys and girls, and high jumping, 440 yds. half mile, hop, step and jump, and relay for boys only. Hillsboro square has carried away the trophy for highest points for two consecutive years, and is anxious to retain it, while King and Connaught squares are equally determined to take the coveted trophy to their domain. Tuesday will tell.

The Variety concert will begin at Connaught Square at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday evening. This event is open to entrants from all of the playgrounds, and will take the form of an amateur concert, in which any boy or girl below the age of 18 years is welcome and invited to participate. Those wishing to offer their services for singing, reciting, or playing musical instruments must notify the supervisor on their playground before Thursday noon.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

C. W. L. Convention Opens Tonight

The official opening of the Provincial Catholic Women's League convention will take place tonight with members and delegates from across the Province gathering at the Queen Hotel for a dinner meeting.

The spiritual opening of the three day convention will be at four o'clock this afternoon at St. Dunstan's Basilica where Rev. W. J. McCordie, the Director of the Charlottetown sub-division will give Benediction.

Greetings on behalf of the Provincial Council will be given by the President, Mrs. W. J. P. MacMillan.

Mr. Campbell mentioned in his address that the present Green Gables is not the original home of Miss Montgomery, and that her old home was at Clifton Corners and is still standing, and open to visitors. He also pointed out that she had claimed that what is now known as the Lake of Shining Waters is not the one to which she referred in her books.

Avonlea, in fact, is a composite community, embracing scenes Miss Montgomery remembered, and even some which she had only seen in her dreaming. Mr. Campbell told the audience that the present monument is placed there to commemorate Miss Montgomery's home but to commemorate the imaginative child (Anne) she had created.

He quoted the golden text of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada which is as follows: "A wise nation preserves its records, gathers up its monuments, decorates the tombs of its illustrious dead, and repairs its great public structures and fosters national pride and love of country by perpetual reference to the sacrifices and glories of the past."

Miss Montgomery was born in Clifton Corner in 1874, and her mother died when she was still an infant. She was taken to Cavendish to live with her grandparents and received much of her education in Charlottetown. Her grandmother died in 1911 and she lived for a short time with her grandfather, familiarly known as Old Speaker MacNeill. Soon after her grandmother's death, Miss Montgomery married Rev. Ewen MacDonald and moved to Ontario.

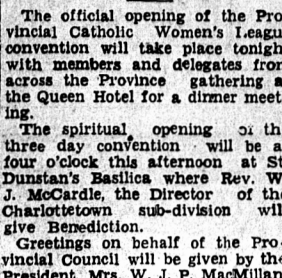

Talent Inherited Creator of one of the immortal children of fiction, Miss Montgomery claimed she inherited her knack of writing from her MacNeill ancestors. Her powers of description were most effective, and her use of words and phrases often original. Miss Montgomery was the author of 21 prose books, and one of poems. There were many editions of each, and her more familiar works have been translated into many languages. She was the first Canadian author to be received into the Royal Society of Arts and Letters of London, England, and her books were awarded the silver medal for literary style by the Literary and Artistic Institute of France. His Majesty conferred on her the distinction of an Officer of the Order of the British Empire. Miss Montgomery died in 1942.

Also assisting during the service was Rev. W. A. Patterson, Lockport, N. S., who led in prayer. During the memorial service the Cavendish Quartette sang "That Beautiful Land" accompanied by Mrs. L. Toombs of Mayfield. The Quartette consisted of Messrs. Olaf Stevenson, Roy Stevenson, George Clark and Thomas Butler. It was very interesting to note that the organ which was used throughout the service was at one time the property of Miss Montgomery. It is now being used constantly in the Cavendish United Church.

Ship To Bring Supply Of Feed

The S.S. Wellington Kent will leave Montreal on August 31 with approximately 15 carloads of feed consigned to Charlottetown, which is expected to bring partial relief to the feed situation in this Province, caused by the present rail strike.

The assistance is being afforded by the Department of Agriculture by having this limited quantity of feed, amounting to some 8,000 bags, brought from Montreal by water.

Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture, stated that the Provincial Government will pay the freight rates from Montreal on those feed imports which have been approved by his department. The shipping arrangements are being handled by the Department of Industry and Natural Resources. At the conclusion of the present strike, the Provincial Government will make application to the Dominion Government for a full rebate on whatever freight rates it has paid on water shipments.

Several light carriers also are in various stages of construction. Two new jet fighters in production for the Royal Navy are the Vickers supermarine Attacker and the Hawker Sea Hawk. Apart from the pure-jet fighters, other types of aircraft for the Royal Navy are being powered with turbo-propeller engines and the latest radar and torpedo-launching equipment they will exceed anything now in use by the Royal Navy. They are the twin-engined Falley 17 and the Blackburn YA-5.

Pair Rescued From Possible Drowning

Three Charlottetown men and a visitor from Boston succeeded in averting a possible double drowning accident on the North shore, about one half mile west of Dalway yesterday afternoon around 3:30 when they rescued two youths from a floating log quite a distance from shore.

Messrs. John Simmonds and Ivan Docherty of the City and Al Harrington from Boston were swimming when they heard a cry for help from out in the water. They noticed two boys struggling and immediately answered the call. Mr. Harrington and Docherty assisted the older boy and were given further aid by Mr. Donnie Burhoe who left shore to help the boys. Mr. Simmonds single-handedly took the younger boy to shore.

One of the boys, about 14 years of age, was a Jones lad from Brackley. The older boy, whose name could not be learned, lives in Harrington. Neither boy required artificial respiration or medical attention. The older boy walked ashore after he reached shallow water and the other, taken to the shore on the back of Mr. Simmonds, walked from the shore to the bank. Dr. Frank MacMillan, who was on the
