

THE LEADING DAILY NEWSPAPER OF P. E. ISLAND. Sent every afternoon from the office of the EXAMINER, Publishers, 150 Queen Street, London House Building, Queen Street.

THE WEEKLY EXAMINER A issued every Friday morning from the publishers' office. It is made up of matter which has appeared in the Daily editions, and is a first-class weekly newspaper—interesting and full of the latest news.

CALENDAR FOR APRIL, 1895.

First Quar 2nd day, 5h 15.4m, p. m. Full Moon 1st day, 9h 30.9m a. m. Last Quar 16th day, 7h 9.5m, p. m. New Moon, 24th day, 5h. 58.6m, p. m.

Table with columns: Day of Week, Sun rises, Sun sets, High water. Rows for Monday through Tuesday.

P. E. Island Railway

On and after THURSDAY, 27th December, 1894, the trains of this railway will run daily (Sundays excepted) as follows: Trains outward, Read up.

Table with columns: P. M., A. M., destinations like Charlottetown, St. John's, etc.

SMALL'S TIN SHOP

MILLNERS OLD STAND. Great George Street, Charlottetown. ROBERT B. SMALL, Bell Hanger, Gas Fitter, Sheet Iron and Tin Plate Worker, Water Works Plumber.

MONTAGUE Carriage Factory.

We are showing this season a finer line of Carriages than shown by us heretofore. The assortment consists of Top and Open Buggies, Jump Seats and Road Carts.

50 YEARS

For the last 50 years Cough Medicines have been coming in and dying out, but during all this time SHARP'S BALMS OF HOREHOUND Never left the Front Rank for Curing CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS.

ARMSTRONG & CO.

Proprietors, St. John, N.B. NOTICE. LAND SURVEYING, &c.

GEO. H. COOK

Corner Queen & Grafton Sts. SALT! SALT!

THE DAILY EXAMINER

TERMS: Four Dollars a Year

"This is true Liberty, when Free Born Men, having to advise the Public, may speak free."—Euripides.

Single Copies Two Cents

VOL 34:

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. ISLAND, FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1895.

NO. 251

Canada Atlantic and Plant STEAMSHIP LINE.

Shortest Direct Route Between HALIFAX & BOSTON.

ONLY ONE NIGHT AT SEA.

S. S. "HALIFAX" leaves Wharf, Halifax, every WEDNESDAY, 8 a. m., for Boston direct.

SATURDAY, at 12 o'clock, noon. Passengers arriving in Halifax TUESDAY evenings can go directly on board the steamer.

For rates of passage, freight, etc., apply to local agents.

H. L. CHIPMAN, Agent for Canada, Plant Wharf, Halifax.

RICHARDSON & BARNARD, Agents, north side, Lewis' Wharf, Boston.

STMR. FASTNET

Will commence the season of 1895 by sailing from Halifax on the 30th April.

W. W. CLARKE, Agent.

Steamer Miramichi,

Will sail (ice permitting), FROM MONTREAL, 27th APRIL.

to commence the season, and will be followed a little later by the S. S. "CAMPANA".

L. W. MACDONALD, Agent.

FOR SALE. House in Georgetown.

That Dwelling House in Georgetown the property of Mrs. Capt. John McDonald, formerly known as the "McDonald House," together with the outbuildings.

THE 1895 COMET.

Price $100.00—Any Weight.

If you want a good, reliable Wheel, fully guaranteed by a reliable maker, then get a "COMET."

F. DeC. DAVIES, Sole Agent for P. E. Island.

PHOTOGRAPHY!

Superior workmanship, refined finish and moderate prices combine to make these Photos the most satisfactory in Charlottetown to-day.

GEO. H. COOK

Corner Queen & Grafton Sts. SALT! SALT!

To arrive per Steamships Sunrise and Tatus, 10,000 bags Liverpool Salt and 800 bags Fishery, which will be sold at lowest prices with discharging.

Peake Bros. & Co., Charlottetown, April 18, 1895—17

Mortgage Sale.

