LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Scott Act.

SIR,—During the last few months, the Scott Act has been assailed through the press by a host of writers who, judging them from their writings, are either rumsellers or sympathizers of those outlaws who carry on an illicit traffic in liquor poison. A great number of those sham temperance writers endeavor to prove that there is more liquor drunk now than previous to the introduction of the Scott Act.
Now, these men are merely writing bosh and nonsense, and are, I believe, working in the interest of the rum-sellers. That the Scott Act has crippled the liquor traffic to a great extent cannot be denied by any person who will give the matter the least consideration. I admit that as yet it has not been as successful in stamping out the accursed traffic, as many people expected it would be. But it is the people, and not the Act, that is to blame for this; for the Act, if enforced, would stamp out every disreputable den in the country. How is it that it does not do it? There are many reasons, a few of which I will give. In the first place, we all know that the rowdy element everywhere go hand in hand with shanty keepers. In the second place a great number of respectable people show a great deal of sympathy for them, and it is this sympathy which enables them in a great measure to defy the Scott Act. We read of Jesse James, the notorious mur-derer and outlaw, and wonder how it was possible for him to roam the Western States for years in defiance of the United States law officers, but we may now cease wondering at it, for it was the same insane sympathy which we show the man who daily breaks an Act of Parliament which has been declared constitutional by the highest authority in the kingdom, that enabled James to scoff at the law of his country. I will now give a third and last reason, and one which is, in my opinion, the most fatal of all to the Act, that is the treatment accorded the Inspectors, who are appointed by the Government or by the Dominion Alliance. Instead of our people considering it as they most certainly should—a noble and Christian work—they consider it a degradation; and while the poor Inspectors are hooted and threatened with bodily injury by rowdies—who are capable of committing any act of violence, if their masters (the rum-sellers) will give them a free drink now and again—in one place, they are in the next met by the sneers and contempt of a large number of people who consider themselves respectable. These are a few and only a few of the reasons why the Scott Act is not doing the work that was expected of it. Now comes the "fair trial racket." We almost daily read that "the Scott Act has been given a fair trial and has proved a failure, a legal abortion, &c." All this sounds very plausible, but it lacks the essential element. I defy any one of these writers to name one village town or township on this Island where the Act received a fair trial that it has not done good in.
I for one know several places where it has done great good, and where, if it had been given a fair show, it would have stamped the liquor traffic out of existence. If the people of this Island really want to see the traffic in strong drink receive its death blow, they must show no sympathy to those who retail alcoholic poison; let them treat the Inspector as their friend, as he really is, and assist him by every means in their power in the philanthropic work which he has in hand. Fathers in particular should not be backward in giving a few dollars to assist in enforcing the law. It will be money well invested. A few dollars so spent may contribute in no small degree to save some of them (fathers) from the sorrow and humiliation of witnessing the pecuniary, physical and moral destruction of their sons.
In conclusion I would ask all law-abiding people to give the Act a fair trial—what up to this time it never has received—and if they do so, it will in a year or so have triumphed over all difficulties, it will have wiped out the miserable dens which, even yet, thrive in some localities, and we shall then enjoy one of the greatest blessings under heaven—temperance.
C. A. 52.

Personal.

