INFORMATION FOR THE TAXPAYERS.

In the course of a few weeks the tax-gatherer will be on the rounds. Money must be gathered in in order that the Peters' Government may be sustained in its extravagance and corruption. What took place last year will help to show the taxpayers how the money goes. Take the County of King's as a sample. From the annual report of the Department of Public Works for the year 1893, we find that there was paid for right of way the following amounts:

For road from Narrow's Creek to Montreal, David Christian got $30.

For new road at Bayfield, Lot 46, Joseph McAulay and Joseph McEachern got $25 each.

For new road Northside, district No. 4, Allan Gillis got $27.50.

For road from Greenwich or Cable Head to North Shore, $55 were paid to Ezekial Duke and $35 to Duncan McLaren.

For road at Lot 45, Matthias McPhee was paid $30 and Hugh McNeill $35, for road from main post road. Chepstow, to St. Catherine's Road, Lot 45.

For road at Chepstow, Lot 45, from main post road to the shore, Alexander McDonald and Ronald McAulay got $47 each.

For road from main Post Road. Chepstow, to St. Catherine's Road, Lot 45, Jas. Nolan got $70.

For right-of-way through land at Lakeville, Lot 47, Duncan McInnis and Patrick McInnis got $60 each.

For Souris Line Road, Donald H. McLean got $100.

For Road to North Shore, Lot 42, Angus D. McKinnon got $30.

For road from the Selkirk Road to the Hermitage Road, Lot 43, John V. McDonald got $17.

For road, Lot 38, King's County, John Dunphy got $35.

For road from Main Street, Souris, to the shore of Colville Bay, trustees of estate of John Knight got $150.

For a road from the main post road, Lot 45, King's County, Gabriel McDonald got $122.75.

For a road from main post road, Chepstow, to St. Catherine's Road, Lot 45, William Granahan got $35.

For road from main post road to the New Harmony Road, Lot 45, Allan and John McDonald got $30, Peter McDonald $30, and Joseph McDonald $75.

For road past Trotting Park at Souris, Daniel McLean got $82, James J. Hughes $9.19, and (Simon (Michael) Cheverie $112.56.

For road from main post road, Naufrage, to the shore, Lot 43, Alfred McCormack and Joseph Manning got $40 each.

For road from main post road to the New Harmony Road, Lot 45, James McAulay got $75.

For road at Acadia Mills, Lot 52, King's County, Donald McDonald got $210.

For Ferguson's Road, Lot 38, James Gillan and John Gillan got $35 each.

Every new road in the above list was opened to accommodate private individuals and to put money into the pockets of political favorites. Payments in the matter of right of way were made on roads that have been in use as public highways for the last forty years. This is how the money has gone that has now to be made up by heavy and unjust taxation.

LEGISLATORS AND LABOR.

"HARPERS WEEKLY" maintains with a good reason that the legislators of the United States are dominated to a large extent by the organized labor unions of the States, and says:

"Out of this condition of things harm is likely to come. The strike has already stimulated the desire of politicians to frame laws that will be pleasing to labor. Mr. Springer has prepared a scheme for the establishment of a permanent board of arbitrators, and the President has been obliged, under an existing law which bears the name of one of the most notorious demagogues who ever sat in Congress, to appoint a commission to examine into and report on the Pullman strike. Crude laws that will be inoperative except for mischief may be the outcome of this strike that will do more harm to the country and to the working-men themselves than the sudden and short-lived violence that accompanied the strike itself.

"Arbitration and other laws are already on statute-books of the States that accomplished no good purpose, and that are part of those eternal discredits to legislation, the laws that cannot be enforced. Conspiracy laws have been passed for the benefit of labor that are effective against labor. The Federal anti-trust law itself, framed as it was for the avowed purpose of preventing combinations in restraint of trade, has been invoked for the purpose of preventing a boy-cott. It seems to be beyond the wit of legislators to devise a law that will force men to an unwilling agreement, and that is precisely what compulsory abritration means. Moreover, it is an essential injury to working-men that their individuality should be destroyed, and that the laws should assume them to be a helpless mass composed of men who cannot fight their own battles, who cannot compete in the general struggle of life, but must be cared for and coddled until then come to depend upon the state as paupers do. There is nothing so damaging, not only to working-men, but to all humanity as the communistic hostility to individuality embodied in much of our labor legislation and in most of the demands of labor socialists. We have laws that provide that men shall keep their agreements, and we have courts to enforce these laws. We do not want laws that will compel either working-men or their employers to enter into what they consider to be unfair agreements.

