King's County Exhibition, 1881.

A meeting of the Commissioners for managing the Exhibition of Agriculture and Local Industry, for King's County, for the year 1881, was held in the Court House, Georgetown, on Wednesday, the 22nd inst.

Owing to the day being wet and stormy, the attendance of Commissioners was not so numerous as might be wished for.

Hon. D. Gordon, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, announced that Mr. P. McCourt had declined to act as Secretary.

On motion of John McLean, Esq., of 18 Mile Brook, seconded by Robert D. War, Esq., New Perth, George E. Owen, of Cardigan Bridge, was appointed Secretary for the present year.

Thomas Anner, James E. McDonald, Archd. J. McDonald and Robert Dewar, Esquires, were appointed a Committee to prepare a prize list.

Hon. D. Ferguson, John McLean, William A. Poole, John French, William P. Lewis, Thomas Lannar, Esq., and the Chairman and Secretary, were appointed a Committee to select grounds for the Cattle Show.

It was moved by Robert Dewar, Esq., seconded by John McLean, Esq., that Tuesday, the 4th of October next, be appointed the day for holding the Exhibition and Cattle Show.

The Committee for selecting grounds for Cattle Show recommended the same site as the Cattle Show was held on last year, which recommendation was adopted.

The Committee for preparing prize list submitted a prize list, which, after some discussion, was adopted.

The appointment of Judges was then proceeded with, and other matters connected with the Exhibition fully discussed.

The following committee were appointed to look after the preparation of grounds for the cattle show, and building for the industrial exhibition, viz:—

William P. Lewis, William A. Poole, A. J. McDonald, Esqrs., and the Chairman and Secretary.

After some discussion on printing prize list and advertising the holding of the Exhibition, the commissioners adjourned.

GEORGE F. OWEN,
Secretary.

Coffin Reunion at Nantucket.

The Tristram Coffin Reunion Association has received responses from members of the family in all parts of the country, and is making arrangements for the bi-centennial celebration at Nantucket on August 16th, 17th and 18th.

On the first day a clam bake will come off near the site of Tristram Coffin's dwelling house, two centuries ago, when an oration will be delivered by Tristram Coffin of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

On the second day there will be memorial exercises, with procession and corner-stone ceremonies. Charles Carleton Coffin, of Boston, will be the orator, and Robert Barry Coffin, of New York, the poet.

On the third day a breakfast will come off in a mammoth tent, and Prof. Seldon J. Coffin, of Lafayette College, Pennsylvania, will deliver an oration. It is intended to erect two bronze statues, representing the patriarch, Tristram Coffin, and Dionis Coffin, his wife, upon a broad pedestal, at an estimated cost of from $8,000 to $10,000.

Charles G. Coffin, of Nantucket, is president of the Association.

Summerside Notes.

On Wednesday last the beautiful residence of John F. Baker, at the head of Central Street, was offered for sale and withdrawn.

So far there has been a large number of entries in the different races advertised to take place on Summerside Driving Park on Dominion Day.

The Holman Opera Troupe performed in Ludlow Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings last. There was a fair attendance on both evenings.

The Town Council have caused quite an improvement to be made to the sidewalk on Central street, by an addition of about two feet to its width. This is a step in the right direction.

The examination of the schools in Summerside take place as follows: the Western School on Saturday next, and which will be graded at the same time. The Eastern School, on Monday following, and the Davis School on Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Tuesday, the 12th July, the members of Prince Edward Lodge, I. O. O. F., intend having a Moonlight Excursion on one of the Steam Navigation Co's boats. For the past few years the Oddfellows of this town have had these excursions, and they have been successful, an enjoyable evening being spent by all who were present.

On this occasion the committee having it in charge will endeavor to make it as good if not better than that of former occasions.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or statements of our correspondents.