A printer can feel first-rate and still be all out of sorts.
Helen of Troy was the first woman who wanted to go to Paris and leave her husband at home.
When a woman wants to be pretty she bangs her hair, and when she wants to be ugly she bangs the door.
Mr. Emerson very kindly and characteristically says that a weed is a plant whose qualities have not yet been discovered.
Gave Norden, a young swede who suicided in the Switzerland Church, at Englewood, Ill., on the 3rd, is reported to have been an illegitimate son of King Oscar of Sweden.
The Halifax Mail publishes a sketch of the life of Mr. J. E. B. McCready, editor of the Transcript, and announces that he has been appointed editor of the St. John Telegraph.
Seven Englishmen were killed by the earthquake on the Island of Iechia. It has been ascertained that Miss Vanallen, mentioned among those injured by the disaster, is a resident of San Francisco.
Mr. W. C. Van Horne, general manager of the Canadian Pacific railway, says that the line will be completed to Calgary this week, and that the summit of the Rocky mountains will be reached some time in November. The whole line will be completed within two years.
Some people assert that what will believe only what they can see. What is clearly demonstrable they will accept, but nothing else. These very people, however, believe with all their might that they have brains, and yet they never saw them, and other folks at any rate have no evidence that they possess them.
If you want to drive your business,
And have any love for fame, Never spare the ink and paper.
Let the people see your name.
Energy's the life of business, Industry will always pay;
Never rest, but always labor, Advertise from day to day.
Speaking of Sir John Macdonald the New York Herald says:—"Few men have shown greater aptitude for the management of men in a political capacity than the present Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada.
During a long public career and amid many political storms and tempests he has been the foremost man in Canada.
Centuries upon centuries ago, while yet the world was in its "salad days," the true relation between man and woman was recognized. These two quaint lines contain the history of domestic life from the beginning, and they are not likely to be proven false by the future:— As the good man saith, so say we;
As the good woman saith, so must it be No English fortunes have ever been accumulated by individuals in England equal to those of Stewart and Vanderbilt. The largest personal was that of Mr. Brassey, the great railway contractor, $30,000,000.
The next largest was that of Mr. Morrison, dry goods, $20,000,000, with real estate equal to some $2,500,000 more. The Duke of Westminster's realty can fall little short of $100,000,000, but his father only left $4,000,000 personally, and this includes a famous collection of pictures.

Current Clippings.

How are the mighty fallen! The Great Eastern is to be converted into a collier.
One hundred and eighty houses have been destroyed by fire in the town of Semenor, in the government of Nizhne, Russia.
A new worsted factory is being established in New Brunswick with a capital of $100,000. The money will come largely from England.
The London Standard's correspondent at Hong Kong says the success of the recent sortie of the French in Tonquin was due to the fact that half of the garrison was secretly conveyed in junk.
There were 887 deaths from cholera in Egypt last week, including 273 at Cairo, where three deaths occurred among the British troops. Twelve English doctors have arrived at Alexandria, en route to Cairo.
British Columbia is experiencing the advantages of the protective tariff. In Victoria an extensive iron works with a capital of $300,000 has been opened. A variety of other industries have been entered into, and now a sugar refinery is projected.
The telegraphers' strike will form the subject of an investigation at the hands of the United States Senate committee on education and labor, which is to resume its session in New York, and will devote its attention to an inquiry into the relations between capital and labor.

REPLY

To Messrs. Murdoch Doherty, John A.
Beaton, Angus MacQueen, Peter E. Campbell.
I thank you for the sentiments of respect and esteem expressed in your address.
Your recommendation of me as a teacher was altogether unexpected, notwithstanding the fact that you had so frequently encouraged me by expressing your satisfaction with my humble efforts.
I will always look back with pleasure on the time spent among you, and had circumstances permitted, it would afford me great pleasure to remain with you for a longer period.
That your school may always prosper and prove a blessing to you, and that when our labors here are ended, we may be re-united in that land that knows no parting, is the humble prayer of
Your Sincere Friend,
MARY J. ROSS.
Flat River, July, 1883.

Address.

To Miss Mary E. Ross, Teacher.
We the Trustees of Victoria Cross School, No. 55, in view of the resignation of your charge as Teacher of this School, desire that you should bear with you expressions of our respect and esteem. Having come to us highly recommended as a teacher by men of superior learning and exalted reputation, we heartily endorse these recommendations. We greatly regret that your connection with us should have so early a termination, but knowing that circumstances beyond our control have changed the current of events, we therefore patiently submit.
May health and happiness be your attendants amid the onerous duties of your vocation, and when you resign the cares and labors of this life, may the blessedness of Life eternal be your happy portion, is our earnest desire and humble prayer.
MURDOCH DOHERTY,
JOHN A. BEATON,
ANGUS MACQUEEN,
P. E. CAMPBELL, Sec'y.

To Messrs. Murdoch Doherty, John A.
bell.
I thank you for the sentiments of respect
and esteem expressed in your address.
Your recommendation of me as a teacher
couraged me by expressing your satisfaction with my humble efforts.
stances permitted, it would afford me great
period.
in that land that knows no parting, is the
humble prayer of
Your Sincere Friend,
MARY J. ROSS.
Flat River, July, 1883.