"Such laws, if they cannot be enforced, inspire contempt for all law and for the courts of justice, which is the most dangerous state of the public mind in a popular government. If they can be enforced, they are likely to injure the working-men as well as their employers, for they transfer the controversy from those who are parties to it and who understand its merit to a group of politicians who are more than likely to decide in favor of the side with the most votes, without regard to justice or equity."

There is, we need not add, a great deal of force in this argument.

A herd of twenty-five thoroughbred Jerseys at Floyd, New York, has been tested with tuberculin, found to be infected with tuberculosis and slaughtered. Such an item is reported almost weekly from New York, the only difference being as to the location and the number in the herd. A holder of fine cattle has, it would appear, a very risky property to count on.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND is the banner province of Canada in respect to freedom from crime. The statistics show that the convictions in 1893 amounted to only 2.20 per 10,000 of its inhabitants, against 3.76 in New Brunswick, 4.40 in Nova Scotia, 9.06 in Quebec; 9.18 in Manitoba; 10.75 in Ontario; 12.64 in the Territories and 26.11 in British Columbia. It is very pleasing to note that P. E. Island is at the head of this list. But it is to be regretted that, while a decrease of crime in this Province is shown, there has been considerable increase over Canada as a whole. The average of convictions for crimes committed throughout Canada last year was 9·36 per 10.000 of the population, against 8.23 in the previous year.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—We are indebted to William Bryce, the publisher, Toronto, for a copy of the Canadian tariff as readjusted during the late session of Parliament. Our importers and men of business will find it to be of great value.

—Sixteen persons left Charlottetown this morning for the Grit picnic, and one dropped off at the Junction. No one left Tignish, though it was not then or there known that Longley had not come. A few of the grits of the district were on the grounds; but they were not half as warm as the weather.

—The Market Committee will earn the gratitude of the good ladies who supply us with butter, cheese, and other necessaries, if they provide for the better ventilation of the upper market hall. If the upper sashes of the windows were drawn down, living and selling in the upper market hall would be much more endurable than it is.

AT THE BUTTS.

The rifle match between teams from the Partridge and local militia, shot at Kensington range yesterday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the home team. The wind was unsteady throughout the meeting. The ranges were 200, 500 and 600 yards; seven shots at each range. Lieut. Stewart led the home team with the highly creditable score of 92 points, with Major Longworth only two points behind. The scores:

BENEVOLENT IRISH SOCIETY PICNIC.

About 2000 People Present.

O'Connell's Day Fittingly Observed.

THE picnic held yesterday at Scotchfort, under the aupices of the Benevolent Irish Society, was, as we anticipated, one of the best and most enjoyable gatherings of the season. The train from this city brought about five hundred people, and when met at Royalty Junction by the special from Summerside, the crowd on board was not less than six hundred. The regulars from Souris and Georgetown had also a large number of pleasure seekers and hundreds assembled by carriage from the surrounding country. On arrival of the train from Charlottetown the three branches of the B. I. S. formed in procession, headed by Galbraith's Band, and paraded to the band stand, where the branches were welcomed by the President of the Charlottetown Society. By this time all the saloons were in full swing, and in a short time the sports commenced.

The saloons were well got up and abundantly supplied with excellent refreshments, which were sold at moderate prices, and afforded great satisfaction to patrons.

The gathering was large, respectable-looking and well behaved. No intoxicants were sold on or near the grounds, and the best of order prevailed.

His Honor Lieutenant Governor Howlan was present and with friends occupied a stand erected in front of the ring for his use.

The games opened at 11.30 and continued until 5 o'clock. Great interest was taken in the sports. Mr. P. F. Doyle acted efficiently as secretary of the ring, and the committee and judges discharged their duties in a highly satisfactory manner. The prizes as awarded and the successful competitors are as follows:

The Sister Societies from Emerald and Souris turned out in nearly full force, and in their new regalias looked remarkably well. On the whole the celebration was highly creditable to the Benevolent Irish Society, and the Irish in general, and returns of the celebration of O'Connell's Day will be eagerly looked forward to as years roll on. The committee desire to express thanks to the public, and especially those who assisted so ably in carrying out the programme.
