Montreal Weekly Market Report

Receipts of live stock on the two markets for the week ending May 14th, amounted to 900 cattle, 2536 calves, 818 sheep and lambs and 2168 hogs. In addition there were 949 cattle on through billing for export from the Port of Montreal.

With moderate receipts there was a good active trade at prices strong with last week. While the general quality was very fair there was an absence of any real finished cattle which is reflected in the top price of $8.50 compared to a top of $8.75 last week. The bulk of the good butcher cattle sold from $8.00 to $8.50, with a few lots of fat but rough cattle from $7.40 to $7.75. Medium quality stuff brought from $7.25 to $7.50 and the common plain steers from $6.00 to $6.75. A few lots of light thin heifers sold down to $5.00. Good cows of which there was quite a number sold from $6.00 to $6.50, with the in between kinds from $4.50 to $5.75. (Canners and cutters $2.00 to $3.50. Good bulls topped $7.00, but this kind were scarce, the most common price was $6.00, but this kind were xziff xziff $6.00 to $6.50. Common and rough bulls brought from $4.00 for the common ones to $5.50 for those of fair quality.

The receipts of calves was only about one half that of the preceding week. Prices were about 50 cents higher, which with the improvement in average quality would make an average price about 75 cents higher than last week. On Monday, with few exceptions, the calves were mostly of common quality and sold from $4.00 to $5.50, with a few of the best lots from $6.00 to $6.50. There was some improvement during the balance of the week in that more suckers were offered and prices ranged between $5.00 and $6.00, the bulk going at the latter figure.

Sheep and lambs were steady. Sheep sold from $6.00 to $8.00 with the bulk around $7.00. Yearling lambs were from $10.00 to $11.00 and spring lambs from $6.00 to $9.00 with the bulk around $7.00 or an equivalent of about 16 cents per pound.

Hog receipts were light and prices opened at $14.00 or 25 cents higher than last week's close. On Tuesday prices were further stiffened to $14.25 and $14.50. Heavy rough hogs and smooth fats brought around $1.00 less than select. Sows were $4.00 less than select.

Receipts of live stock on the two markets for the week ending May 14th amounted to 1107 cattle, 4213 calves, 970 sheep and lambs and 3576 hogs. In addition there were 249 cattle for export from the Port of Montreal.

Receipts of cattle were somewhat heavier than last week, a good part of the increase being made up of heavy Western steers. Prices held fairly steady. The top of the market was $8.75, paid for a load of heavy Eastern Township cattle for export. Four or five other loads of good butcher steers averaging around 1050 brought $8.50, with the bulk of the rest of the good handy butcher cattle between $8.00 and $8.25. A few loads of heavy Western cattle brought from $6.75 to $7.25. Plain light steers and heifers sold around $6.00. Cows and light butcher bulls were in fair demand and sold at steady prices. One choice light bull brought $7.50, but the bulk of the good ones were sold from $6.00 to $6.50. The common and rough kind brought from $5.00 to $5.50 with a few very plain ones as low as $3.00 and $3.50. The most common price for good cows was $6.00 to $6.25. Medium to plain cows were weighed up at from $5.00 to $5.50 with the common ones around $4.00. Canners and cutters brought from $2.00 to $3.50.

Receipts of calves showed considerable increase, being around 1700 greater than last week, but about 1000 less than two weeks ago. Prices were steady. The extreme top for calves was $7.00 which was paid for one small lot. The bulk of the good calves brought from $6.00 to $6.25 with a few lots up to $6.50. Plain calves brought from $5.00 to $5.50 with a few lots of common drinkers down to $4.50 and in odd cases $4.00.

Sheep and lambs showed an increase in receipts with steady prices. Clipped yearlings brought from $9.00 to $10.00. The bulk of the sheep sold within the range of $6.50 to $7.50 with a few lots of rulls somewhat less. Spring lambs met with a good demand and $10.00 was paid for a few choice heavy ones, but the bulk sold from $6.00 to $8.00 with some light thin ones from $4.00 up. As has been frequently pointed out the market demands a fat lamb, and prefers to have them weighing from 40 to 50 pounds but they must be fat. Light thin lambs are not wanted and do not bring the price.

