

Hospital Ass'n Ponders Reply By Commission

The Hospital Services Commission's reply to a brief of the P.E.I. Hospital Association, in which the operation of the commission was criticized for its administration practices, was considered at a meeting of the association Friday.

An association spokesman said that further meetings will be held to consider the reply and hospitals of the province will also try to find answers to points raised in the reply.

"No conclusion has been reached on the matters brought up by the commission," the association spokesman said, "and it will probably take much negotiation between the two organizations to iron things out."

Neither the association's brief nor the commission's reply have been made public.

Main criticism of the commission was that it shaved the budgets of the hospitals to such an extent that many hospitals were operating at a financial loss.

Poetry From Computer Almost Flips Beatniks

By CHARLES MAHER
GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — RPC 4,000 is the latest terrifying example of what can happen when you don't keep computing machines in their place.

"That sweet moustache's bill behind a clod did bump. 'Lastly, its teeth were broad and plump."

Or:
"Oh, panic not-to this docile juice."

"Finally, few of my jackets did distrust the goose. 'Ah, to testify is black; to refute was nourishing. 'Butterflies."

GET COMMON TOUCH
RPC 4,000, as you can see, may never be nominated poet laureate. But, as a matter of fact, RPC 4,000 is not being groomed to drive Robert Frost into the hardware business. Its developer, the Librascope division of General Precision, Inc., is simply trying to teach computers not to be such snobs, so ordinary people can understand them.

As it stands now, these sophisticated contraptions wouldn't give the formula for hard-boiled eggs to an ordinary layman.

But the gang at Librascope would like to share their pleasant association with RPC 4,000. So they're trying to teach it to understand, and to write, everyday English.

If they can do this, businesses will be able to take advantage of the enormous brainpower of

EASTERN BRIEFS

GRAHAM FUNERAL — The funeral for Wendell Graham was held Friday, Feb. 2, from Murray Harbor North Presbyterian Church where service was conducted by Rev. M. Carl Currie and Rev. A.G.J. Steeves. During the service the choir sang, "Will There Be Any Stars", Hymns were "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me", and "Softly and Tenderly". Pallbearers were George Graham, Guy Graham, Walter King, Lawrence McHeron, Lloyd Butler and Archie Stewart. Interment took place in Murray Harbor North cemetery.

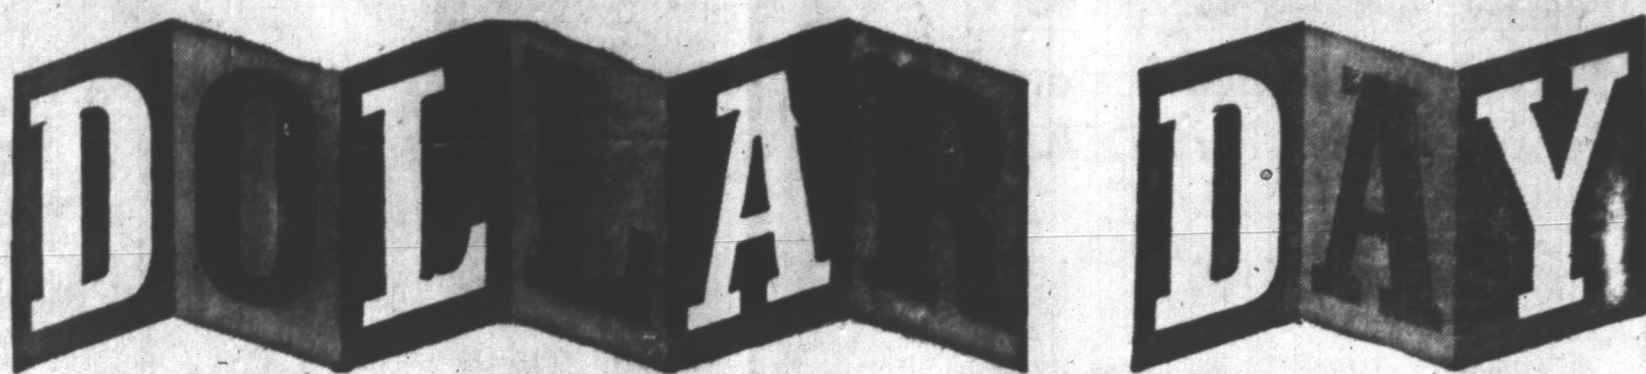

JOHNSTON FUNERAL — The funeral for Isabelle May Johnston was held Saturday, Feb. 3, from the Murray River Funeral Home to Peter's Road Presbyterian Church where service was conducted by Rev. M. Carl Currie. Hymns were "Unto The Hills", "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul". Pallbearers were Gerald Graham, Grant Graham, George Johnston, Harry Johnston, Glendon Johnston and Clair Johnston. Interment took place in Murray Harbor North cemetery.
