Abegweit Chapter I.O.D.E. Closing Meeting Held

The Regent, Miss Wanda Wyatt, presided over the closing meeting of the Abegweit Chapter, I.O.D.E. of the season on Thursday afternoon in the R.C.A.F. Association Wing Room, Smallman Building, Summerside.

A letter of appreciation was read for the contribution of $50 which had been sent recently to the British and European Relief Fund. It was decided to change the date of the pantry sale.

It was moved that the local Chapter donate two prizes to Household Economics Class for sewing. The Educational Secretary, Mrs. William E. Forbes, reported that the prizes of books for Grades X, XI and XII had been purchased. She was authorized to order the new Year Books for the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The Regent requested a letter to be sent to Mr. Clarence Mercer, school supervisor, asking him to congratulate the teachers on the splendid Empire Day program, when the three classes of Grade VI presented the pageant "Canada" in the High School Auditorium. The post war convener, Mrs. Leslie Simmons, reported that a box of used clothing will be shipped overseas within the next two weeks.

The secretary was asked to write a letter of thanks to Mr. G. Mulholland for the use of the Wing Room for the meeting. SUDBURY, Suffolk, England (CP)—Police had a busy day here. First, with a loud speaker they issued a warning that children had stolen biscuits containing rat poison. Later they announced dynamite sticks had been stolen—again by children—from a local contractor.

"IT HAPPENS EVERY SPRING", BIG HIT: "It Happens Every Spring" is just the title. We aren't that fortunate, though, for you have to go back a few years to find a film as gay and as carefree as this Twentieth Century-Fox comedy in the tradition of "Miracle on 34th Street."

Ray Milland is at his best in a role that will delight every man and boy who ever dreamed of curving his "double-shoot" or hurling that high hard one past base-baller's row! And his love scenes with Jean Peters will make a man out of every young boy and a young boy out of every old man! Paul Douglas as the rowdy baseball catcher pitches some of the sweetest lines that have come this way in a long time. He's right in his element in this part...his career representing something of a triple-play in itself. He stepped right from the ball field to radio to the stage to the screen...where, logically enough, they put him right back on the ball field.

Lead Roles Perfect: The playing of the lead roles is well high perfect. The novel story has a handsome chemistry instructor, Ray Milland, accidentally discover a formula that makes leather avoid wood (like a ball avoiding a bat, get it?). He becomes a star pitcher for the St. Louis nine to make enough money to marry his sweetheart, and in the process provides capital entertainment.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the minister, Rev. Donald MacKay, and the wedding music was under the direction of the organist, Mrs. Cleve Whelan. Spring flowers and apple blossoms were the floral decorations used in the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with high neckline, fitted sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt with train. Her finger tip veil fell from a beaded tara and she carried a shower bouquet of Better Time roses.

Miss Marion MacDonald as bridesmaid, was gowned in ice blue taffeta with matching headress and she carried a bouquet of Queen Elizabeth yellow roses. Little Claudia Brooks as flower girl was winsome in her gown of flower pink taffeta with a bandeau of flowers as headress. She carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Mrs. MacKay chose for her daughter's wedding a suit of light grey with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception for forty guests was held at Birch Hill Tourist Lodge where the bride's table, with its artistic arrangement of mixed flowers and lighted tapers, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride and groom left by plane to spend their honeymoon in Winnipeg, the bride travelling in a suit of navy gabardine with white and navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations. They will reside in Goose Bay, Labrador, where the groom is a corporal with the R.C.A.F.

Prior to her marriage the bride was on the staff of the Summerside branch of the Island Telephone Company and was guest of honor at a number of miscellaneous showers.