The market for hogs opened at $15.00, or 50 cents up from last week's close, but after Monday a weaker feeling prevailed when most of the sales were made from $14.50 to $14.75. The supply of heavy hogs seemed to be greater than the market cared to absorb and prices for these did not advance with the select. Heavy rough hogs sold from $12.25 to $12.75 for the better lots. Sows were $4.00 and stags $6.00 less than select. In view of the weaker feeling prevailing at the close of the week, it would not be surprising if hogs sold lower next week.

Islander Murdered Declared Insane

A short time ago Island papers containing the report of the murder, committed at Mametta Lake, B. C., by a native of P. E. Island George McLure of Archele (Jack) Chartrand, a neighboring rancher. The murder occurred within a few yards of the Chartrand house, where Chartrand and a trapper named Jay Shivel were engaged in "bucking" firewood. McLure rode to the Chartrand place and dismounting, rifle in hand, demanded an explanation from Chartrand of things said about him. Chartrand denied any derogatory remarks and McLure enraged said, "We might as well settle it now." He fired at Chartrand, hitting him in the shoulder. Chartrand made for the house, but a second shot, entering his heart brought him down and killed him. Shivel remonstrated and McLure attacked him with his fist giving him a bad beating. He then rode off. McLure was arrested at his homestead cabin on the following day and after a preliminary hearing at Merritt was committed for trial. Chartrand was an old-time rancher of considerable means and personally very popular. He left his young wife and two children.

It has now been established that poor McLure was not only insane at the time of the deed, but will not recover, in fact, is hopelessly criminally insane. It seems that McLure, who was a native of Murray River, P.E.I., and 35 years of age, had been personally on friendly terms with Chartrand. He went to the old country during the war but had not gone to France, and that living much alone he had become subject to hallucinations; what the unfortunate man had described as "murmurings"; that more than one person, including Chartrand, had been "murmuring" at him through the air.

Now comes the sequel, which is reported in the Kamloops Standard. Sentinel substantially as follows, under date of May 3rd. "There was a Paul Revere's ride touch to the early spring assizes proceedings at the court house this forenoon, with Chief Justice Hunter on the bench. Addressing the grand jury on their duties, His Lordship told the thirteen men in the box, who were to consider the matter of true bills at the assizes that there would be a murder case before them. He referred to the charge against George McLure for the slaying of "Jack" (Achele) Chartrand. It had already been published in the Standard Sentinel that McLure would not appear before the court for trial, as the Attorney General had been satisfied through the accused's counsel, A. D. MacIntyre, that the slayer was criminally insane.

and such was its importance that he took the liberty of interrupting the bench's address to the grand jury by handing the message to his Lordship.

"It was at this moment that a messenger entered the court room with a telegram from Ross Archibald, crown prosecutor. He read it and such was its importance that he took the liberty of interrupting the bench's address to the grand jury by handing the message to his Lordship. "Chief Justice Hunter, after scrutinizing the telegram, then informed the grand jury that word had been officially received from not been communicated to the same. But for some reason this court and Chief Justice Hunter proceeded to carry out his duties with regard to the trial. "It was at this moment that a messenger entered the court room with a telegram from Ross Archibald, crown prosecutor. He read it and such was its importance that he took the liberty of interrupting the bench's address to the grand jury by handing the message to his Lordship. "Chief Justice Hunter, after scrutinizing the telegram, then informed the grand jury that word had been officially received from Attorney General Manson to the effect that McLure had already been committed to an asylum during His Majesty's pleasure. The incident aroused a great deal of excitement in court." Manson's Claimant for Sale Everywhere

The World Is Working for You

THE manufacturer who makes your shoes is working for you. So is the store that sells you shoes, your grocer, your clothier and every concern or person who makes or sells anything you buy.

Often these people have messages for you. They want to tell you about new goods, new styles, new prices or other new things they think you should know about.

They can't speak to you personally because they have so many customers to serve. So they put their messages in the newspaper in the form of advertisements.

It is to your interest to read the advertisements. They are published for your benefit. They keep you informed as to what these folks are doing for you. They help you buy the right goods at the right time and to make the most of your money.

Moreover, you'll find that business concerns that tell you frankly what they are doing are the most dependable. Stores that advertise are progressive stores that have something real to say to you. Manufacturers who advertise their products have confidence in them, because it does not pay to advertise anything that is not good.

Reading advertisements is both interesting and profitable.
