New York's Naval Parade.

THE GRANDDEST EVENT OF ITS KIND IN MODERN HISTORY.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The international rendezvous and review in honor of Columbus, which has been in active progress nearly ten weeks, culminated this afternoon in a demonstration more spectacular and more remarkable in many other respects than anything of the kind recorded in modern history. The line of vessels reviewed was composed of two columns from the foot of 23rd street to about 95th street, where the reviewing party were stationed. The embarkation of the presidential party on board the Dolphin was a pretty affair. It was nearly 2 o'clock when the signal was given for the president to begin the review. The Dolphin tripped her anchor and fired one signal gun. This was responded to by a boom which seemed to shake the whole city. As the Dolphin's bow came in line with each man-of-war "present arms" was sounded on the bugle. Officers and crew saluted, bands struck up the national air and a national salute of 21 guns was fired by each ship. During the half hour or more the presidential journey lasted this cannonading never ceased. Closely following the Dolphin was the army steamer General Meigs, bearing the Duke de Veragua, the nation's guest, attended by General Schofield and Admiral Belknap. The only other steamer permitted within the sacred limits was the Monmouth, on board of which were senators, members of Congress, governors of states, newspaper men and other invited guests. When the Dolphin reached the end of the line in the neighborhood of 95th street, she dropped anchor and made preparations to receive the commanding officers of the foreign squadrons, who were presented to the President by their respective ministers. The ceremony was one of the most interesting features of the day. Fifteen minutes before the reception ended and when the President was preparing to land, an admiral's signal was given from the Dolphin and as he left his vessel and entered his barge at the foot of 96th street, every vessel in the fleet again manned yards and rails and once more fired a salute of 21 guns. Then the president's flag was lowered from the Dolphin and the public ceremonies thus ended.

The Columbian ball to-night at Madison Square Garden, in respect to the magnificence of decoration and arrangement, and the large number of world-famous guests present, was the most splendid ever given in the new world. There were present the president and his advisors, the chief of the legislative body of the United States; the Spanish grandee, who is a lineal descendant of Christopher Columbus; diplomatic corps; admirals and subordinate officers of every great naval power in the world; governors of neighboring states; famous army officers. An orchestra of eighty pieces played music for the dances. A band of sixty pieces played during intermissions and promenades. Mayor Gilroy and wife received the guests. The programme of dances was very simple. A buffet supper for the invited guests was served in the concert hall. The American war vessels in the river to-night gave an exhibition of electrical search lights, showing the way lights are used in warfare to protect war vessels from attacks of torpedo boats.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The parade to-day was quite as remarkable as that of yesterday. The uniformed forces of the foreign nations armed and accoutred as for battle paraded, commanded by their own officers and with their own bands played favorite airs. Governor Flower headed the procession. The United States troops and marines composed the first division, followed by English, Argentine, Republic Russian, Holland, French, German and Italian. The English had six hundred and fifty men in line. Their marching was greatly admired and frequently cheered. The crowd, however, gave the best reception to Germany and Russia. After the parade Governor Flower and Mayor Gilroy received the visiting admirals at the City Hall.

WHAT'S THE HURRY, GOVERNOR?

WELL, what spare time I have at my disposal I propose to spend at the STAR TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT, as I want to get several Suits and Overcoats etc. before I leave for the Continent.

As you know, Americans travelling abroad always dress nice, and of course I want to uphold the style and dignity of the "Home of the Brave and the Land of the Free"; so this opportunity I must take advantage of to advertize the Star of the Hub of Canada.

The man is known by the company he keeps, so Poole of London, Bell of New York, and McKenzie of the Star Tailoring Establishment of the Dominion of Canada are always associated with what is elegant and strictly correct in dress.

Our aspiration has always been to present a faultlessly fitting garment—what is termed, a "correct thing" by our customers. Our success in attaining to that aspiration is attested to by our numerous customers from the Atlantic to the Pacific. To enlarge upon the quality of our goods is not necessary, as the same has become a common household word. Workmanship, etc, is in keeping with the reputation we have achieved. If you want for testimonials, ask anyone you meet. Prices at rock bottom.
