World Day Of Prayer Service Held At Montague

The annual world day of prayer for women was held in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Montague, Friday afternoon. The theme "One Flock, One Shepherd" was adapted from one prepared by Indian American workers at Cook Christian Training School in Arizona, and sponsored by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Mrs. D. A. Campbell, president of the Presbyterian W. M. S., presided and assisting her were Mrs. Spencer Llewellyn, Baptist Church, and Mrs. J. M. Fraser, United Church. Mrs. Leon Johnston, United Church and Mrs. A. D. MacLure, Presbyterian Church, led in the prayers. Mrs. Elsie Watterworth and Miss Clemmie MacLean were organ accompanists and special music included a vocal solo "Home, Sweet Home" by Mrs. Cecil French and a duet "Only A Touch of Thy Hand, Dear Lord" rendered by Mrs. J. D. MacLeod and Mrs. L. A. Johnston.

The speaker, Mrs. A. M. Rogerson of the Baptist Church, spoke on the theme "One Flock, One Shepherd" using for her text John 17:16. Christ's discourse concerning himself as the door of the sheepfold and the shepherd of the sheep. The congregational hymns were "O For A Thousand Tongues to Sing", "Dar Lord And Father of Mankind" and "The Day Thou Gavest Lord is Ended".

The service closed with the benediction pronounced by Mrs. Campbell.

Record For Open Water
The above photo shows the Montague River basin above the bridge in which through its whole expanse may be seen open water. This is the first year that such a condition has existed at this time of the year, and is an indication that, although the winter has brought plenty of snow, there has been a notable absence of heavy frost.

At the time the picture was taken the open water was populated by a great number of wild ducks, some black, but the greater number, were mallards, a fish eating species. Every evening these ducks may be seen flying to this open water rendezvous, and their gutteral whining cry may be heard for some distance.

It is also worthy of note that the Georgetown harbour is open to the wharves which will once again indicate that this is an ideal winter port, and one which should be used far more extensively than at present.

Dwelling Near Georgetown Is Destroyed

The one storey frame dwelling house of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King situated at Burnt Point, about a half mile east of Georgetown, was completely destroyed by fire between 7.15 and 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The fire was first noticed by Mr. William S. Martell, Burnt Point resident who was passing on his way to Georgetown. He aroused Mr. Albert King, who lives a few yards from the home of his son, Charles. Entry could not be made in the burning structure due to dense smoke and heat. Mr. and Mrs. King and family had left home shortly before the fire broke out to travel to Montague on the 7 o'clock train.

All the contents of the house were also destroyed. It is understood that the loss was partly covered by insurance.

New Regulations Governing Mesh Sizes In Trawler Nets

OTTAWA - Regulations governing mesh sizes in nets used by Canadian fishing trawlers and draggers in certain areas of the Northwest Atlantic will go into effect on January 1, 1957. The new mesh sizes are designed to conserve stocks of cod and haddock.

The Department of Fisheries has announced in Ottawa that the new regulations, recommended by the International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries, will be similar to those in effect since June, 1953, for the Georges Bank area off the New England coast, known as Sub area 5. The Sub areas to be affected next year are numbers 3 and 4. Number 3 takes in the Newfoundland fishing banks and waters adjacent to that province, and number 4 covers Nova Scotia waters, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy.

Because scientific investigation has shown that the stocks of fish in each of the sub-areas are distinct and separate, and that there is a slower growth rate in sub area 3, different minimum mesh sizes are specified for sub areas 3 and 4. The mesh size in sub area 4 is to be a minimum of 4 1/2 inches, similar to that already in effect in sub area 5, but in Sub-area 3 and 4 inch mesh size will be permitted. The nets affected are those used by all types and sizes of trawlers and draggers fishing for cod and haddock.

To prevent the impairment of fishery operations conducted primarily for species other than cod and haddock, the new regulations will permit the use of smaller mesh nets by vessels fishing for these other species. However, such vessels may have in possession on board only specified amounts of cod and haddock caught incidentally in the smaller meshed nets.

Experiments in some years have demonstrated that the larger mesh sizes release as much as half the haddock now wasted at sea, with negligible loss of fish of marketable size.
