

Somewhere under the snow, you stupid idiots, there's a yellow line. Use your freaking brains and imagine where it is.

Just because you have a stupid piece of shit truck, it doesn't mean that you have the right to take up to parking spots, goddammit!

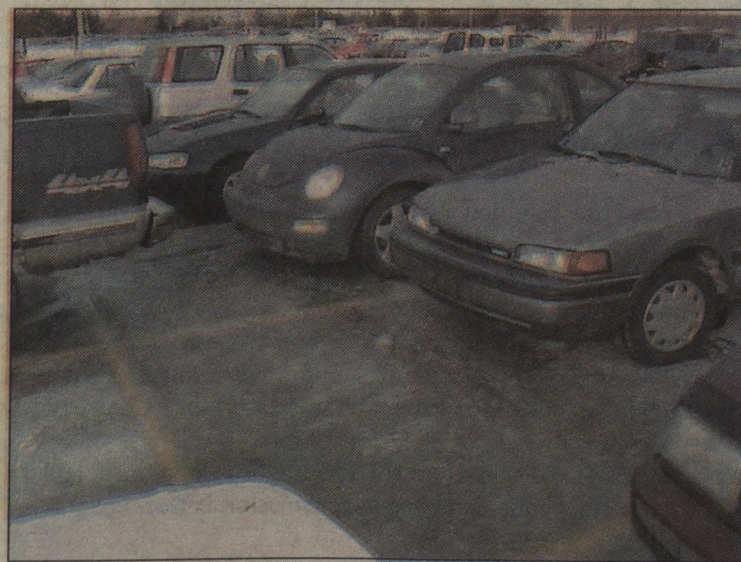

If you're going to block a roadway to invent your own parking space, at least try to park in a straight line, you idiots.

Holy Crap! Does Anybody Know How to Park Anymore?