To be sold by Public Auction, at the Court House in Summerside, on WEDNESDAY, the twenty-second day of May, A. D. 1895, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, under a power of sale contained in a Mortgage, bearing date the first day of May, A. D. 1885, and made between Angus McDonald of the one part and Albert L. Anderson and George Compton, Trustees of the other part, and duly assigned to the undersigned:—

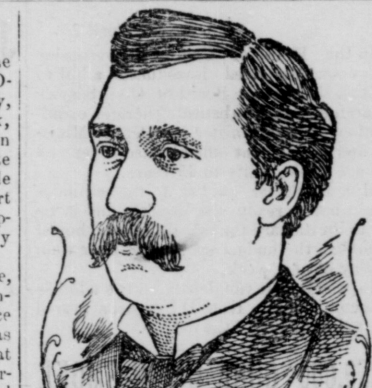

All that piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in Lot or Township Number Twenty in Queen's County, in Prince Edward Island, butted and bounded as follows, that is to say:—Commencing at the southeast angle of land now or formerly owned by one Robert Heaney, and also by one William McKay; thence northwesterly along the easterly boundary of Heaney's (or McKay's) land eighty-two chains, more or less, to the Kerrytown Road; thence north-easterly along the said road to the western boundary of land now or formerly owned by one Matthew White; thence southwesterly along said western boundary of Matthew White's land eighty-six chains, more or less, to the northern boundary of land now or formerly owned by one Malcolm McLean; thence westerly along said northern boundary of Malcolm McLean's land ten chains, more or less, to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement eighty-three acres, be the same more or less.

Dated the eighteenth day of April, A. D. 1895.

For further particulars apply to J. Edward Wyatt, Barrister-at-Law, Summerside.

GEORGE COMPTON, HOLDEN C. MILLS, ap19—4w law (5) Assignees.

REGS FOR SETTING from pure-bred Silver W. vandottes and Plymouth Rock Fowls, two best breeds for eggs and early chickens. JAMES H. EASTON, Charlottetown Royalty. ap11—im day

Mr. J. W. Dikeman, St. George, New Brunswick.

After the Grip

No Strength, No Ambition

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures Perfect Health. The following letter is from a well-known merchant of St. George, N. B.: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. 'Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other ailments caused by poison and poor blood. I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house and use it when I need it. We also keep Hood's Pills on hand and think highly of them. J. W. DYKEMAN, St. George, New Brunswick. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or grip. Sold by all druggists."

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

advertisements for Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills.

DAIRYMEN!

I am now prepared to furnish the Dairy Associations of P. E. Island with all sizes of Milk Cans of superior material and workmanship. Sample Cans for examination will be sent free of cost on application, and may be seen at the store. Also, Vats and all heating and other apparatus necessary in such establishments.

I am also prepared to furnish handsome Wrought Iron, Scroll and Crescent Cemetery Palings at very reasonable prices, according to quality. To see them it is to be convinced of their merits.

Remember, I guarantee all my work to give entire satisfaction, such as it has been doing for the past thirty years.

At the Old Stand QUEEN STREET.

AUGUSTUS HERMANS.

Charlotteville, April 11, 1895—dy & wy

WE ARE JUDGES.

Because we are in the same line of work and have made it a study. Also our principal officers are first-class riders.

THAT IS HOW WE KNOW that the "VICTOR" Bicycle IS THE BEST WHEEL MADE.

We sell at the American price, $100.00.

We sold a large number last season, and every Buyer was delighted.

CATALOGUES upon request. Parts and Sundries at lowest prices, WHOLESALE and RETAIL. Every description of BICYCLE WORK in the very best style.

THE FORBES MFG COMPANY, Ltd, HALIFAX, N. S.

Fortier's "Shakespeare,"

The FINEST 5 ct. CIGAR

EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

JUST TRY IT

ap4 - dy & wy

Seeds! Seeds!

FOR FARM AND GARDEN.

Timothy, Alsike, Mammoth, Early Red and White Dutch Clover Seed, White Russian, Red Flax, Colorado Bearded Seed Wheat.