Our Island Artists.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Mr. Editor.—You have often given the numerous readers of the EXAMINER AND ARGUS very useful and interesting information concerning the works of our own mechanics, manufacturers and artists. You have also given good suggestions and words of instruction and encouragement to our farmers and trades people, importers and exporters. You have not been remiss in publishing items to further secular and commercial education, and to strengthen the hands of those immediately engaged in that most important and arduous of all works and callings. You have also been a friend and help mate to your fellow-citizens of the "Fourth Estate." You scrupled not to commend to the public such exhortations and innocent amusements as were offered them by our own virtuosos, and by others visiting us from other countries. To do all these things cheerfully and gratuitously betokens a liberal and patriotic spirit.

But there is one particular class of artists which you have not so freely patronized, on this one I wish to offer a few observations. For want of a more thorough knowledge of the merit of the works of each individual of this class, I confine my remarks to that one of them with whose skill I am best acquainted. Perhaps at some future time you will allow me to present my respects to the others.

If you take a walk, Mr. Editor, to the north side of Queen Square and look through Mr. Lewis' window, you will see a most interesting group of photographed ladies, and will probably be able to recognize all their fair faces and tell them by name. You will also acknowledge that Mr. Lewis has done them all full justice, and that he is a veritable artist. The miniatures in this group are the lady teachers of the Upper Prince Street School.

Now, step inside and Mr. Lewis or his assistant photographer will show you another group, composed of Indies and gentlemen similarly employed in the West Kent St. School. This latter group has little more masculine appearance, but is well taken, and has at least one or perhaps two pretty faces in it. And not long hence, if you make another visit to Mr. Lewis' gallery, you will find another group of teachers from St. Patrick's School photographed, which may prove the best and most interesting of the three. By and by you may find in the same saloon the whole staff of St. Peter's School, and that of the Prince of Wales' College and Normal School and, perhaps, of the Commercial College. St. Dunstan's College will surely not single itself out, but will fall in with the others.

Indeed, I predict for Mr. Lewis the trouble, or rather the honor, of having yet to photograph in groups a half-a-dozen or a dozen of other bodies or companies, such as the civic, ecclesiastic, journalistic, and others too numerous to mention. And Mr. Lewis is the very artist that can show them up to the best advantage if they only submit their visages to his celestial light. And if they only go and see and scrutinize Mr. Lewis' artistic skill, they will surely be drawn in.

Yours sincerely,
ALFRED A. MCKENZIE.

Bear with the Boys.

Dear young mothers, bear with the noisy boys; better a few headaches now than the dreadful heartaches that will come in after years. Make home pleasant for them. No matter if the work is not all done to your satisfaction; the eternal welfare of the child is of more importance. Lay aside your work sometimes and enter into their sports and games. Question them about their doings at school; rejoice with them when they are happy; sympathize with them when they are in trouble. Let them see that mother is a true friend to them. At the same time be firm and insist upon implicit obedience. They will respect you all the more for that. Make bed-time a happy hour for them, that the memory may linger with them in after years, and that hour shall ever be a sacred one, causing a deep tenderness to spring up in the heart, and a strong yearning to bow the head again on mother's knee, and say the evening prayer, even when they have become men.

TEACHING BOYS BUSINESS HABITS.

Let no child expect pay for anything done at home. He has the shelter and comfort of the paternal roof in health and sickness; he shares in all the luxuries of that home in either event, and the love of parents, the watchfulness of mother-eyes, merit all that he can do. If the matter of dollars and cents is come into the family he will certainly be in arrears. But how shall the boy learn business habits? Give him an allowance of his own, large or small, according to the length of the family purse; advise him in the matter of spending it; teach him to keep within his means and avoid debts. Consult him in the selection of articles for his own use, allow him to learn the weakness of his own judgment by experience in small matters. Let him have small ventures of his own, but as you value what is amiable and obliging in your boy, do not let him take pay for every favor granted a guest or friend. Best of all, make him one in family cares and struggles; the family resources and profits; so will he become manly, unselfish and self-reliant.

Sitting Bull has been informed that he need not expect a reservation from the Canadian Government.

Having been deserted by many of his braves, it is probable that he will surrender himself to the United States, in which event some enterprising circus men, who are always on the look-out for attractions will endeavor to secure his valuable services.

Rowell will now be absolute owner of the Astley Bell, which he has won three times in succession.
