Stirling Loss May Be Permanently Paralyzed

LONDON (AP) — Stirling Moss, whose racing car spun off the track at 150 miles an hour two weeks ago, may be permanently paralyzed in his left arm and leg and may never drive again.

This was the depressing report Tuesday from the hospital, which said Moss' brain was damaged in the accident and that recovery was likely to be a "slow process."

"There is a possibility that full recovery of the functions in the arm and leg will not take place," the hospital bulletin added.

SPORTS FRONT

Score Goes To Minors

A news release yesterday reminded us that it was five years ago last Monday since Herb Score, the brilliant hurler of the Chicago Indians, was felled by a blast off the bat of Yankees' Gil MacDonough.

The ball struck Herb over the right eye and it was a hard battle that was waged before doctors finally averted the sight for the young hurler. At the time of the incident he was considered by far the most promising pitcher in the majors and the Tribe's management had turned down huge amounts for his contract.

And neither has his given up hope of getting back in the 'Big League.' And another has his pined, Al Lopez, who says: "He throws as hard as ever. His arm is strong and live. One of those days Herb's going to return to his old form and surprise a lot of people. Everyone is pulling for him."

Are We Spoiled?

WE know we are getting spoiled as far as sport spectacles are concerned. A few years ago we thought it was wonderful to sit and listen to the word series, the Stanley Cup playoffs or the Kentucky Derby. We hardly even thought the time would come when we could watch them in our living rooms. Now a bit of bad picture of the sound is all that has happened to us to become more than a little annoyed.

Another thing that was a big disappointment was the fact that there was no live show of the race itself. If this had been shown, we might have at least had some idea of what went on. We know it's easy to criticize but in a show of this size things should certainly have an amateur touch. When the winner walks away with over $115,000 the show must have been a big one. However, listening to it being described, you never never get that idea.

Dodgers Fading

LOS ANGELES Dodgers are not setting things off in the National League. It looks like the same old story, as last season when the Dodgers let their backer down in great style. Right now they are floundering around and showing no signs of gaining ground on the front-running Giants.
