PROWSE BROS

SELL more clothing than all the other stores put together in Charlottetown.

We give you the reasons why they do the business.

1st.—They keep good honest Goods.

2nd.—They keep the largest assortment of Men's, Boys', and Children's Clothing on P. E. Island.

3rd.—They treat their customers in the most liberal way, always unselfish

4th.—When they advertise goods at a price they sell at that price ever time.

5th.—They have the heart to sell cheap and do it.

6th.—They make a specialty of clothing and are always hunting the market for bargains in that line for their customers.

7th.—They are determined to have the confidence of the public and when they say a thing they mean it.

8th.—They keep the best, every garment guaranteed to be as represented or money refunded.

9th.—Their motto: small profits and quick returns.

10th.—They pay cash.

11th.—And last they wish to say they think they know their business fairly well. Some of their competitors have on several occasions said they did not know anything about the clothing business.

We admit if practising sharp tricks on customers is knowing the clothing business they don't want to know it. They don't believe the people of P. E. Island want any man who has been taught by a Jew, to cast an insult in their faces, and say they know nothing. We say the Island boys are able to hold their own wherever they go, and nearly always do credit to our Island home. They always show their good sense and judgment when they buy their clothing at

A Teaspoonful OF ESTEY'S EMULSION

Contains more curative properties than can be found in four times the same quantity of any other Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

The day has gone by when you can get people to take the nauseous doses that used to be given. In taking Estey's Emulsion you don't taste the Cod Liver Oil in it. Still it is there, half of it being Cod Liver Oil, but the taste of the oil is gone; that is all, everything else remains, don't forget that.

3000 Lives Lost!

Mercier's Bank Account Before the Commission.

The Leadership of the Liberals.

Hyman Demands His Seat—The Treaty Signed—Cardinal Taschereau Robbed—The Discharged Railway Men.

[SPECIAL TO THE GUARDIAN.]

MONTEAL, Feb. 29.—Mercier's bank account was examined today by the Royal Commission. The entries were principally of money contributed by contractors for election expenses of the Mercier party.

Liberals Elected by Acclamation.

QUEBEC, Feb. 29.—Fitzpatrick and Sheyn, liberals, will be elected by acclamation to-morrow.

3000 Lives Lost.

OPORTO, Feb. 29.—At least 3000 lives were lost by the terrific storm of Saturday. The victims were mostly fishermen.

Fever in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Thirteen new cases of typhus fever have developed in this city within the last twenty-four hours.

The Discharged Railway Men.

MONTEAL, Feb. 29.—An Ottawa despatch says the order discharging the railway employees has been suspended for the present.

Hyman After the Seat.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—Hyman is here to be sworn in as a member of parliament. He says the returning officers should declare him elected by 16 of a majority.

Treaty Signed.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—The Washington Arbitration treaty of Behring Sea fisheries troubles was signed today. It is still subject to action of parliament and the United States Senate.

All Serene at Berlin.

BERLIN, Feb. 29.—The Emperor, accompanied by his family, took his usual drive yesterday. The city has been quiet since Saturday, and no further troubles are anticipated.

Stole a Cardinal's Plate.

QUEBEC, Feb. 29.—Louis Pare was arrested today charged with burglarizing Cardinal Taschereau's palace. A large quantity of stolen silverware, including a silver presentation service, was found in the prisoner's possession. Pare was formerly an attache of the palace.

Liberals Lose Another Seat.

QUEBEC, Feb. 29.—The return of Mr. Girouard, conservative, for Two Mountains, by the large majority of 430 votes, caused great surprise here among the Liberals, and broods no good for Mercier. Mr. Daoust, the late representative, who was a liberal, took the seat at the general election by 237.

The Liberal Leadership.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—It is generally understood that Mr. Laurier has given the Liberal party to understand that it will throw no objection in the way of their choosing a new leader. The anti-French feeling is growing stronger every day in Ontario, owing to Mercier's anti-Protector cry, and Mr. Laurier feels that he is imperiling the success of his party by remaining its leader. There is a strong call for Mowatt, but it is doubtful if he will leave a certainty for an uncertainty. It is said the party cannot agree on choosing for leader any of the present available material. Davies, of Prince Edward Island, seems to be the choice of a large wing of the Liberal party.

The Weather

PROBABILITIES FOR THE NEXT 24 HOURS. WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—1 p. m. Rain or snow in northerly portions; rising temperature, followed by decidedly colder weather; wind increasing in force, shifting to easterly and to colder westerly by Tuesday night.