GARDEN.—Beans, Beet, Cabbage, Carrot, Cauliflower, Celery, Corn, Cress, Cucumber, Mush Melon, Onion, Parsley, Parsnip, Peas, Pepper, Radish, Sage, Savory, Spinach, Squash, Salsif, Tomato, Tobacco, Turnip, Water Melon.

FLOWER SEEDS in variety.

All of these Seeds are new, pure and reliable. For sale at the lowest prices.

WILLIAM GRANT & CO., QUEEN STREET.

Charlotteville, April 13, 1895—135 w

NOTES BY THE WAY.

The trip from Charlottetown to Ottawa has been so often described that it is needless to say much about it, but while on the way one or two new points were noticed by the writer. Taking the short line by Oxford does not hasten the journey, but it gave an opportunity to see a section of Nova Scotia that is not so well known to the people of P. E. Island.

At one place the train is stopped until the engine runs down a branch some five miles long, and returns, and the passengers on a one day have an opportunity of taking a walk and exercising their limbs. A number of young men were going back to work in the United States, enjoyed this unusual feature of railway travelling very much.

After leaving Moncton for Levis and Quebec the writer noticed that the I. C. R. is a great improvement in the cars for second-class passengers. Formerly the second-class cars were very uncomfortable and had little if any conveniences for those who had to use them.

The colonists sleeping car is fitted up on the same principle as the first-class Pullman cars, having sleeping berths that are quite comfortable and bedding being provided for those requiring it. The lavatories and other conveniences are of the best quality, and the easy being cushioned with leather, and the porter in charge attends to the wants of the passengers on the way. All these comforts are given to second-class passengers free of charge, and the time made on this road is wonderfully fast, the engine running over fifty miles an hour, but so perfect is the road that unless you take your watch and count the mile posts you would not know you were going half as fast.

I think it should be made generally known that this greatly increased accommodation is provided, for hitherto an impression prevailed amongst P. E. Islanders that the second-class cars in Canada were nothing but instruments of torture.

I met on the way Mr. D. R. Morrison, formerly of Port Hill, who was returning to Rimouski, in Maine, where he is the Superintendent of the Rimouski Falls Sulphur, Pulp and Paper Co., a very large mill being under his charge, that gives employment to 150 men. Mr. Morrison has been twelve years in the employ of this company and by his industry and ability has obtained a first-class position. He thinks it a pity that mills like his in our country are not established in the Maritime Provinces, where any quantity of timber material could be obtained at low prices. His mill takes in the tree as it comes from the forest and sends out the manufactured paper, such as used by newspapers, at the rate of an hour or so at Quebec I was interested in seeing the improvement in the appearance of that city since I visited in 1876. The streets in many places have been widened and many very fine public buildings have been erected. The new parliament buildings are situated on a commanding site and are certainly most imposing in appearance. I also noticed many other fine new buildings, but space will not admit of their description at the present time. One thing, however, I must mention, and that is the courtesy of the P. E. Islanders at the place of travel. A traveler who makes his wants known is sure of receiving every attention. I am sorry I cannot say as much about the conductor on the train to Montreal. He was a suit case with whom he generally has to deal, but he is very different from those we meet on other branches of that line.

At St. Martin's Junction a delay of two and a half hours was not pleasant, nevertheless I happened to meet a gentleman with a history, who while the hours away with his reminiscences of his adventures as a member of the Papal Zouaves who went to Italy in 1868. His name is E. A. Desormeaux, and his account of the episodes which took place from 1868 to 1870 would make an interesting book. When he was drill instructor of the regiment he had many episodes of the first families of France and Italy under his charge, and even had the late King of Spain for three months in his school. He has letters from that monarch and from several leading families acknowledging his services.

At one o'clock, on Saturday, I reached Ottawa, pretty well tired out, but the cab for the Windsor House quickly got myself and Mr. McLeod, of Springfield, N. S., to the hotel, travelled with, is comfortable quarters.

April 20, 1895. G. F. O.

