West Royalty Home & School Ass'n Meeting

The May meeting of West Royalty Home and School Association was held at the school on Friday evening, May 16, with a fair attendance of members. In absence of the President, the Vice-President, Mrs. Willard Lank, presided. Minutes of the April meeting were read by Mary E. Trainor, pro tem secretary for the meeting. The programme committee was quite fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Stan MacInnis of National Film Board who showed three interesting and instructive films. The "Feeling of Hostility", by National Department of Health and Welfare dealt with mental health of children; "Family Circles" depicted the life and relations of parents and child; "The Loom's Necklace", a Crawley Film production, illustrated in color on masked figures the old Indian legend—"How the Loom Received a White Band on His Throat". Following the program the question regarding necessary educational and professional qualifications of teachers was discussed. A suggestion to begin class at 9 a.m. and dismiss at 3.00 p.m. was unanimously agreed upon by the group. God Save the Queen brought the meeting to a close.

Drama Festival Entry Well Received "The Pampered Darling," a one-act play by the pupils of Glenaladale School, Tracadie Cross, was presented in the second evening of playoffs in the junior classes of the Provincial Drama Festival, before a packed house at Fort Augustus Hall on Tuesday. The production was directed by Sister Mary Winifred and was enthusiastically received by the audience. In her adjudication, Mrs. H. W. Davison, Charlottetown, commented very favourably on the performance and offered much constructive criticism. Father K. MacPherson, Tracadie Cross, acted as the genial master of ceremonies for the evening, and the performers were commended very highly on their efforts by Father Butler of Fort Augustus. A variety concert was presented before and after the one act play, and consisted of the following: Welcomes; Opening Chorus; Welcome Song; Musical recitation, "Three Trees" by Eileen MacInnis; Vocal solo, "Walzing Matilda," by Vernon Smith; Monologue, "Aunt Jemima's Courtship," Marion