Held up the Train.

DARING ATTEMPT TO ROB THE SPECIAL EXPRESS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The shooting of an express messenger on a Central Hudson train, the rifling of a valuable safe, the flight of the robber on the engine of another train, from which he drove the crew at the point of a revolver, a running fight from the engine cab for miles, chased by another engine filled with railway men, and the final capture of the desperado by a sheriff's posse in a swamp, after a wild pursuit across the country, are some of the sensational features of the most desperate attempt at train robbery in the history of the Central Hudson railway.

Train No. 31 on the Central Hudson is known as the American Express Company's special. It runs every day in the year between New York and Buffalo, and carries only goods and property shipped by that company.

Daniel McInerney of this city was in charge of the money car on the trip Saturday night. The train left Syracuse at 5 o'clock this morning, in charge of Conductor Emil Laas of this city.

While Conductor Laas was looking over his train just previous to its pulling out of Syracuse, he saw a man loitering near it, and he sharply scrutinized the face, as it was a new one around the depot to him, and as the agent turned around he found himself face to face with that same individual. He got into an engine, drove the engineer and fireman out, pulled the throttle wide open, and started.

The conductor at once took another engine, and, taking with him a switchman, who had in the meantime procured a double-barrelled shotgun, started in pursuit on another track. Near the canal bridge between Newark and Lyons the fugitive saw that the light engine would soon overtake the heavier one, so he stopped his engine, reversed it, and flew down the track to meet his pursuers. As he flew past he let go two shots through the window of the cab, while the switchman discharged one of the barrels of his gun at the swift-passing engine of the robber. The shots of neither pursuers nor pursued, however, took effect, and the conductor reversed his engine and backed after the fleeing fugitive.

Again the desperado reversed his engine and came toward those who were so hotly pursuing him. Again those in pursuit crouched in the bottom of the cab. Again the shots of the desperado man rang out, and, as before, the balls passed through the window of the cab and whistled harmlessly over the heads of those crouching at the bottom of it. On up the road the engine, bearing the daring desperado, flew, carrying him each moment farther away from his pursuers. At Blue Cut, about two and a half miles East of Newark, he deserted the engine, and ordered the switchman, stationed at the cut, at the point of his revolver, to take the engine back to Lyons, and the command was quickly obeyed.

The party on the express engine returned to Lyons, where the sheriff of Wayne county had organized a posse, which, under Deputy Sheriff Collins, started in pursuit. The runaway was sighted five miles south of Newark. After some parley he surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Collins. He gave the name of William Cross, said he was from New Mexico, and had been boarding in Syracuse for some time.

Catharine Jenkins, Relict of Donald Crockett, Esq.

The subject of this memoir, after a long and painful illness, quietly passed away into the spirit world on Sunday, Dec. 20, 1891, aged 72 years.

For upwards of two years her health was failing, but she patiently bore her confinement to the house; and missed very much the means of grace in public worship, and as a matter of course she therefore very much appreciated the visits of her pastor and any Christian friends who came to see her; and one always felt as if she prized as great privilege and pleasure the counsel given and prayers offered.

She was well stricken in years, and was a lover of God from her early years, and when she came to die she found the Lord had not forsaken her. So severe and distressing was her illness that she seemed at times to be distracted, but no sooner were the spasms passed, and often in the midst of the suffering, she would say: "Glory to God, there will be no pain at home in heaven. Glory to God, I have a hope, a blooming hope," and after two months patient endurance, the slow decay of the physical system, she fell asleep in Jesus, leaving her aged husband on the verge of the river and a sorrowing family to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother beloved of all who knew her, and loved most by those who knew her best. She often quoted the following beautiful stanza (by John Wesley, M. A.)

There is my house and portion fair, My treasure and my heart are there And my abiding home; For me my elder brethren stay, And angels bowken me away, And Jesus bids me come.

Temperance in King's County.

To the Editor of the Guardian.

Srs.—I see a paragraph in your last weekly issue enjoying brevity on your correspondents, therefore I shall in this be brief.

You have no doubt had a detailed account of the proceedings of the late Supreme Court at Georgetown ere this.

Never in my experience was such an impetus given to the Temperance cause in this County as by the manner in which the enforcement of the law was dealt with by the presiding judge, Mr. Justice Hodgson. The most noticeable was the eloquent change to the Grand Jury in which the duties of Grand Jurors were so clearly defined, that the most obtuse could not fail to understand and be impressed by a sense of his duty.

