THE DAILY EXAMINER

DECEMBER 26 1899

OPINION IN THE STATES.

It is very pleasing to note that the leading journals of the United States warmly support the British cause. The New York Times says:—

"We need not pause one moment to determine where our interest lies and where our sympathy belongs. The future greatness of this nation depends upon the uninterrupted progress of the world, and upon the assured dominance of Liberal principles in regenerated communities that are peopling the waste and abandoned places of the earth.

"In what way would progress and Liberalism prosper by the triumph of the inert semi-civilization of the Boer Republics of South Africa. We have every reason of head and heart to wish England well. She is our friend. In the highest and best sense she is our ally and we are hers. Nothing that the Boer race can ever do in the future history of the world; no idea that they will ever stand for; no impress that they will ever make upon civilization, would compensate for the loss at this time of England's sympathy and effective help. The two greatest advancing nations of the earth have need of each other.

The New York Sun says:

"The reflection on our Stock Exchange of the disturbance of the London Stock Exchange and the starting of the exportation of gold hence, are obvious indications that serious military reverses cannot come to England without our sharing in the calamity. More especially is this the consequence now when it is not too much to say that the British Empire is undergoing a strain more severe than any other to which it has been put before in this country. The determination of the English people to persist in the war is, however, virtually unanimous. The reverses experienced have only intensified it, for the prestige of the Empire is at stake. A serious setback to British power would be a calamity in which we and the whole civilized world would be forced to share, and already we are getting a premonition of its consequences."

The Times-Herald of Chicago says:—

"It is interesting to recall the parallels between the consternation that followed the disaster of Bull Run and that now reported in London. In the language of Greeley's 'American Conflict': 'No one who did not share in the sad experience will be able to realize the consternation which the news of this discomfiture—grossly exaggerated—diffused over the loyal portion of our country. Never before had so black a day as that Black Monday lowered upon the loyal hearts of the North; and the laden, weeping skies reflected and heightened, while they seemed to sympathize with, the general gloom. This is the language of sentimental consternation which is quick to utter its temporary feelings. The panics of a brave and powerful people only preface that stiffening of the sinews and closing of the ranks that from disaster wrings overwhelming victory."

—THE EXAMINER regrets to learn that Miss Eliza Ann MacLennan, eldest daughter of the Rev. Kenneth MacLennan, died at New York, after a week's illness, and was buried at Levis, Quebec, on the 22nd inst. The Rev. Mr. MacLennan was for many years minister of St. James' church in this city, and Miss MacLennan, better known by the familiar name of "Puss MacLennan" has many dear friends in Charlottetown, who regret her early death and feel keenly for Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan. Miss MacLennan after leaving Charlottetown graduate as a professional nurse in Brooklyn, N. Y., and immediately previously to her last illness was attending a typhoid fever patient. She herself was taken with typhoid fever, and died after a short illness. We are sure there will be general regret at Miss MacLennan's early death and profound sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan in their bereavement.

FRUIT GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Board of Directors of the Fruit Growers Association of Prince Edward Island, met at the call of the president, B. A. Stewart, Esq., in the office of the Agricultural Insurance company, Water Street, Summerside, on Friday the 22nd inst., at 11 o'clock, a. m.

In the absence of the general secretary the undersigned was asked to fill that office pro tem.

Besides the president, vice president and directors, Mr. Jeremiah Clarke, of Bay View, was present on the invitation of the president and offered some practical advice.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the Association at Charlottetown on Thursday, January 25th, proximo.

On motion of Director McCallum, seconded by Director Dickey, the President and Rev. A. E. Burke were named a committee to prepare a programme for the sessions of the Association, and also for a public meeting to be held in the evening.

Questions covering the whole range of fruit raising and marketing were discussed, and many valuable suggestions left with the committee to be put in shape for ultimate decision at the general meeting.

It was decided to name His Honor Governor McIntyre patron of the Association in succession to ex-Governor Howland.

The question of a permanent exhibit of Island fruit was favorably considered. Mr. Clarke also urged upon the committee the necessity of proper inspection for nursery stock.

The meeting adjourned until January 25th, 1900.

A. E. BURKE,
Secretary pro tem.
Summerside, Dec. 22, 1899

—Cardinal Vaughan, Archbishop of Westminster, has issued a pastoral to the clergy of his diocese in which he declares that "we have been forced into the war and justice is on our side." Continuing he says: "It is now a question of something more than what is the lawful question; it is, shall the British Empire be allowed to fall to pieces by supine men, by want of determination and self-denial? The answer is no. This empire has been upraised by the same Providence that called the Roman empire into existence, and as God used one towards the attainment of divine purposes and mercy, so does He seem to be using the other."

EXPENSES OF THE YACHT RACES.—The New York Sun, answering the inquiry of a correspondent who desires to be informed as to the expenses of the late yacht races, replies that, including everything, it cost Sir Thomas Lipton $450,000 to try to lift the cup, while the cost of defending it was $240,000. As this reply is made for the information of some gentlemen who made a bet on the subject, it is reasonable to assume that it is furnished on authority and is substantially correct.

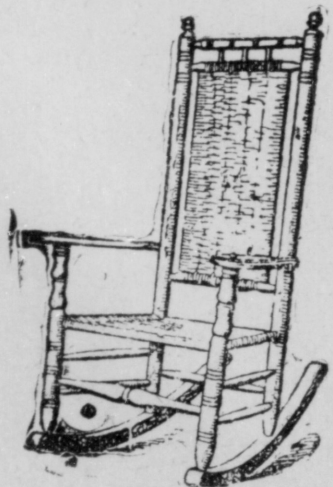

Splendid photographs of Rev. T. F. Fullerton may be obtained at Johnson & Johnson's downtown drugstore or THE EXAMINER office. Prices 30 and 45 cents.

COUNTRY AHEAD of the city for residence. Bat, alas, neither place is proof against coughs or colds, and so Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is welcome in both localities. 25c. all druggists.