REPLY TO MR. MCKINNON.

Sir,—In your issue of the 18th inst. there appears a communication from Mr. Donald McKinnon, in which he finds great fault with the editor of the Patriot for not publishing his "extended reply" to my challenge of March 8th. Well, if his reply, which has not yet been in the light of day, contains as many false assertions as are contained in his letter of the 11th inst., nobody will for a moment blame the Patriot for not publishing it.

As Mr. McKinnon has utterly failed to produce a particle of evidence in support of his statement, I again pronounce it as absolutely false in every respect.

In fact, it seems that the "Principal" and the "Editorial" are two different strangers to each other. As an example, I will quote the last sentence of the first paragraph of his letter, in which he says, "I am surprised that a man of such social standing as the editor of that journal would tolerate such injustice; but it seems the Patriot Publishing Co. desires to be relieved of the burdensome task of again contradicting the falsehoods of its own level correspondent."

I have not the least intention of pronouncing the above, as far as it relates to the Montague correspondent of the Patriot, to be an intentional lie, or of holding any one, and his interesting news items were always accurate. This is evident from the fact that in no single instance have they been contradicted, something unknown to me.

Comment on the above would be quite superfluous. I leave the matter to the good judgment of your readers, and as I find there is no satisfaction in holding a controversy with a person so totally regardless of truth as Mr. McKinnon, I will pay no further attention to his slanderous productions.

MONTAGUE CORRESPONDENT PATRIOT, April 22, 1895.

POOR DIGESTION leads to nervousness, chronic dyspepsia and great misery. The best remedy is HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement, and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly applying the world's best product to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its containing in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fever, and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 25c bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

LIGHT VERSUS DARK.

It is the Most Effective Agent to Promote Cleanliness.

Light is the most efficient weapon with which to fight dirt in the domestic as it is in the moral world, but the person who is constantly warring must be waged with grit, grime and grease, is woefully apt to be the most ill-lighted apartment in the house. Many attentions have been given to move the sink and these so placed upon the same side as to but partially light the room. The sink is peculiarly unfortunate in this respect; the best economy of time and labor requires it to be placed near the range, often in a corner at some distance from either window, where the kitchen maid must stand with her hands and their occupation in needless shadow.

Small wonder that the work is neither clean nor accurate, and that the possibility can be seen how it is being done. Forethought by the architect, supplemented by common sense judiciously applied to the builder would remedy the fault, in ninety-nine per cent. of such houses. The tribe of builders seems to have a hereditary antipathy to windows, as they have to construct a window, they are flooded with day and hidden intricacies of grease and rubbish will be routed, the army of predatory insects and vermin will vanish before the "light" conjury and sweetness reign with light.

The modern fashion of plumbing, that requires all the work to be in open view, has been most successful in overcoming the worst dangers in our sewerage system; how long before common sense and science will combine to apply the same remedy to the kitchen sink, occasionally is a voice raised in protest against the clouds of dirt in which we move, and with difficulty breathe and have our being.

In the ordinary boarded floor the space between the joists becomes an unseen cavern, for the section of dust in its most objectionable form, while the crevices between the boards receive layer after layer of dirty soil; and water, by again dried, pulverized by the constant treading of feet and redistributed through the air of the kitchen, falling upon the food as it is prepared for the table, and sweet air currents of warm air through the whole house to be breathed.

WRITER STEVENSON'S PRAYER.

This Patriotic Composition Was the Last He Wrote.

Here is a touching prayer written or composed by Robert Louis Stevenson and read to his family the night before he died. It is reproduced from the British Weekly:

We beseech Thee, Lord, to behold us men, gathered in our homes, in the peace of this roof; weak men and women, subsisting under the cover of Thy merciful and patient still; suffer us as yet a while longer to live, broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of Thy grace, as yet a white light, with broken promises of good, with our idle endeavors against evil; suffer us a while longer to endure, and give us may help us to do better. Bless us with Thy extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be our friends; be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any wake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns to our sun and comfort, call us with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if sometimes by the reception of