The judgments of the Magistrates in all the Scott Act cases appealed more confirmed with accts to appellants. The revelations made in the courts when these cases are being reviewed is sad to contemplate. When witnesses sworn to tell the truth will perjure themselves in order to screen the lawbreakers from just punishments.

It is a melancholy commentary upon the influence of the rum traffic, upon those who are engaged in it, and upon those who countenance and patronize the unlawful dens where it is vendued.

His Lordship earnestly enjoined upon the Sheriff the greatest care in selecting Grand Jurors, and petit jurors also, so that the spectacle of convicted rum sellers sitting on the Grand Inquest of the County will be avoided in future.

But what shall we say about the magistrates, sworn to uphold and enforce the laws of the country, some of whom are engaged in this nefarious business and others without compunction of conscience will patronize and aid their brother J. P.'s by countenancing their lawless traffic.

The matured opinion of your correspondent is that all such should step down and out of a position, the solemn obligations of which they so easily ignore.—Com Kings County, Feb. 26.

Got Stuck in the Ice

Some of the Prince Edward Island member and senators had a rather exciting experience on their way to Ottawa. They left Georgetown, P. E. I., on the Government steamer Stanley on Saturday evening, but when they reached the entrance to Pictou harbor the vessel became wedged in the ice, and despite the utmost endeavors could not be released. The passengers remained on board until early Monday morning, when rather than lose their train for the West, the Parliamentary delegation determined to foot it, and accordingly they walked ashore on the ice for about a mile. Of course it was impossible for them to secure their baggage under such circumstances. Grips were all that could be carried, and they arrived in Ottawa without their trunks, which will follow them. Luckily the weather was not cold and the travellers did not suffer from the inconvenience.—Moncton Times.

[What a pity the whole Parliament of Canada were not on the boat. They would have seen the need of the Tunnel.—Ed.]

The Starving Austrians.

VIENNA, Feb. 26.—The office of the Volks Presse to-day were again besieged by hungry people. A thousand loaves of bread bought with 300 florins publicly subscribed, and a quantity of flour given by the bakers, a committee distributed. The police refused to allow the distribution of handbills announcing the gift. An immense multitude of homeless persons are daily assisted by the four houses of shelter.

Married.

At the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. David Sutherland, Malcolm Bell, to Etta, daughter of Mr. Charles Tynan, of this city.

Died.

At Stanhope, on Feb. 17th, Susan, the beloved wife of Mr. George Lawson. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

At Lower Montague, on the 29th Oct., 1891, John Willard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Wright, aged 7 weeks. "Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

At Wellington, Lot 16, on Feb. 25th, Elizabeth Ann, wife of William McDonald, in her 34th year.

A Golden Wedding at West River.

A very pleasing event occurred at Hazelwood, West River, Monday evening, when Capt. Ewen and Mrs. McMillan celebrated the fiftieth Anniversary of their marriage. There were present at the Anniversary, Capt. R. McMillan, Charlottetown; Hugh McMillan, Esq., and Mrs. McMillan, of New Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright, of Westbury, West River; Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, Hazelwood; Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller, of Ringwood; sons and daughters of Capt. Ewen and Mrs. McMillan, together with twenty-one grand-children. There were also present, Hon. Angus McMillan, M. P. P., Summerside; James Laird, Esq., and Mrs. Laird, New Glasgow; Mrs. C. Fraser and Mr. and Mrs. C. Matheson, Ch'town.

Capt. Ewen McMillan was born in Covehead in the year 1816, and was married the last day of Feb., 1842.

He bought the farm on which he now resides and moved there the 6th of March of the same year. In the year 1864 he built a schooner called the "Isabel." He sailed her for two years and afterwards sold her. In the year 1898 he built a "brig" called the "Atlanta" which he formerly, and laterly his son, Capt. R. McMillan, Ch'town, sailed for some years.

Capt. Ewen McMillan sailed the wide seas for upwards of thirty years and during that time has never experienced a ship wreck, and better still never lost a man; a splendid record for any sea captain to possess. He has made fifty voyages to Newfoundland, been twice across the Atlantic, as well as several times to parts of North America. He has had several narrow escapes with his life, but through it all the Lord has led him, and he is to day hale and hearty in his seventy-eight year. Mrs. McMillan, who was born in the year 1818 in Scotland, is a woman whose generosity is unlimited, whose love to her family is unfeeling, whose unostentatious manner and charitable spirit have won for her the love and esteem of all, and greater than all she is a friend to the poor.

May this dear old couple be long spared to each other and their family. The presents were elegant and costly. Com.
