Terrycloth makes excellent kitchen towels, especially for glassware and silver, because it will absorb water in a hurry.

A roast meat thermometer is a valuable cooking aid especially for ham and pork.

Inserted into the center of the meat before cooking, it should register at least 160 degs for non-precooked ham and 130 degs for precooked pork.

Steele - MacKay Wedding Is Held In Charlottetown

Holy Redeemer Church was the scene of a quiet wedding this spring when Jean Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James MacKay of Clinton, was united in the holy sacrament of matrimony with Paul Frederick eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Steele of Charlottetown. Reverend William Allan performed and celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a walk length gown of ice blue, silk organza with matching mitts and head-dress and carried a nosegay of white and blue feathered carnations.

Mrs. Fred Pidgeon of Pictou, N.S., cousin of the groom was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink net and lace over taffeta with matching head-dress and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Little Miss Barbara MacKay, sister of the bride, looking very winsome in yellow nylon with a bandeau of tiny flowers in her hair, acted as flower girl. She carried a basket of mixed flowers.

The groom was supported by his brother Merrill and Mr. Roger MacKay and Mr. Donne Taylor ushered the guests.

Miss Elaine MacDonald rendered several beautiful solos during the Mass accompanied by Mr. Alex MacLean, organist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. MacKay chose a two piece dress of navy crepe with white accessories and fur neck piece. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a charcoal dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Queen Hotel for the family and close friends of the bride and groom.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Allan and was responded to by the groom. Among the messages of congratulations was one from the groom's sister, Miss Anne Steele, R.N., of Lethbridge, Alberta.

Following the reception the young couple left on a motor trip through the Maritimes. For travelling the bride wore a light green suit with matching topcoat and accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Previous to her marriage the bride was guest of honour at a

ELLEN'S DIARY

New Move At Alderlea-- Venerable Potato Gone

This year, we believe for the first time in its long history, no potatoes were planted on this Island farm. We must trust to Rob's generosity and the patch he is growing to supply the requirements of our tables.

So we have missed from among the season's chores, and with some regret the set-cutting which to us was always an interesting item of our spring. Missed too, it came to mind since many of them are now no more, those who once came by, with a treasured knife to lend us assistance at the work.

Less commercial than in its outlook it was no pay-by-the-day undertaking then but purely a gesture of helpfulness at a quite pleasant and peaceful chore. It gave us an opportunity to visit together and chat, as we invariably liked to do at any of our farm-work.

If the conversation sometimes became so absorbing as to halt momentarily the cutting, what matter now? In many instances we alone remain with the memories—to remember with a chuckle some amusing incident, to suspend a breath over some bit of current gossip, to sign over some disaster or bereavement suffered in the countryside we knew.

And always in memory we can see the sunlight and shadows of that building that was the coach-house of old, where in those younger days was centred the scene of it all.

The planting too was a happy time in those early years at Alderlea, when to plant, one dropped the seed in the deep furrow left in the wake of the single plow, catching a minute to rest a little girl but even then as she laughingly said she had learned to ask for her food in the Korean language.

Dr. Found is now practising medicine in Toronto. They all enjoy that city but also they had been very fond of the Orient. Another visit is contemplated to Prince Edward Island in eighteen months time. In the meantime, Miss Elaine Found will visit Grand Manan Island this summer and the southern parts of Nova Scotia. She will be there a month part of which time will be spent at a convention.

That is all very good but of course it is not "The Island". So it is hoped that beautiful Prince Edward Island will again be visited by the delightful Elaine Found of the Dairy Service Foods Bureau of Toronto, Canada.

With all that is entailed with a heavy job Miss Found skates frequently at the University Club. This skating consists of dancing on skates, ballet, tango, waltzing, etc.

Miss Found spoke especially of the beautiful trees in Charlottetown and was busily taking pictures. Dr. and Mrs. Found and their daughter, Mary were planning to drive this charming visitor to further points of interest. Apparently there is a family connection between the Founds of Ontario and the Founds of this province.

During much of interest that was discussed during a call at a newspaper office the highlight of the conversation probably was the fact that Miss Found was born in Korea. Her father was a medical missionary in that country. The Founds returned to Toronto in 1935 when Elaine was aged 15 months and gave birth to a lovely boy.

You never saw such delight in a mother enjoying every new thing he did, and talking of planning a future of four children, but devoting deep poise in guiding her household. .M.H.

AILING PRINCESS

LONDON (CP) — The Princess Royal has been ordered to rest from official engagements for two months. The 61-year-old Princess Mary, dowager Countess of Harewood and aunt of Queen Elizabeth, is suffering from over-strain following an attack of influenza last winter.

The constitutional vigor of children, their innate capacity to survive, depends in large measure upon the mother's condition of health in bearing them. Thus it is not a hallmark of love—either of wife or children—for a man to sire a swift procession of children against the mother's wishes, when her whole being cries for reasonable spacing to permit intervals of rest and restoration.

Rather it is carnal selfishness—crudely revealed as such, when a man argues that the alternative is to turn to other women.

The man's decent alternative in those circumstances is to educate himself in the moral responsibilities of married life. And in the event that Alice and her husband are Catholic, I call their attention to Father John Ryan's booklet: "Family Limitation," (price 50 cents), published in 1956 by Sheed and Ward, New York City—with the imprimatur of the Archbishop of Boston.

ADDRESS FROM POPE

The booklet contains an introductory excerpt from an address given by Pope Pius XII in November, 1951, to a Congress of Catholic Midwives, which says in part: "In our last allocution on conjugal morality we affirmed the lawfulness and at the same time the limits—in truth very wide—of a regulation of offspring, which, unlike so-called 'birth control,' is compatible with the law of God."

SUMMER SUIT

BY ALICE ALDEN. In the hands of a skilled dress designer, a summer suit of silk print can be a triumph of beauty and usefulness. A fine example is this town outfit from Elizabeth Arden. The smartly cut suit is of navy leaf print on white silk. The tailored overblouse is of navy silk with pearl buttons. The loose-fitting jacket, which uses the blouse collar as an over-collar, is caught at the top with one flat mother-of-pearl button.

The Island Has Another Charming Summer Visitor

Another example of a hand-picked person for a job has been visiting the province Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Elaine Found came as the representative of the Dairy Foods Service Bureau, a division of Dairy Farmers of Canada.

Miss Found is a graduate of the University of Toronto in Household Economics. She has been with the organization for five years.

It is very easy to look at and to listen to Miss Found. She is tall, slender, dark-haired, and brown eyed, hair in a modified and most attractive version of the pony-tail.

She was wearing a black and white full-skirted summer cotton fabric dress, pointed patent shoes short white gloves, black patent bag and the gayest little beret perched upon her erectly held head.

Miss Found has great composure but her quick intelligent brown eyes are ever ready and ever quick to smile. She was having a lovely time calling on people and motoring. — in fact she said she was having a wonderful welcome to the province.

At noon Miss Found had been the guest of the Holstein-Fries-sian Club at Milton's Old Spain. The Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. Eugene Cullen was present. Miss Found also met Mr. John Simmonds of Central Crameries. In Summerside she was meeting Mr. Jack Wright, manager of Amalgamated Dairies, and Mr. Amos Hubley, manager of Perfection.

With all that is entailed with a heavy job Miss Found skates frequently at the University Club. This skating consists of dancing on skates, ballet, tango, waltzing, etc.
